KAISER AND SON BOTH WANTED BY THE ALLIES

HOLLAND MUST GIVE THEM UP; WILL BE TRIED

Ready to Use Force to Carry Out Demand.

BULLETIN.

LONDON, Dec. 4, 1 a. m.—It is understood that the representatives of all of the ten allies, in conference at the foreign ministry tonight, were unanimously in favor of demanding that Holland hand over to the allies both the former kaiser and his eldest son, the former crown prince.

No official report was issued after the conference beyond the mere recital of the names of those present and a statement to the effect that Col. E. M. House of the United States was unable to attend because of illness.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The British war cabinet and the French and Italian representatives in London are in agreement as to the proposed punishment of William Hohenzollern, the former German emperor, but have decided to take no action until President Wilson arrives in Europe, the Evening News says it learns.

The allies are not willing to allow a technicality to prevent bringing William Hohenzollern to trial. If Holland refuses his extradition without the consent of Germany, the newspaper adds, pressure will be brought to secure consent.

A demand for the surrender of William Hohenzollern will be submitted to the Netherlands government in the name of all the allied cabinets, according to the Express.

May Seize All Potash.

The sessions of the inter-allied conference were resumed in Downing street this morning. A huge crowd again assembled to greet the delegates, who were heartily cheered.

It is understood that in addition to the fate of the former German emperor the discussion turned largely upon Germany's ability to pay reparations and that in this connection the suggestion was made for allied control of the German railways and her coal and potash industries. Everything, however, was debated in a preliminary nature, no decision being attempted in the absence of President Wilson.

Permit Them to Leave.

The German government has consented to permit a number of the Hohenzollern princes to leave Germany on condition that they leave their fortunes behind them, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam. They have accepted the conditions, it is stated, and expect to proceed to Switzerland, Denmark, or Holland.

Prince August William, the former emperor's fourth son, however, and his wife are going to Argentina as soon as possible, the message adds.

Hugo Haase, secretary for foreign affairs in the German cabinet, said: "The guilt of starting the struggle lies with both German and Austrian militarism. The government is now investigating and the result will be published as soon as the investigation is completed."

Calls Wilhelm Liar.

BASLE, Dec. 3.—[British Wireless Service.]—The North German Gazette of Berlin publishes an interview with von Bethmann-Hollweg, once imperial German chancellor, protesting emphatically against the former kaiser's statement, as related by the German journalist, Dr. Georg Wegener, according to which immediately prior to the war the then emperor had been sent on a cruise in Norwegian waters in order not to be connected with the events which precipitated the conflict. Von Bethmann-Hollweg in his pronouncement absolutely denies that this was the object of Emperor William's voyage.

Beheads Two; Wounds Five in War Fight

John Peres, an Austrian, 26 years old, is being held for the murder of two men in the paraffin department of the Standard Oil company plant at Whiting, Ind., yesterday. Peres, with a large knife used for cutting paraffin, beheaded a foreman, David McCloud, and John Winswork, the assistant foreman, and wounded five special policemen before he was subdued.

Peres resented an order given him by McCloud.

"You think because Germany and Austria are licked that you Irish can boss everybody. This is a free country," he is reported to have said.

McCloud was thrown to the floor and slain. Winswork, who had rushed to his aid, also was beheaded. Peres stood at bay and held off the special police for some time.

ORDERED TO SIT DURING ANTHEM, PUPILS CHARGE

Accused Teacher Faces Questioning of Patriotism.

Although their combined age is but 18 years, George Biddle and Clarence Person, American boys, already have suffered for honoring their country's flag, according to the stories told their parents, Mrs. A. J. Biddle, 7743 Colfax avenue, and Fred Person, 7743 Saginaw avenue.

As a result, their parents will file complaints before the board of education this morning questioning the patriotism of Miss Elizabeth Oettershagen, a teacher at the Myra Bradwell school, Seventy-seventh street and Burnham avenue.

George and Clarence, both in the fifth grade, in answer to parental inquiry as to an hour's delay in arrival home from school, stated that they had been held by Miss Oettershagen for standing up when the "Star Spangled Banner" was played during morning exercises.

Ordered to Seats.

Miss Oettershagen, according to the boys, peremptorily ordered her class to take their seats again when the pupils rose as one on the opening strains of the national anthem. The whole class obeyed except George and Clarence, who remembered earnest admonitions concerning their conduct under these conditions and held their places. Whereupon the following dialogue is said to have ensued:

"Why don't you obey me?" said Miss Oettershagen.

"Because my mother told me always to stand up when the 'Star Spangled Banner' is being played," George Biddle said he answered.

Like Poll Parrots.

"Well, do you know why you stand when it is played?" asked Miss Oettershagen. "Of course you don't. You're like a lot of other Americans. They are just poll parrots, doing what other people tell them to do, without knowing why they are doing it."

Clarence Person says his share was about the same, except that Miss Oettershagen added: "Well, your father wasn't educated here if he tells you to stand up when this piece is played."

Miss Oettershagen stated last night that she welcomed an investigation.

"Like all children, they have got their statements a little mixed, and I am sure that an investigation will straighten it all out," she said. "As a matter of fact, I am used to this sort of thing. I have nothing to fear. I like 'The Star-Spangled Banner.' I think it is one of the most beautiful of our songs."

Says Inquiry Is Needed.

"Do you have your pupils stand when it is played?" she was asked.

"I won't answer that," she said. "I'd like to have you come and see our exercises for yourself."

Charles Ringer, a retiring member of the board of assessors, said last night that there have been many complaints from the parents of children attending the Myra Bradley school about unpatriotic teachings.

"I think an investigation is needed," he said.

Canada Gives $25,000,000 to Better Workers' Homes

Ottawa, Ont., Dec. 3.—A fund of $25,000,000 has been created by the Dominion government from which amounts in proportion to population may be borrowed by the governments of the various provinces for application toward bettering the housing conditions of wage earners, it was announced tonight.

CROWN PRINCE WOULD GO BACK 'AS A LABORER'

Says He Wants to Aid if a Republic Is Set Up.

OOSTERLAND, Holland, Dec. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—Frederick William Hohenzollern, in the course of a lengthy conversation today, which took place in the small cottage of the village pastor on the island of Wieringen, where he is interned, denied that as crown prince he had renounced his claim to the German throne.

"However," he continued, "should the German government decide to form a republic similar to the United States or France, I shall be perfectly content to return to Germany as a simple citizen ready to do anything to assist my country. I should even be happy to work as a laborer in a factory.

"At present everything appears chaos in Germany, but I hope things will right themselves."

War Lost in 1914.

Asked what in his opinion was the turning point of the war, he said:

"I was convinced early in October, 1914, that we had lost the war. I considered our position hopeless after the battle of the Marne, which we should not have lost if the chiefs of our general staff had not suffered a case of nerves.

"I tried to persuade the general staff to seek peace then, even at a great sacrifice, going so far as to give up Alsace-Lorraine. But I was told to mind my own business and confine my activities to commanding my armies. I have proof of this."

Calls London Raids Silly.

"The air raids on London and other towns and the big gun used against Paris were useless militarily, and, in fact, were silly," Frederick William said. "Orders to submarine commanders were read differently by various officers, who went much too far.

"Regarding air raids, I suggested two years ago an international agreement confining air activities to the actual war zone, but my opinion was entirely disregarded. I was again told my job was to command my armies."

Yanks Were Last Straw.

What finally brought about the downfall of the German military power, he declared, was revolution induced by four years of hunger among the civilians and the troops in the rear, together with the overwhelming superiority in numbers attained by the entente powers since America's entry into the war which had undermined the confidence of the German fighting forces.

"My soldiers, whom I loved and with whom I lived continuously, and who, if I may say so, loved me, fought with the utmost courage to the end, even when the odds were impossible to withstand," the refugee prince went on.

"They had no rest, and sometimes an entire division numbered only 600 rifles. These were opposed by fresh allied troops, among whom were American divisions containing 27,000 men apiece."

Dismissed by New Government.

"I was with my group of armies after the kaiser left Germany. I asked the Berlin government whether they desired me to retain my command. They replied negatively, and I could not continue to lead armies under orders of the soldiers and workers' council.

"Therefore I came to Holland without hindrance. No shooting or bombing occurred, and I quit the army with the greatest regret, after having participated in the trench life with the soldiers for so long.

"I have not been in Germany for a year, and from the beginning of the war I have taken only three or four fortnight leaves."

"Never Wanted War."

Speaking of the beginning of the war, Frederick William asserted:

"Contrary to all statements hitherto made abroad, I never desired war, and thought the moment quite inopportune. I was never consulted, and the report about a crown council being held in Berlin to decide on the war I deny on my oath. I was enjoying a stay at a watering place when mobilization was ordered.

"My father also, I am sure, did not want war. If Germany had sought the

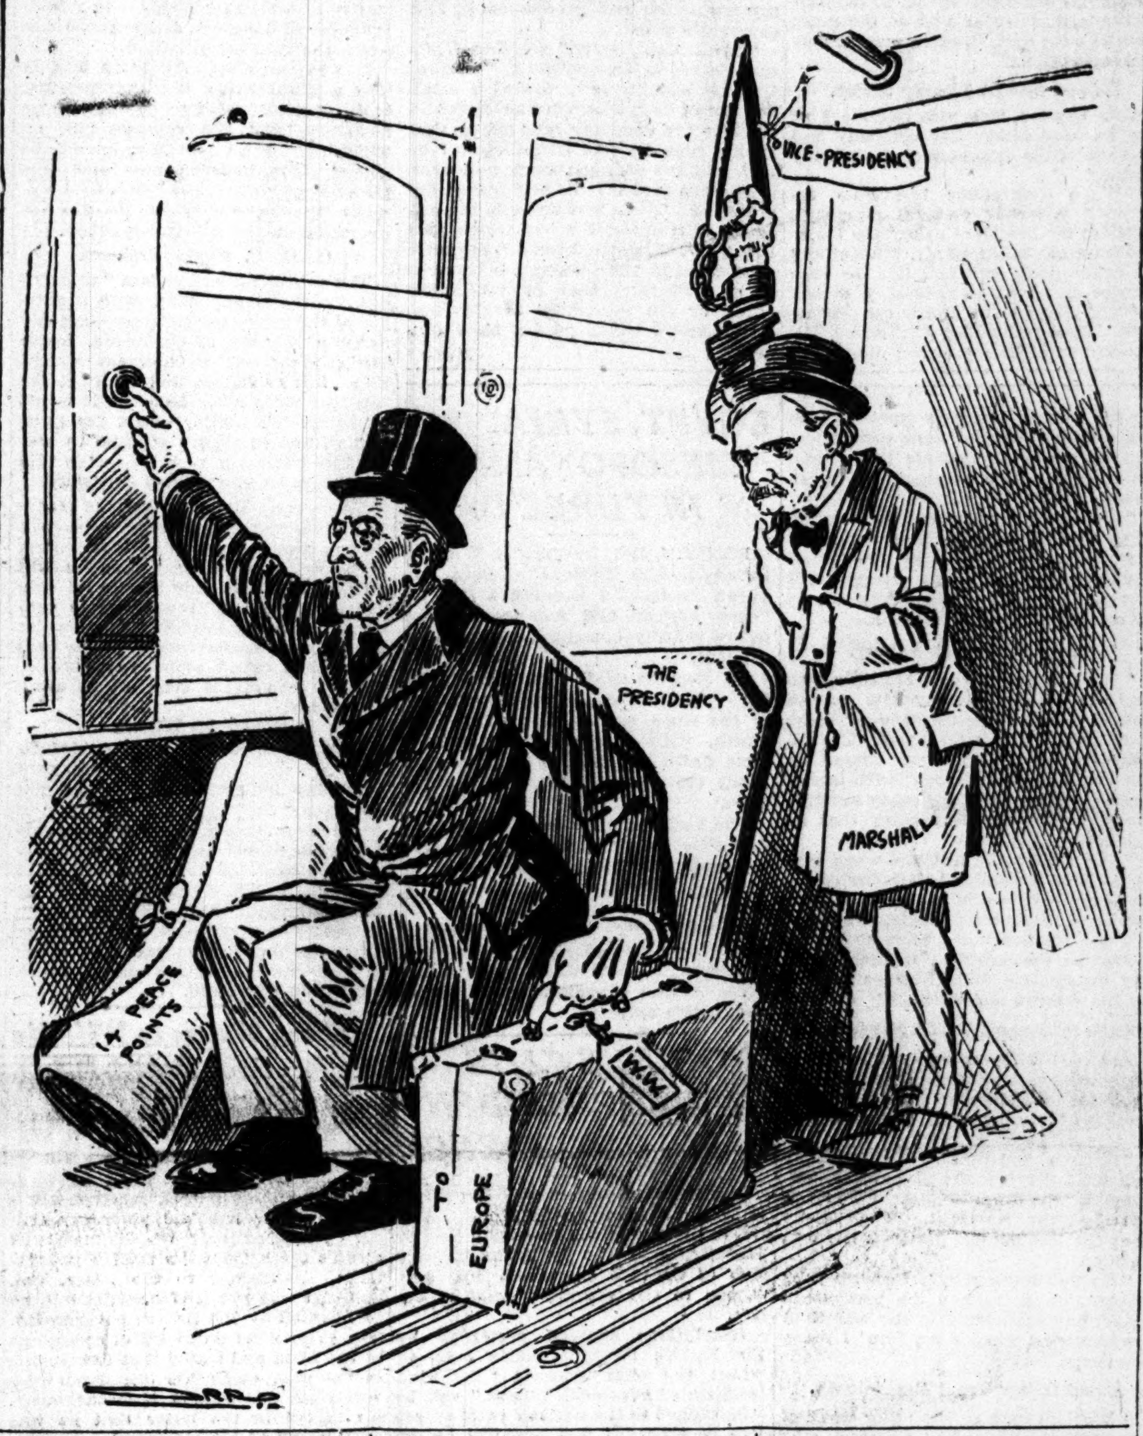
AN OPPORTUNITY



BRITISH SEAMEN STRIKE IF KAISER IS NOT SOON TRIED

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Unless William Hohenzollern is placed on trial for his crimes within a reasonable time, England faces a general seamen's strike.

This became known in New York today when Edward Tupper, organizer of the National Sailors and Firemen's Union of Great Britain, said that unless the former kaiser "is placed on trial for his crimes before an international court by a certain date the seamen's union will take definite action on their own account."

Capt. Tupper, who is the lieutenant of J. Havelock Wilson, M. P., head of the British seamen's organization, is in this country in response to a cabled appeal from the American Defense society that Mr. J. H. Wilson come here or send a representative to explain to the American people why the seamen of England have placed a seven year boycott on Germany and German material.

GARFIELD WILL QUIT FUEL JOB

U. S. to Continue Control of Coal During the Winter Months.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Fuel Administrator Garfield has resigned and President Wilson has accepted his resignation. This was announced tonight at the White House.

"It was announced at the executive offices today," said the statement, "that United States Fuel Administrator Garfield had offered his resignation, to take effect at the pleasure of the president, and that the president had accepted the resignation, although it was made clear that the needs of domestic consumers will continue to receive the attention of the fuel administration until the winter is passed."

Remains Until New Year.

The correspondence between the president and Dr. Garfield was not made public, nor was there any information as to when the resignation becomes effective or whether a successor to Dr. Garfield will be named.

It is understood that Dr. Garfield plans to remain at his post the remainder of this month, but that after the holidays he will resume his duties as president of Williams college.

Federal Control to Go On.

The White House statement made it clear that the fuel administration will continue to function, certainly until the end of the winter. Dr. Garfield himself announced recently that he hoped to be able to remove price restrictions and possibly the zone regulations on bituminous coal about the middle of this month, but that control over the domestic supply of anthracite would be continued until the end of the coal year, next April 1.

The understanding tonight is that Cyrus Garnsey Jr. of Memphis, assistant fuel administrator, will conduct the work of the office in future.

122D AT TROYON IN A REST AREA, PARIS REPORTS

PARIS, Dec. 3.—The One Hundred and Twenty-second field artillery, Col. Milton J. Foreman's command, is now at Troyon, on the Meuse river, in a rest area.

The One Hundred and Forty-ninth field artillery was last located at Oersch and probably has gone on with the American army advancing into Germany.

The relatives and friends of the two Chicago artillery regiments have been concerned to learn of their whereabouts, and THE TRIBUNE cabled its correspondent at Paris for information. The foregoing was received in response.

Troyon is twelve miles south of Verdun, in the department of the Meuse, and about an equal distance from St. Mihiel.

Joffre Gives America Credit for Turning Battle Tide

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable. [Copyright: 1918.]

PARIS, Dec. 3.—In conversation with Dr. Horatio S. Krans of New York today Marshal Joffre gave credit to the United States as being the winning factor in the war.

"It was the weight of America," he said, "her moral and material resources and surely not the least her very considerable army thrown into the balance at the crucial moment that turned the scales and won the victory.

"And the Americans showed themselves true soldiers and a military power that counted tremendously in the decisive conflict."

Shaw Labor Candidate for Seat in Parliament

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Among the incidents of the election campaign is the appearance of George Bernard Shaw, the writer, as labor candidate for East Middlesborough. Mr. Shaw previously had resisted all efforts to bring him into parliamentary politics.

At Smethweck today Maj. Thompson, the coalition candidate, retired in favor of Christabel Pankhurst, the woman suffrage candidate.

CONVOY OF SHIPS IN WATER AND AIR FOR WILSON TRIP

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Just before going aboard his flagship, the battleship Pennsylvania, tonight, Vice Admiral Henry T. Mayo told of the navy department's plans for President Wilson's voyage to the peace conference.

Asked to tell of the "extraordinary" preparations for the president's journey, the admiral said:

"The George Washington will be both surrounded and led. My flagship, the Pennsylvania, will travel ahead of her all the way across. The particular purpose in that, of course, is to so manipulate that if there should be anything to hit, it will be the Pennsylvania and not the George Washington which hits it.

"The destroyers which are to convoy the party are five in number. They are now lying off Tompkinsville, S. I., and at the signal from the flagship they will move into their positions, and the George Washington will steam out from her berth. At the start of the trip there will be considerably more than five destroyers, as a number of others now in nearby waters will be assembled to escort the president's ship into open water. This will be in the nature of a guard of honor, however, and not for any purpose of added safety.

With the Pennsylvania leading, there will be destroyers both to port and starboard of the George Washington, and at least one will bring up the rear. So the president's ship will be surrounded on all sides with fighting ships, and these will be close enough to handle any emergency and to be capable of the readiest communication with each other.

"The other factor in the convoy will be made up of both seaplanes and dirigibles. They will fly over and about the navy vessels and through their wireless and other signaling apparatus will be in instant and ready touch with us."

The admiral said that the prospect for a "pleasant" trip at this season of the year is not altogether bright. He rather anticipated some rough weather in mid-Atlantic.

NEW AMERICAN PLANE BREAKS SPEED RECORDS

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Development of a new American type of two seated monoplane was announced today by the war department in a statement disclosing that in a recent test at Dayton, O., the machine attained a speed of 145 miles an hour with full military load and an altitude of 25,000 feet with two passengers in remarkable time, exceeding the record of any European single seater combat machine.

The plane, known as the Loening, is American designed and American built and embodies new and original ideas. It weighs about 2,400 pounds loaded for service and is driven by a 300 horse power engine.

The statement says the machine was designed and built by Grover Cleveland Loening of Long Island City, N. Y., an aeronautical engineer and author of a number of text books used by American air service cadets.

FIRE IN RACINE CAUSES A LOSS OF $350,000

Racine, Wis., Dec. 4, 2 a. m.—The Maibohm Motor company plant here was burned last night with an estimated loss of about $350,000. The fire started with an explosion.

The origin is a mystery. The plant is about half a block from where the Standard Oil company's plant blew up a few days ago. The police suspect incendiaries.

The fire caused some damage to other concerns, among them the S. P. Johnson & Sons' company, the Racine Foundry company, and the Belle City Incubator company. Several residences caught fire, but there was little damage.

Seven firemen were on a roof when it collapsed. Three were taken to a hospital. Frank Born was seriously hurt.

Secretary of Treasury Will Be Appointed Today

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Just before President left Washington tonight en route to Europe announcement was made that the appointment of a secretary of the treasury to succeed William G. McAdoo will be made public tomorrow in New York. There was no reference to a director general of railroads and the inference was that this official has not been determined upon.

PRESIDENT AND PARTY ON WAY; TO SAIL TODAY

Leave Washington Quietly; Takes 23 Scientists.

BULLETIN.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 4, 1 a. m.—President Wilson and his party left for New York between 12:30 and 1 a. m. this morning.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—President Wilson, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and the Washington officials who will attend the peace conference, left the capital tonight for France.

The party went aboard a special train which will land the members at the dock of the George Washington at Hoboken tomorrow. Other members will join the party aboard the steamer, which is scheduled to sail early tomorrow.

The president's suite comprises approximately 100 persons and nearly 100 other officials, advisers, experts, clerks, and stenographers already have preceded the American peace expedition to Paris.

Small Crowd at Station.

President and Mrs. Wilson arrived at the Union station at 10:15 o'clock, more than two hours before their special train left. Their car, the Ideal, was at the rear end of the train. Two cars were occupied by the French and Italian ambassadors and their staffs and the remaining four cars by the others in the party.

Secretary of War Baker came to the station to see the president and conferred with him until nearly midnight.

As the time of the departure had been kept secret the crowd at the station was not large.

In the President's Party.

Just before the train pulled out of the station, the personnel of the president's immediate party was announced as follows: The president and Mrs. Wilson, Rear Admiral Cary T. Grayson, the president's physician; George Creel, Gilbert T. Close, confidential clerk to the president; E. I. Hoover, head usher at the White house, and Miss Edith Benham, secretary to Mrs. Wilson.

The only members of the peace delegation who left Washington with the president were Secretary of State Lansing and former Ambassador Henry White. Mrs. Lansing accompanied the secretary of state. The other members of the peace delegation, Col. House and Gen. Bliss, are now in Paris.

Ambassador Jusserand Goes.

Accompanying the president also were J. J. Jusserand, the French ambassador; Mrs. Jusserand, Count V. Macchi di Cellere, the Italian ambassador; Countess di Cellere, and members of their personal and official households.

In addition there were John W. Davis, the new American ambassador to Great Britain, and Mrs. Davis; Mrs. Joseph Clark Grew, wife of the secretary of the American peace delegation, who is now in Paris; Mrs. Gordon Auchincloss, daughter of Col. House, whose husband accompanied his father-in-law to the Versailles conference, and Miss Edith Benham, social secretary to Mrs. Wilson.

From the state department there were fifteen officials and clerks, including Leland Harrison and Philip Patchin, assistant secretaries of the peace delegation; William C. Bullitt, Sydney Yost Smith, drafting officers; William McNeir, disbursing officer; George H. Harris, and Robert B. McCatee.

Army Officers in Party.

The party also included the following army officers, who have been ordered to report to Gen. Bliss as members of his military personnel: Maj. Gen. Francis T. Kernan, Brig. Gen. Marlborough Churchill, Col. Ralph W. Vandeman, Col. R. H. Jordan, Col. L. P. Ayres, Maj. Hunter S. Marston, Maj. Birch Helms, Maj. C. W. Furlong, Maj. F. M. Fling, Capt. T. M. Childs.

Guards, messengers, etc., for the American section in Paris with the conference will be in charge of Gen. W. W. Harts, formerly chief military aid to the president.

To Be Abroad Six Weeks.

The president does not expect to be abroad for more than six weeks. Before the peace conference meets he will confer with Premiers Lloyd George of Great Britain, Clemenceau of France, and Orlando of Italy, and probably with King Albert of Belgium.

While in Europe Mr. Wilson plans to visit England and Italy as well as France, and he may go to Brussels. He also is understood to intend to make a pilgrimage to some of the battlefields in France.

Joseph P. Tumulty, the president's secretary, accompanies Mr. Wilson to New York, but will not go abroad. He will return to Washington to conduct the business of the White House and will be the eyes and ears of the president in this country.

"George Washington" Ready.

New York, Dec. 3.—The transport George Washington, newly painted a battleship gray and decorated, has steamed up today at its dock in Hoboken, in readiness to carry President Wilson and the peace delegates to France. The exact time of the vessel's departure has not been made public here.

One of the principal tasks of the special force of 300 workers was to enclose the promenade deck in glass to ward off the December gales. Mrs. Wilson's quarters will be directly opposite those of the president. Forty-nine staterooms have been prepared for possible occupants.

The dining hall, formerly the officers' mess hall, will accommodate forty persons. The ship's cuisine will be in charge of a well known New York hotel chef and fifty assistants and waiters. The navy yard band has been assigned to furnish music.

The special train bearing President Wilson and his party from Washington will arrive at the steamship pier at 7 a. m. tomorrow, it is announced.

TAKES 23 SCIENTISTS

New York, Dec. 3.—Evidence of preparedness by the American government to enter into peace negotiations was given here tonight in an announcement that twenty-three members of an advisory commission of experts who have made a year's study of political and economic conditions in Europe and Asia will sail with President Wilson.

With them will go several tons of documents and maps, which comprise a collection of international data said to be without parallel in history.

These advisers to the peace commission, who have conducted an exhaustive inquiry into foreign affairs by authority of the president and under the direction of Col. E. M. House, include experts in international law, specialists in history and world politics, and officers of the military intelligence division of the army.

Begun in November, 1917.

Using the building of the American Geographical society here, they have accumulated, through studies which began in November, 1917, voluminous records which, because of their great value, have been guarded day and night.

In fact, details of the investigation, which is known officially as "The Inquiry," have been withheld from publication until its results were safe on shipboard. Except for information gained from this source that enabled Col. House as a member of the international conference which drafted the armistice terms to "amaze" his associates with his intimate knowledge of European affairs, the public has not been informed of the activities of an official organization without precedent in the nation's history.

More than 150 persons comprised the personnel of the inquiry, which was financed out of the special emergency war fund at the president's disposal.

During the progress of the investigation the announcement said, every important nationality of Europe and western Asia sent representatives here for conference with the commission and numerous secret documents, together with the texts of treaties signed during the war, which never have been published in full, were assembled.

In its final stages the inquiry was centered on territorial matters, and most of the members going abroad with the president are territorial specialists. David H. Miller, chairman of the law committee of the state department, already is in Europe, it was stated.

Accompanying the President.

Among members of the inquiry who will accompany the president are::

Director, Dr. S. E. Mezes, president of the College of the City of New York.

Chief territorial specialist, Dr. Isaiah Bowman, director of the American Geographical society.

Specialist on economic resources, Allyn A. Young, Cornell university.

Charles H. Haskins, Harvard university, specialist on Alsace-Lorraine and Belgium.

Clive Day, Yale university, specialist on the Balkans.

W. E. Lunt, Haverford college, specialist on northern Italy.

P. H. Lord, Harvard, specialist on Russia and Poland.

W. L. Westermann, University of Wisconsin, specialist on Turkey.

G. L. Beer, formerly of Columbia university, specialist on colonial history.

Cartographer, Mark Jefferson, Michigan State Normal college.

Roland B. Dixon, Harvard.

Maj. D. W. Johnson, Columbia university.

Maj. Lawrence Martin, University of Wisconsin.

Capt. W. C. Farabee, the University museum, Philadelphia.

Capt. Stanley Hornbeck, author of "Contemporary Politics in the Far East."

The four last named are officers of the military intelligence service assigned to the inquiry for special problems on strategy, economics, and ethnography. Other members of the party will be map makers and general assistants.

How Investigation Started.

The inquiry, the geographical society's statement said, grew out of a conference between President Wilson and Col. House in September, 1917. The cartographic force of the American Geographical society began a huge map making program. From the latest sources maps were made to visualize not only all manner of territorial boundaries, but distribution of peoples, number and local densities of populations, religions, economic activities, distribution of material resources, trade routes, strategic points, etc.

Similar inquiries, it was stated, have been in progress abroad, notably in France and England.

Lands at Brest.

BREST, Dec. 3.—[Havas.]—President Wilson will land at Brest on the afternoon of Dec. 12 and will receive military honors. Foreign Minister Pichon, Minister of Marine Leygues, and Capt. Andre Tardieu, head of the general commission for Franco-American war questions, will greet Mr. Wilson in the name of the French government. The presidential train will arrive in Paris on the morning of Dec. 13.

MANN PLEDGES REPUBLICANS' AID TO WILSON

Opposes Rock Throwing While President Is at Peace Conference.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—President Wilson's departure for the peace table at Versailles was signalized by parting shots of criticism and salvos of praise from the capitol today. Outstanding developments of a day taken up almost entirely in discussion of the president's trip were:

SENATOR SHERMAN of Illinois, urging the senate to declare the presidency vacant, charged that Mr. Wilson was committing an act of "executive sabotage" in going abroad.

SENATOR KNOX of Pennsylvania, former secretary of state in the Taft cabinet, introduced a resolution demanding separate consideration at a later day of the "League of Nations" and any sweeping changes in international law on freedom of the seas, and that these be eliminated from the principles in the general peace treaty. The resolution also asks for withdrawal of the United States army and navy from foreign territory as soon as the armistice terms are met.

Mann Opposes "Throwing Rocks."

SENATOR WILLIAMS of Mississippi, a leading administration spokesman, frankly admitted the voters at the last election threw the Democrats out of power in congress because they believed the Republicans could be more safely intrusted to support the president, but warned Republican senators they would be "digging their own political graves" if they persisted in their attacks on Mr. Wilson while he is abroad. He declared Mr. Wilson was going abroad to perfect an alliance between the United States and Great Britain, which, even though other nations do not join in it, will keep the world at peace for 100 years.

REPRESENTATIVE MANN of Illinois, Republican leader of the house, gave out a statement expressing his opposition to "throwing rocks" in the president's way and declaring that the house Republicans will make no concerted effort to embarrass the president in any way while he was gone.

Fear Embarrassing Wilson.

Senator Sherman's attack was the only speech of criticism from the Republican side of the senate today. Indications are that hereafter the Republicans will center their fire on principles and developments at the peace table rather than against the president himself.

A number of speeches relating to the peace terms are scheduled for the next few days and the "League of Nations" is expected to come in for much discussion pro and con, but there will be a dispostion to refrain from pushing measures to vacate the presidency because of the embarrassment it might cause the president and the damage it might do to America at the peace table.

This was the view of Republican leaders both in the senate and in the house.

Representative Mann's Statement.

Here is the statement issued by Representative Mann:

"There will be no concerted effort on the part of the Republicans of the house to embarrass the president in any way while he is abroad.

"I am of the opinion that the American people would not be in sympathy with any attempt to pin prick the president while he is abroad on so important a mission. Personally, I am not at all in sympathy with any of the resolutions which have appeared in the senate or house regarding the president's absence from Washington or his visit abroad.

"The president is engaged on a highly important mission. I am opposed to any attempt to throw rocks in his way. I do not think he should be hampered but should be given the fullest opportunity to carry out his mission successfully."

Cites Peril of Royal Pomp.

Senator Sherman insisted in his speech that the constitution framers foresaw just such a situation as that created by the president's leaving the country.

"The intention of those who wrote and the American people who adopted the constitution was to guard the president against the insidious influences and flattery incident to the servile adulation and absurd pomp of the kings and council chambers of the old world," he said. "Amid crowns and reminiscences of ancient thrones, with profound deference yielded by diplomats grown gray in Europe's quarrels, who see centuries beyond their generation, the American atmosphere is lost and an alien influence envelopes the president.

"A courtier's smile and the bending knee of a sycophant have entangled a nation in fatal alliances. A kiss of a sensuous woman has changed the course of empire. We ought not to give the president temptation.

There Was Mark Antony.

"Mark Antony is not the only susceptible official whose public service has deviated from the line of duty, swayed by Egypt's daughter. The savory fragrance of incense offered by alien satellites may mount with intoxicating power to a head already strangely obsessed with the fantasy that he has become the state.

"The president's absence when congress is in session and domestic conditions are insecure is an act of legislative and executive sabotage against the government. It seems to be reserved for the president to gamble with the insuperable difficulties he creates by his absence beyond seas."

Calls Sherman's Talk "Nonsense."

Senator Williams made a sarcastic reply to Senator Sherman's attack. He described the Illinois senator's argument as "nonsense" and "a conglomeration of meaningless adjectives."

"Some of you think over there that you beat the president," he said, addressing the Republicans. "You did not beat the president. The people beat the Democratic party at the last election.

"Do you know why? Because your party, taking it upon the percentage basis, had been truer to the war than we had—and when I say 'we' I mean my party.

Could Better Trust Republicans.

"We had men in the other wing of this capitol and we had men here who were sticking the president with a fine Italian dagger every chance they got. I have come to the conclusion that the American people put you in office in these two houses because they thought maybe you could be more safely trusted to stand behind the president than a lot of our fellows could be."

Taking up the league of nations idea, Senator Williams said:

"If the two English speaking nations go into it," he said, "we can by our sea power, by our control over raw materials, by our control over natural resources, force the other nations of the world to do the league's bidding. We can agree that any civilized nation that makes war upon another without first submitting the questions in controversy to an arbitration tribunal shall be outside of the pale of civilization, and that the freedom to operate upon the high seas shall be denied to her; and in that way we can keep peace in the world for one hundred years, if we only have the courage to do it. That is what Woodrow Wilson is going to Europe for."

Wilson Pardons 2 Aviation Officers Named by Hughes

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Lieut. Cols. J. G. Vincent and George W. Mixter, army officers named by Charles E. Hughes in his report on the aircraft investigation as having been guilty of transacting business with private concerns in which they were financially interested, have been pardoned by President Wilson.

This announcement was made tonight at the White House:

"It was announced at the executive office today that the president had pardoned Lieut. Col. George W. Mixter and Lieut. Col. J. G. Vincent, whom the recent report on aircraft production showed to be technically guilty because of a breach of statutes, because he entirely concurs in the views of the attorney general with regard to these two cases. He believes that the two gentlemen concerned were entirely innocent of any improper or selfish intentions, that their guilt was only technical, and that their services to the government, which have been of the highest value and of the most disinterested sort, deserve a most cordial recognition."

Helped Design Liberty Motor.

Col. Vincent was vice president of the Packard Motor Car company and was one of the designers of the Liberty motor.

"When that motor had been designed," Attorney General Gregory's letter to the president said, "the Packard company tendered Mr. Vincent and its engineering staff facilities for such service as might be necessary to test out and develop the design for production. The authorities authorized Mr. Vincent to build a required number of models and experimental motors, and he directed his company to do the work under his supervision.

"Later, during the progress of the work, he was commissioned in the signal corps, resigning as an officer of the Packard company but retaining the ownership of his stock. His offense is that he acted for the government in connection with setting the compensation to be paid the Packard company for this work.

"There is no evidence that he did not act in entire good faith or that any advantage was taken of the government. The production of the Liberty motor was one of the great achievements in connection with the war. Col. Vincent rendered invaluable services in designing and perfecting it."

Mixter Owned Curtiss Stock.

Mr. Hughes' report said Col. Mixter owned twenty-five shares of stock of the Curtiss Airplane and Motor corporation, valued at $2,500, while he acted for the government in supervising inspection and production at this company's plant.

"Lieut. Col. Mixter," said Mr. Gregory's letter to the president, "testified that he had formerly owned a small amount of both common and preferred stock in the company referred to; that at the time he was commissioned he had sold the common stock and overlooked the fact that he still owned the preferred. There is nothing in the evidence warranting the conclusion that Lieut. Col. Mixter did not act in entire good faith in the transaction referred to or indicating that he was influenced by his ownership of this preferred stock, which paid a fixed dividend."

EGYPT, SYRIA, MESOPOTAMIA, IN THREE DAYS

LONDON, Dec. 3.—[British Wireless Service.]—The airplane already has begun its task of forming a link between African and Asiatic countries where railway communication is nonexistent.

On Nov. 29 Maj. Gen. Salmond of the royal air forces, Brig. Gen. Marton of the same service, and Capt. Ross Smith, with two mechanics, started from Cairo and arrived at Damascus, about 400 miles distant, in the afternoon.

The next day they left Damascus at 7:30 o'clock in the morning and flew to Bagdad, 450 miles distant, reaching there at 3:30 o'clock the afternoon of Dec. 1.

In three days airmen had visited three countries—Egypt, Syria, and Mesopotamia—and linked up the two great Asiatic expeditionary forces of the British empire.

RAIL PROBLEM PASSED OVER TO NEXT CONGRESS

Democrats Say Time Is Too Short Before End of Session.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The next congress, a Republican one, will determine the future of the railroads. This was assured today when Democratic senate and house leaders, aware of the legislative task ahead of them, virtually gave up hope of being able to hold the necessary hearings in committees, thrash the matter out thoroughly in both branches of congress, and pass a bill to cover the railroad situation.

It was considered by these leaders that a great many big appropriation bills, a great many reconstruction measures, and the revenue bill, on which there is a bitter fight, have to be passed upon between now and the 4th of March next, and this would preclude the possibility of mature deliberation on the railroad problem.

G. O. P. Faces Problem.

The railroad question is a "touchy" one for the Republicans, with a number of the progressive element, notably Senator Johnson of California, favoring straight out government ownership. But by setting themselves to the task promptly after March 4 it would be no difficult matter to get the question settled in plenty of time to prevent its becoming an issue in the 1920 campaign, leaders pointed out today.

There is a possibility that the senate interstate commerce committee will begin surveying the railroad situation. If it does, the railroad question will go no further at this session of congress. So far as the house is concerned, it is the intention there to let the railroad matter rest until the next congress is called, members of the interstate commerce commission there said today.

Guided by Wilson.

Democratic leaders were guided by [illegible] by the president yesterday indicating that he did not anticipate the formal declaration of peace until spring. The present railroad control will extend automatically for a period of twenty-one months after that event, giving ample time for full investigation into the financial situation of the railroads, the effect of government operation, and the wisdom of following the various courses which have been suggested.

Sanborn Writes to Wife He Has Received British D.S.O.

Mrs. J. B. Sanborn, 1414 Hinman avenue, Evanston, wife of Col. J. B. Sanborn of the One Hundred and Thirty-first infantry (the old First infantry, Illinois national guard), received a letter from her husband yesterday telling of his receiving the distinguished service order from the British government. According to the letter, Col. Sanborn was the first American to be so honored by the British government. The letter went on to tell of conditions at the front and stated that twenty-one of the men under his command were receiving decorations simultaneously. He stated in the letter that he was very proud of his command.

The One Hundred and Thirty-first infantry distinguished itself at Chipilly during the heavy fighting against the Hindenburg line between Cambrai and St. Quentin.

Guaranteed Price of Wheat for 1919 Will Stand

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The guaranteed price of wheat for the 1919 crop stands, by the terms of the Lever act, under which the United States food administration is operating, according to a food administration announcement today.

RAIL OWNERS ALSO IN DARK ON 'UNSCRAMBLING'

Agree with Wilson on Difficulties in Returning Roads.

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Owners of railroad securities are in the same boat as President Wilson. They have no "confident judgment" as to what is the best plan to adopt in unscrambling the government's war control of the transportation systems.

This was revealed here today when members of the advisory council, recently appointed by the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities and of general counsel of the association, held a conference of the advisory counsel. Former Senator Elihu Root and John G. Milburn of New York; John S. Miller, Chicago, and Hugh L. Bond, Baltimore, were present. The members of general counsel who were in conference were Samuel Untermyer and B. H. Inness Brown of New York. S. Davies Warfield, president of the association, also was present.

Ask Congressional Hearing.

After the conference President Warfield gave out a copy of a communication that has been sent to the chairman of the committee of interstate commerce of the senate and also of the house.

After asking for a hearing in respect to the return of the railroads to their owners the letter states that the association represents $5,000,000,000 of the outstanding $17,000,000,000 of securities of the railroads, owned by 30,000,000 of the 50,000,000 persons who own or are interested in railroad securities.

"The position taken by the association in so far as the return of the railroads to their owners is concerned is almost identical with that largely taken by the president in his address before the congress," the letter states.

"Only recently has the association stated through the public press that the railroads must be returned under plans which shall protect alike the shipper, the traveling public, labor, and the security owner; provide adequate means for governmental regulation, including supervision of railroad security issues.

Must Have Good Credit.

"We also stated that provision should be made for the retention of such methods of administration as may have been found to be effective during federal control; to increase rather than diminish the advantages to be secured from individual initiative, and to provide for taking care of the obligations to the government of each railroad incurred during the continuance of federal control.

"We have taken the position that the railroads cannot be returned with their credit impaired. If it is, it will be costly to the shipper and to the public. The higher their credit the cheaper can money be secured by them for purposes of hauling freight and passengers.

No Completed Plans to Offer.

"We did not believe that the federal control act provided for expenditures that the contract offered by the railroad administration seeks to cover. The statement of the president indicates that the position then taken by us was correct. This situation has therefore to be taken into consideration, we feel, in connection with as early a settlement of the railroad problem as is practicable. Added importance is given to this because of the purpose of the president to provide for as early a return of the properties as can be satisfactorily accomplished.

"At this time we have no completed plans to offer."

FINDS GERMANS WITH MONEY CAN DINE LIKE KINGS

Food Supply in Treves Amazes Yanks; Cheaper than in Paris.

BY EDWIN L. JAMES.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

TREVES, Germany, Dec. 3.—Because Germany is asking America to feed her, I paid strict attention to the food situation when the American army of occupation entered this city yesterday. In the twenty-four hours we have been here one thing that has impressed the Americans is the comparatively plentiful food supply.

This city of 75,000, an industrial center, appears sleek and prosperous, and the persons of its inhabitants show no ravages of hunger. The bread is poor and of coffee there is none. Otherwise food can be had of many kinds. It seems that at the time when America is ready to stint herself and her friends to feed unrepentant Germany a statement should be made that the food conditions here today are better than in that part of France occupied by the Germans. And the German army has just passed through this place.

Cheaper in Germany.

Three days ago I ate this luncheon in Nancy at the Café Liegeoise: Fish, beefsteak, potatoes, and salad, paying for it an equivalent of $3.25.

Yesterday, at the Hotel Porta Nigra here, I ate fish, beefsteak, potatoes, and salad, and paid an equivalent of $2.50. The two places were about of the same class.

One may buy a dinner here cheaper than in Paris, with the same grade of service. The cafes are well filled at all meals, and the tables seem well loaded. The meat shops are not badly supplied. An abundance of canned goods may be seen in the windows of the shops along the Sigonstrasse.

Plenty for Those with Money.

It is true that retail prices at the stores are high, which means perhaps that poor people have difficulty in getting what they need. But there is food a-plenty for those with money to pay, and in the last twenty-four hours I have heard a score of Americans say that perhaps Germany had better make a readjustment of her own food supply before calling on America.

Standing just now in front of an enormous glass inclosed dining room in the Hotel Porta Nigra, in which many people are dining well, one almost wondered why Germany had quit fighting. For we had heard so much of starvation, of paper shoes, or paper clothing, and so on we all thought, up to yesterday, of the picture of misery which lay before us.

Lo! we were in a beautiful, well kept city. There pass by us carriages carrying women in furs and men in silk hats. There pass by us on the streets men who look as if Fifth avenue tailors had turned them out. Their shoes are of leather, their clothes look warm.

It is true that is not all of the picture. There are ill-clad men and women and ragged children. There are those who look hungry. There are those who are cold. But one expected that. That is what France had suffered for four years. That, and more, is what Belgium suffered.

But what "knocks one cold" is the well being of the well to do and how they eat. There is butter where restaurants in Paris serve no butter. They serve sugar, a bowl of it at a time, in the Hotel Porta Nigra, but they served no sugar at the Hotel Ritz in Paris.

British Enter Germany.

ROTGEN, Germany, Sunday, Dec. 1.—[By the Associated Press.]—Detachments of the British army pushed out this morning across the frontier to German soil and the once forbidden domain of militarism now is furnishing billets for the "contemptible little army" which aroused German scorn in 1914.

Once over the border the contrast has been strange—from gayly decorated roads thronged with cheering, joyous Belgians, to roadways lined with sullen people. It was the same kind of beautiful country of neatly kept farms, but it was a land of gloom and distrust.

Germans Appear Well Fed.

The streets of Eupen, however, were filled with residents, drawn out by business or curiosity. But in the main they maintained dogged unconcern or stared with bitter hatred upon the soldiers. Some of them tried to be friendly. These were met with the usual British courtesy, but there was no fraternizing.

The German people encountered today appeared to be well fed. They were dressed well and their farms looked prosperous. Large numbers of cattle and cows were to be seen. Outwardly the villages showed no signs of distress. It was impossible that the Germans along at least this section of the border could have felt the hand of war excessively heavy.

2,300 PRISONERS AT RASTATT ARE WELL TREATED

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Twenty-three hundred American prisoners of war at Camp Rastatt, Germany, were reported "well organized, well clothed, and morale excellent," in a cablegram today to the American Red Cross from Lem G. Levy of the prisoners' relief section, who has just visited Rastatt.

The German authorities, Mr. Levy reported, are willing to release the prisoners at once under charge of nineteen American officers to be transferred from the prison at Karlsruhe, and he recommended that a train be ordered sent for them at once.

This is the first definite news from the big Rastatt camp. The dispatch also says that W. W. Husband, head of the Red Cross relief work in Copenhagen, is starting into northern Germany and hopes to complete arrangements to send a delegation into southern Germany and that a number of American prisoners are coming from Germany into Switzerland.

Interpretative dancing by groups of girls representing a number of nationalities will be interpolated on the program for the Arts club ball to be held at the Palmer house next Saturday evening. Among the groups which give promise of interesting performances is that organized by Mrs. Nancy Cox McCormack and which will render Czecho-Slovak dancing figures. The girls in this group are students of dancing in a local school and are considered exceptionally clever.

YANKEES COVER 12 MILES MORE ON RHINE HIKE

Prussians Keep Up Their Role of Indifference.

WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY OF OCCUPATION, Dec. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—Further evidence of the determination of the Germans not to be jarred out of their assumed rôle of indifference was shown in every village into which the Americans marched today. The long lines of khaki clad troops resumed their movement toward the Rhine at daybreak, passing through dozens of villages until another twelve miles had been covered.

Farmers in the fields and residents in the villages and towns glanced at the troops and went on with their work. Here and there Germans stared for a time curiously, but rarely was there a display of emotion or even of keen interest.

No Hostile Acts.

With the exception of trifling acts by children there have been no signs of hostility reported. In a few instances children shouted derogatory remarks and threw small stones, but there was nothing more serious than that.

The German troops are well back in their retirement and apparently there is no desire whatever to hamper the working out of the terms of the armistice.

German business men, especially in Treves, have already begun to display more interest in the Americans, who, as is customary with them, are beginning to spend their money.

United States Will Be Stern.

It is understood that the American military government proposes to deal sternly with any offenders against the regulations the army may establish, but the Germans appear to accept without question whatever orders are imposed. It is probable that some of the civil guards left by the retreating army will be retained, if they give satisfaction in their duties.

A proclamation issued by Gen. Pershing has evoked a few expressions of appreciation from the Germans, and there is a notable tendency on the part of the people of Treves, Sarrebourg, and other of the larger communities to act on his suggestion to resume their normal activities.

The towns are filled with returning German soldiers, discharged from service, who, since the Americans have arrived, have been negotiating for civilian clothing.

U-BOATS FLYING WHITE FLAGS VISIT LONDON

LONDON, Dec. 3.—[British Wireless Service.]—The first surrendered German U-boat to arrive in the Thames, the U-64, passed up the river at noon today. On its mast the German commercial flag was flying, below a white ensign. The submarine was taken up the river to its mooring place by two tugs while crowds watched its progress and cheered.

A second submarine and later a third, a large boat of the Deutschland class, each also flying the German flag, beneath a white ensign, also made their way up the river and were moored alongside wharves.

The tugs which accompanied the boats were gayly decorated with flags.

SCANDINAVIANS AGREE ON PEACE LEAGUE PLANS

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 3.—[By Wireless.]—The official journal will publish the following statement tomorrow.

"The committees appointed by the cabinets of Sweden, Denmark, and Norway to formulate a plan for a league of nations have held a series of meetings in Copenhagen and agreed on a detailed proposal for such a possible organization.

"This proposal embraces especially the general obligation to subject disputes between states to arbitration, the establishment of international council, a permanent international court of justice, international institutions of investigation and arbitration, and the permanent organization of peace conferences or conferences on international law at The Hague."

JUDSON SENDS IN SHAH'S $100,000 IN LIBERTY BONDS

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—A subscription of $100,000 made by the Shah of Persia for Liberty bonds, which was borrowed temporarily by Dr. Harry Pratt Judson, the representative at Teheran of the American committee for Armenian and Syrian relief, to feed starving Persians, was forwarded to Washington today.

The shah's subscription was in appreciation of $2,000,000 expended by the committee a year ago to feed his subjects during the famine.

He paid the money to Dr. Judson at Teheran, but, as funds were short and the need was great, it was used to relieve immediate distress. Dr. Judson notified the committee of his action, and the bonds purchased today will be deposited in New York.

BRITISH FLEET AT LIBAU MAY STOP BOLSHEVIKI

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 3.—A British fleet arrived yesterday at the port of Libau in Courland on the Baltic, says a Wolff bureau dispatch from Berlin today.

Could Stop Bolshevist Flood.

BERLIN, Monday, Dec. 2.—[By the Associated Press.]—If a few British torpedo boats or light cruisers, with even a small landing force, could reach Reval this week, they could dam the Bolshevist flood which has been murdering, burning, and plundering Esthonia and Livonia, according to Baron Aexkuell of Esthonia, who escaped from that country on Thursday in disguise.

ULTIMATUM ON ENEMY ENGINES SENT BY FOCH

Demands Germans Turn Over Rest of Locomotives Agreed On.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Marshal Foch has sent an ultimatum to the German armistice delegates demanding that Germany give up the rest of the locomotives agreed to, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen, transmitting advices from Berlin.

Mathias Erzberger, leader of the German armistice commission, protested that it was impossible and asked for a respite. The ultimatum expired Monday forenoon, with what result it has not been learned.

Limit of 24 Hours.

A Reuter dispatch from Berlin today confirms the delivery of the ultimatum, the time limit of which is twenty-four hours. It says Mathias Erzberger of the German armistice commission offered to deliver all the locomotives as soon as they were repaired.

The German newspapers, adds the dispatch, point out that there is no hope of prolonging the armistice and that it is likely the allies will occupy Germany.

May Grant More Time.

PARIS, Dec. 3.—It appears the Germans will be unable to hand over all the 5,000 locomotives stipulated in the armistice agreement by Dec. 17, according to the Matin, and it is possible that the allies will grant more time to the enemy. This will have the effect of delaying peace negotiations, since they cannot begin until the armistice conditions all have been fulfilled.

Discussions between the allied delegations to the peace conference will probably begin on Dec. 20.

WOMEN OUSTED IN WAR PLANTS SEEK PREMIER

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Women munition workers who had been receiving high pay and who have been discharged marched to Downing street today and demanded to see Premier Lloyd George. The premier sent word that he was too busy to see them.

The marchers, who numbered between 500 and 600, then proceeded to the ministry of munitions. Officials of the ministry met a deputation of the women and arranged for a further conference at which the employers also would be present.

The women in many instances wore expensive clothes, and they were all from one firm, whose government contract expires shortly. The women demanded the immediate withdrawal of the discharges, and their attitude, it was said at the ministry of munitions, was uncompromising.

$12,000,000 More Loaned to Belgium by the U. S.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Belgium was given another credit of $12,000,000 by the treasury today, making her total loans from the United States $210,120,000 and the total of the allies' loans $8,196,576,666.

GERMAN NAVY MEN BENEATH CONTEMPT, BEATTY DECLARES

LONDON, Dec. 3.—[British Wireless Service.]—A scathing denunciation of the personnel of the German navy was made by Admiral Sir David Beatty, commander-in-chief of the British grand fleet, in a speech addressed to a gathering of representatives of the first battle cruiser squadron on board the battle cruiser Lion prior to its departure for the Scapa Flow as an escort to the surrendered ships of the German high seas fleet.

"We had expected them," said Admiral Beatty, "to have the courage that we looked for from those whose work lies upon the great waters, and I am sure that the sides of this gallant old ship, which have been well hammered in the past, must have ached as I ached and as you ached to give them another taste of what we had intended for them.

"Their humiliating end was the proper end for an enemy who has proved himself so lacking in chivalry. At sea his strategy, his tactics, and his behavior have been beneath contempt and worthy of a nation which has waged war in the manner in which the enemy has waged war.

"We know that the British sailor has a large heart and a short memory. Try to harden the heart and lengthen the memory; and remember that the enemy which you are looking after is a despicable beast, neither more nor less. He is not worthy the sacrifice of the life of one bluejacket in the grand fleet, and that is the one bright spot in the fact that he did not come out."

7,000 MORE MEN DUE HOME TODAY FROM OVERSEAS

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The second contingent of America's forces to return from overseas service is expected to reach this city tomorrow. Three transports, the Lapland, the Minnekahda and the Orca, are on their way to New York, carrying 7,000 soldiers from the training camps in England.

The steamships Empress of Britain, with seventy-six officers, ten nurses and 2,389 enlisted men, and the Adriatic, with eighty officers and 2,208 enlisted men, sailed from Liverpool Dec. 1, for New York, the war department announced today.

RUSH WOUNDED HOME.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—All American wounded in England, with the exception of about 500 of the most serious cases, will be back in the United States by Christmas, according to present plans. Efforts now are being made to move the Americans quickly, and the wounded will be sent homeward as rapidly as shipping is available.

NEW YORK BOYS REGISTERED FOR MILITARY DRILL

New York, Dec. 3.—Boys in New York state between the ages of 16 and 19 years are registering today for military training under the military training law. It is estimated that the number of registrants will total 200,000. In New York City the schools remained open for the boys from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. The teachers served as registrars. In this city there are 120,000 boys who must register.

About 75,000 boys have already been enrolled under the military training law, but they must also register. Those in students' army training corps, however, need not register.

A Monkish Mystery

Allesandro della Spina was a Dominican monk of Pisa. He died in 1313.

This monk made spectacles, and was the first public optician, distributing them "with a benevolent and cheerful heart" the monastery archives tell us.

"He perfected spectacles which were first made by some one who would divulge nothing regarding them," we are also told.

Who was the "some one?" If we knew, we would know the inventor of spectacles, in Europe, and doubtless the year of their discovery.

Was it degli Armati, whose friends prayed for his soul as the inventor of spectacles? He and Allesandro were friends.

Another monk of Pisa mentions spectacles in a sermon delivered in 1305, and says that he has seen and conversed with the man who first made them.

Whoever it was, would be amazed in any Almer Coe Store today at the discoveries that have since been made—and still are being made—toward the perfection of eyeglasses.

CROWN PRINCE WOULD GO BACK 'AS A LABORER'

Says He Wants to Aid if Republican State Is Set Up.

best opportunity for making war, she would have chosen the period either of the Boer war or the Russo-Japanese war.

"From the beginning I was certain that England would enter the conflict. This view was not shared by Prince Henry and the other members of my family.

Only a Soldier.

"People have credited me with warlike intentions. But I was only a soldier with a desire to see the army kept thoroughly efficient, and I worked hard to bring this about. People blame me with the failure at Verdun. But I refused twice to attack there with the troops at my disposal. On the third occasion my attack was successful for the first three days, but I was not properly supported.

"I thought the Verdun attack was a mistake. We should have attacked to the eastward of Verdun, where there would have been great probability of success."

The ex-crown prince was rather bitter regarding the work of the general staff, which, he asserted, was responsible for numerous mistakes, including the attack in March, 1918, which he was ordered to make, contrary to his own view, and was compelled to obey.

Puts Blame on Ludendorff.

He declared Ludendorff was the mainspring of Germany's warlike activities, while Hindenburg was a mere figurehead.

Ludendorff and his staff continually underestimated the enemy's forces, he declared, and never believed that America's contribution of soldiers was as great as it actually proved to be.

Frederick William declared himself to be an admirer of President Wilson, who, he felt assured, would bring about a peace of justice for the German people, and added:

"Any humiliation of a nation containing 70,000,000 people would leave only a feeling of revenge. Such a nation cannot be crushed.

"The armistice terms are very severe and almost impossible of execution, as the entente powers are taking away a large portion of the means of transport."

Explains Russian Treaty.

Asked whether Germany, if victorious, would not have imposed even more severe terms, he expressed the belief that such would not have been the case.

When the Brest-Litovsk treaty was mentioned, he said its terms were hard because in Russia the Germans were confronted by the Bolsheviki.

With regard to air raids on unfortified cities, the fierce submarine warfare, the bombardment of Paris, and the deportation of women from the occupied districts to work in Germany, Frederick said he had always entirely disagreed with these policies.

In connection with Germany's actions in Belgium at the beginning of the war he said the German general staff had informed him that Field Marshal Haig was in Belgium in July, 1914, making a complete military survey for future operations. When it was suggested that the German staff had done the same thing Frederick said he knew nothing about it.

Germans Made Awful Mistakes.

German diplomats, he declared, had made "awful" mistakes, being unable to see the viewpoint of the countries where they were stationed and misreading opinion in other countries. Referring to the notorious kaiser telegram during the Boer war, he said:

"My father was made to send this telegram by his political advisers."

The former crown prince is living a simple life now. He strolls about the island, chats with peasants, and is learning the Dutch language from a small boy. He says he is interned, although in reality not interned, as all the other German officers have been permitted to leave Holland. He does not expect his wife to come to Holland. She will remain in Berlin to superintend the education of their children.

Frederick William discussed various subjects quite frankly with the correspondent for two hours, but requested that some of the matters under discussion should not be published.

Prussians Still Clanking Sabers; Try to Stir Revolt

BY JOSEPH HERRINGS.

Chicago Tribune-New York Times Cable.
[Copyright: 1918.]

BERLIN, Dec. 2.—[Via Copenhagen.]—Vorwaerts and other German papers continue to give details of reactionary activity by army officers in different parts of the country.

"Reports of counter revolutionary excesses by officers of all grades are multiplying alarmingly," Vorwaerts says. "The commander of the Seventeenth army, Von Mudra, has just made public at Paderborn the following decree:

"'I have taken over the command in this section. I demand that all military and civil authorities aid me in the maintenance of law and order. If there should exist within this district any soldiers and workers' councils they will naturally have to submit to the military authority. The wearing of red badges is strictly prohibited.'"

Demands Dismissal of Officer.

"We demand," Vorwaerts, continues, "that the government immediately dismiss Von Mudra."

Vorwaerts cites further examples of excesses as follows:

"On its way through Ham, Westphalia, a flying detachment from the front removed the red flag from the city hall, placed there by the soldiers and workers' council, and burned it on the market place.

"At Kreuzenach reactionary officers caused grave disturbances several times. A captain on horseback called for "three cheers for his majesty," in which the reactionary populace of Kreuzenach joined.

People Will Not Tolerate Saber.

"The officers will have to blame themselves if such incidents create a dangerous situation. In our interest they should prevent irresponsible parties from committing such obnoxious acts. The people will no longer tolerate the insolence of a small class relying on the saber."

All the newspapers, with the exception of Die Rote Fahne, approve the government's decision that the election for the national convention shall take place Feb. 16.

It is generally supposed that the tendency now prevailing in the soldiers' and workmen's councils is a sufficient guarantee that their general meeting in Berlin Dec. 16 will approve the government's decision.

The Berlin local soldiers' council, which seems to be undergoing a purging process, will almost certainly declare for the government within a day or so.

Berlin Bows to Bavaria.

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 3.—It is announced officially in Berlin that the executive committee for Greater Berlin has reached an understanding with the Bavarian executive committee to demand that the resignation of Dr. Solf, the foreign secretary, be fulfilled immediately.

The committees will also demand that Dr. Solf be replaced by a consistent opponent of the old system and the war policy.

They will ask also that Mathias Erzberger, who was a member of the German armistice delegation, not be permitted to participate in the peace negotiations.

To Seize Big Estates.

Seizure of all "landed estates" and the taking over of all war profits in Germany was promised by Chancellor Ebert in a speech to a Socialist delegation, according to a Berlin dispatch received today.

Addressing a great meeting of returned German soldiers at Ems, in Hesse-Nassau, Herr Barth, secretary for social policy in the new German people's government, said the general situation in Germany was serious, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Berlingske Tidende.

Herr Barth praised the self-discipline of the German troops retreating on the western front, but asserted that the situation of the army in the east was distressing. He added that he could not see how the great mass of troops could be evacuated in view of the coming winter and the hostility of the population.

Secretary Barth hoped the army would not suffer the fate of Napoleon's troops, but declared "Germany is ready to meet the coming dispensation of providence."

Destroy Damaging Documents.

PARIS, Dec. 3.—The German foreign office destroyed by fire all damaging documents in the archives of the German general government at Brussels and destroyed all documents in Berlin which might be useful in placing responsibility for the war on the German government, Herr Melkenbuhr, a former Socialist member of the reichstag, declared in a speech in Berlin, according to advices received here.

The revelations of Melkenbuhr, the Paris newspapers declare, throw a singular light on the proposal of Dr. Solf, the German foreign secretary, to have a neutral commission inquire into the origin of the war.

San Diego, Cal., Dec. 3.—Lieut. William Goodwin of Alamogordo, N. M., and Master Electrician Roy H. Teernstra of Hieflin, Holland, were instantly killed at Rockwell field today when the powerful Curtiss biplane in which they were flying fell 2,000 feet in a spinning nose dive.

BARES $200,000 "AD" CAMPAIGN TO AID GERMANY

Witness in Brewer Quiz Tells U. S. Senators of Rumely Activities.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Organization in 1915 of a $200,000 advertising campaign by which it was hoped to stop the manufacture in the United States of munitions for the allies was admitted by Louis N. Hammerling, president of the American Association of Foreign Language Newspapers, in testifying today before the senate committee investigating activities of brewers and German propagandists.

Edward A. Rumely, recent owner of the New York Evening Mail, and Dr. H. F. Albert, a German propagandist, were connected with the campaign by the witness, who declared that the money for the insertion of the advertising in practically all of the 619 newspapers of the association of which he is president was contributed largely by Rumely.

He said his dealings with Albert consisted in the collection through the German propagandist of a portion of the $200,000 which Rumely contributed.

Munitions to Germany?

Hammerling denied upon questioning any connection or acquaintanceship with former German Ambassador Bernstorff and sought to justify his part in the advertising campaign with the statement that he believed the munitions being manufactured in this country were being shipped to Germany.

Hammerling admitted he knew the German ports in 1915 were closed, but asserted that knowledge had nothing to do with his belief that munitions were being shipped from this country to Germany.

Another thing that impelled him to take part in the plan, he said, was his desire to contribute toward reducing the carnage of war through stopping the production of war materials.

"To Help Humanity."

"Was it for the almighty dollar or to help Germany or to help humanity," asked Senator Nelson of Minnesota.

"It was to help humanity," Hammerling replied, "and I also was glad to get the advertising. If I had any idea that it was in the interests of the German government I would not have done it. I thought the munitions were being sent to Germany."

In aswer to questions by Maj. E. Lowry Humes, in charge of the investigation for the committee, Hammerling denied having given the New York Times an interview in which he was quoted as stating that the $200,000 fund was subscribed by churches, societies and individuals.

Asked about the placing of the advertising, Hammerling said the newspaper owned by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, chairman of the foreign relations committee, published the advertisement without charge.

U. S. KEEPS HANDS OFF THE CHILE AND PERU ROW

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—The American government has made no suggestions whatever to Chile and Peru as to the disposition of the disputed provinces of Tacna and Arica. This was announced officially tonight at the state department.

"The state department," the announcement said, "has made no suggestion whatever as to territory, but has urged that everything possible be done to maintain peaceful relations."

CHILE'S VERSION.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Dec. 3.—The United States, in agreement with the Chilean government, it is persistently rumored here, will propose to Peru and Bolivia that Chile cede the province of Tacna to Peru and turn over the province of Arica to Bolivia, the latter republic delivering to Chile a frontier province.

The mobilization of the Chilean army, already begun in the northern provinces, has been ordered throughout the republic.

He is chain-lightning in his office. He knows all about the bank-statement, the corn crop, the freight-car shortage, the liquidation of Smith-Jones, Inc., and the drop in Iceland Moss Preferred. He can quote you, instantly, the August production of his Grand Rapids branch factory to one-tenth of one percent.

But socially! great Beatrice Fairfax!

He is lost at a dance; swamped at a dinner; helpless when confronted with hostesses, buds, dowagers, visiting French generals, literary lions, Hindu musicians, Japanese dancers; dumb at discussions of Eli Nadelman's sculpture, or golf, or airplane production, or pedigreed dogs.

Sometimes, in his secret soul, he wonders how other men get on so well with people who are, to him, as incomprehensible as the dodo.

And yet it's so easy—so simple—so inexpensive to learn the secret of social success.

All he needs is tear off that coupon and spend a single dollar for six issues of the forward-marching magazine of modern American life—its arts, sports, dances, fashions, books, operas, gaieties, and humors: Vanity Fair.

Vanity Fair costs $3 a year—35 cents a copy. There is more joyous fun-making and mental stimulation in one single copy than in fourteen yards of Bergson or Ralph Waldo Emerson. Yet, if you do not know Vanity Fair, or would like to know it better, you may have five whole copies for an insignificant dollar bill—six, if you mail the coupon at once.

PLATINUM JEWELRY

Platinum is one of the rarest metals. The annual output of it is only a fraction as much as gold. Hence it is never plentiful.

For months past, the use of platinum in jewelry has been restricted by the Government because the whole available supply was needed for making munitions and various instruments used in warfare.

Now that the Government restrictions are removed, and platinum may be sold and worn as usual, the difficulty is only in getting an immediate supply in time for the holidays.

Our assortment of platinum pieces is already quite complete and is being added to almost daily.

Those who have in mind something in platinum for Christmas will find it worth while to make selections without delay.

DISCOVERED! A FARMER MAKING A LIVING PROFIT

Buy Nothing and Work Day and Night, Is His Recipe.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

[This is the third article on Farmers' Profits in Foodstuffs.]

Libertyville, Ill., Dec. 3.—Here is a farmer who has made money during the last two years. His name is Henry Bergeron and he lives three miles out from Libertyville. He has big red barns, a new tool shed, a house on a knoll, where evergreens grow. His fat sheep were grazing under the trees of his front yard, seeking shelter against the cold, snow laden wind that blew across the pastures.

Farmer Bergeron is of French extraction. Born in Kankakee, he came to this farm—his brother's—eight or nine years ago and had lean years until 1917. The farm is 220 acres. This year, figuring on 5 per cent interest and a valuation of $200 an acre Henry will clear about $1,500 from his labors, on a rough estimate. He does not keep books.

Way to Make Money.

"How do you make money on a farm?" he was asked.

"I raise everything I need," he said. "I have no feed bills and small grocery bills. Buy nothing—that is my idea."

Bergeron has been fortunate in the matter of help. Where other farmers of this district have been unable to obtain labor because of the high wages offered in government work, he has kept two men at $45 a month and board. He milks twenty-seven cows. The other night he was disgusted.

"I never milk another cow," he said.

He admits there is profit in it, but not much.

"At $3.77 a hundred pounds, the price this month, we can make a little on milk, but we could not do it for less," he said.

Although the government milk price formula is supposed to be a cost formula, Bergeron makes money by selling his grain and roughage to his own cows at present high market prices. That is, he gets paid for his milk on this basis.

His sheep feed along the roadside. He has a thrifty French housewife. He works early and late. He buys nothing—and he makes a little money. There is a German farmer up the road who is also making a little money. His labor supply is in his own family. He buys little. He farms on a comparatively small scale.

Rocks Menace Big Farms.

Once you go out of this class of thrifty, hard working, expert small farmers you begin to strike the rocks.

R. B. Swift, farmer of this neighborhood, has seven farms which he leases on shares. He matches his farms, with machinery and cattle, against the labor and experience of strong young farmers. And this is his testimony:

"I have had a renter on a farm of 380 acres of good land for eleven months. We cast up accounts the other day. For his half he had had $5,000 gross income. He spent all this to keep going and still owes me $216. Of course he had his living and I think he had $150 worth of furniture.

"He would not have taken in all that money if it had not been for 1,000 bushels of wheat. That was the money making crop this year. We have not raised much wheat heretofore. One trouble, of course, was labor. His brother, who worked in the dairy with him, was drafted. And we have had to get along with shiftless help. I have put in a good deal of my own labor for nothing. I never worked so hard as I did this last summer. I wanted to give that wheat to the government.

Ashamed of the Truth.

"I am ashamed to tell the truth about this farming business. It seems as though a farmer ought to be able to compel enough to make a living or else have spirit enough to get out of the business.

"I had 380 acres farmed by a man who is now an agricultural adviser. At the end of this year I was $1,600 behind. I had spent all I had taken in.

"This farm is well drained. We raised 6,000 bushels of grain. But here is the trouble: Twine cost 25 cents a pound. I spent $150 for twine. A binder is $250, double in price. You know what gasoline is. Grain sacks are $1, double in price. A harness that cost $35 now is $75. On the other hand, if you sell a horse you get about one-half.

"Now about milk. There is a great propaganda to get men back to the dairy. What for? The only way to make money is to do like Bergerson and these German farmers. On a small scale by feeding a few cows on what is raised on the farm, milk might be produced at $2 a hundred pounds.

Milk Price Too Low.

"But if you gave attention to the larger dairies, where the owner has to go into the market and buy, you would find that the milk price is not high enough. The cost of producing milk is more than labor and feed. Supposing you had to turn out five cows for slaughter because they reacted against the tuberculin test? There is $500 gone.

"Add the cost of diseases, the long hours, the confinement of this work; take the drain from many other sources; I believe that 30 per cent of the land of this district is farmed at a loss. We real farmers have to compete against the gentleman farmer who spends money instead of making it. We cannot afford to import milkmaids from Scotland or students from the agricultural colleges.

"If this war is to result in anything, it must help the farmer to get fair play. It must function toward greater democracy. We do not all want to get out and work from dawn to darkness. We do not all want our women to work. We are against child labor. We do not like to hole up here and never spend a cent.

"The minute we begin to spend we are dealing with gentlemen who do business at 125 per cent profit. The trouble of high cost of living is not with the farmer. He has been held down so long that it is time he had a better chance. I do not think it is with the men who take my cream to market. I do not think they make more than they should, considering their hard work and investment.

"The only farmer who survives is the one who works his own farm and does no outside buying."

And yet Farmer Swift would not sell his home place. In fact, he has just sold an adjoining farm at $333 an acre to a Chicago man. He was offered a good round price for the home place, but prefers to stay there.

"I have a good appetite," he says. "The children like it. I sleep well. I like to walk around among the cattle and in the fields. I don't know what else there is in life."

No Wonder He Stays.

From his window, a big bay window with a steam radiator in it, hardwood floors, good books, rugs, one looks out across the pleasant field to the silos and the red roofs of the dairy. A fine herd is munching away at the hay. A dark line of woods, a glimpse of lake beyond, an automobile at the door. Yet there is a field with many acres of unhusked corn.

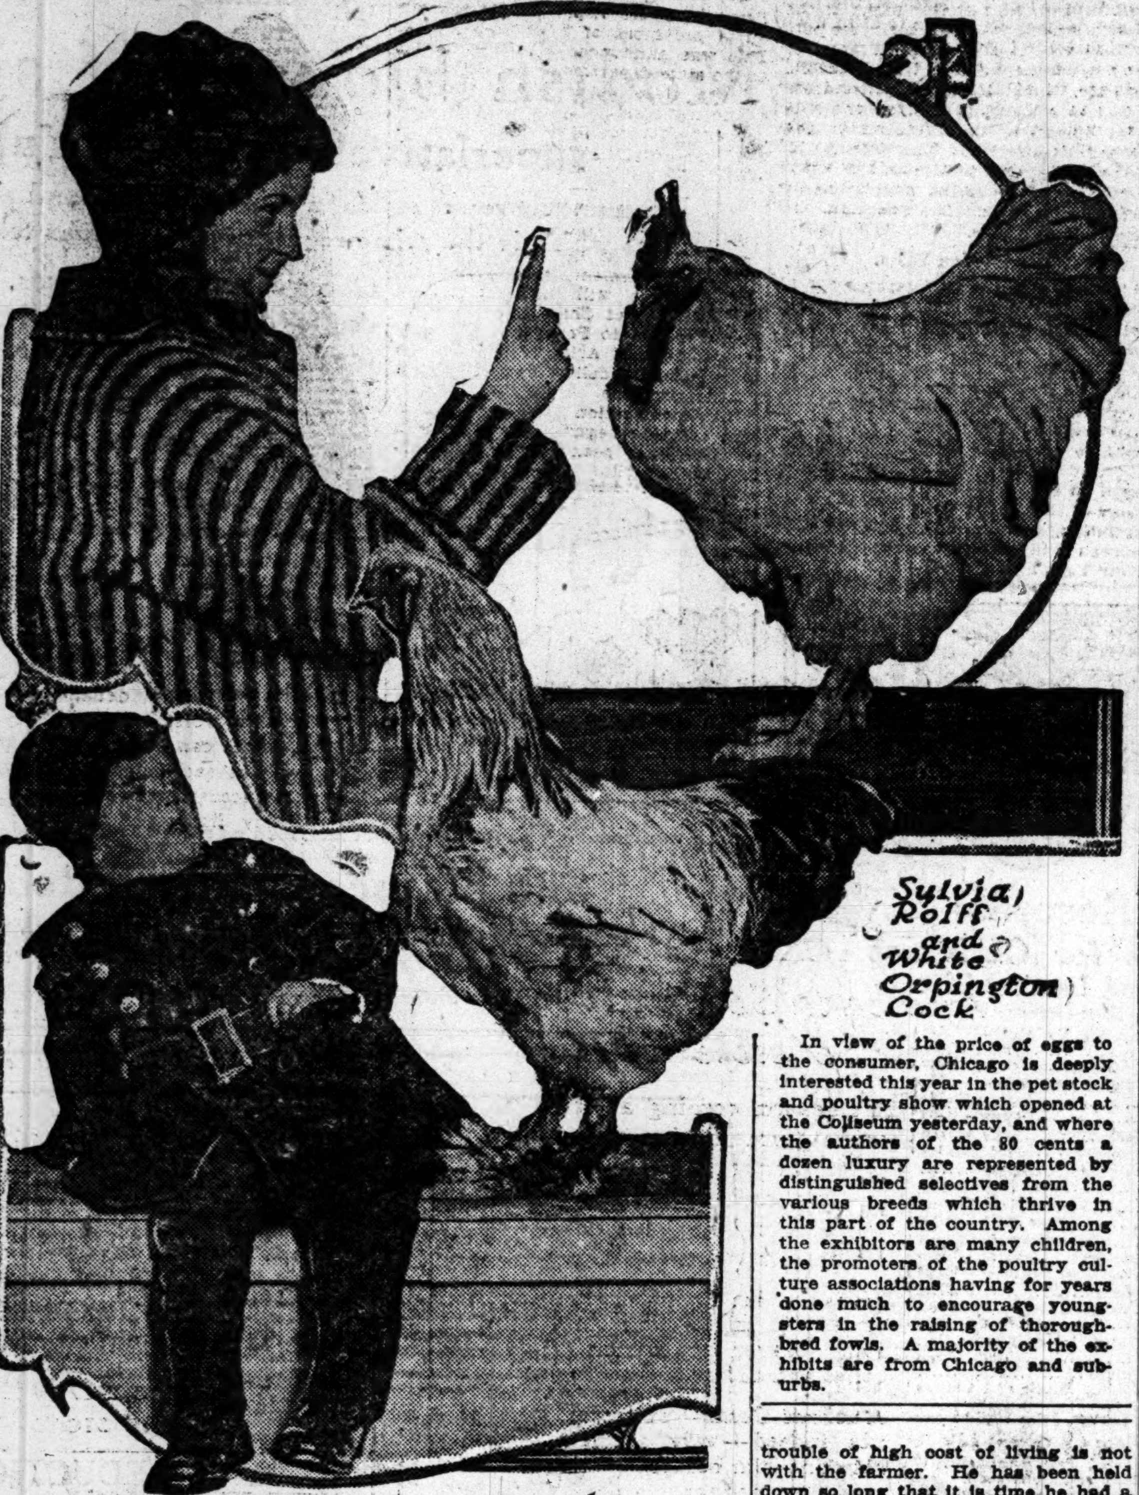
PROMINENT AMONG FOOD PROFITEERS

Precious Specimens of the "Eighty-Cents-a-Dozen Club" Now Being Shown at the Coliseum Pet Stock Show.



Sylvia Rolff and White Orpington Cock

Frank L. Dean and Light Brahma Cock

In view of the price of eggs to the consumer, Chicago is deeply interested this year in the pet stock and poultry show which opened at the Coliseum yesterday, and where the authors of the 80 cents a dozen luxury are represented by distinguished selectives from the various breeds which thrive in this part of the country. Among the exhibitors are many children, the promoters of the poultry culture associations having for years done much to encourage youngsters in the raising of thoroughbred fowls. A majority of the exhibits are from Chicago and suburbs.

STORAGE FOOD IN STATE MORE THAN YEAR AGO

Report on Stocks Throws No Light on High Living Prices.

Stocks of food in cold storage warehouses in Illinois are normal, in many commodities, being in excess of holdings at the corresponding period last year, according to figures made public yesterday by John B. Newman, superintendent of the division of foods and dairies of the state department of agriculture.

The figures, having a distinct bearing upon the food price inquiry now being conducted by the office of United States Attorney Charles F. Clyne, fail, however, to indicate that soaring prices are due to any decided shortage in the stocks of food on hand. Only in one case—that of stored beef—do the figures show any material drop as compared with the corresponding period in 1917.

The Detail Figures.

A comparison of the principal items of food in storage on Oct. 31 of this year and Nov. 30, 1917 [figures denoting pounds], follows:

	Oct. 31, '18.	Nov. 30, '17.
Beef	98,921,115	127,963,268
Mutton and lamb	3,473,276	1,583,622
Pork	7,159,206	27,437,255
Fish	6,619,233	11,149,378
Chickens	8,534,398	9,495,537
Turkeys	1,346,589	324,817
Misc. poultry	4,184,604	3,325,263
Game	2,415	5,707
Eggs [cases]	344,569	832,408
Eggs [frozen]	3,073,007	4,121,535
Butter [creamery]	13,310,654	15,140,237
Butter, packing stock	168,158	1,522,477

It was pointed out yesterday that the comparisons would even be more favorable to the consuming public in several commodities were the comparisons of Nov. 30, 1917, with those of Nov. 30, 1918. This is particularly true in meat products, as storage stocks are highest in the early winter months. Eggs and butter stocks at this time are normally being "eaten into."

Why the Increase?

Assistant United States Attorney Frederick Dickinson, who is in charge of the federal investigation into prices, said yesterday that he would ask officials of the food administration the reason for authorizing an advance in the price of butter 2 cents a pound and the price of eggs 3 cents a dozen. This was announced in Monday's price bulletin. He also said that federal operatives are now canvassing wholesalers and retailers of the city.

"So far there has been a constant 'passing of the buck' by those who have been called in for explanations," Mr. Dickinson said. "That course will be headed off somewhere, shortly. There is some 'bottom' to this situation and we propose to find it."

Draft Boards Are Not Needed for Muster Out

Local exemption boards will not be used to assist in the demobilization of American troops, according to information received yesterday from Provost Marshal General Crowder.

OGDEN AVENUE EXTENSION PLAN WINS APPROVAL

Property Owners Satisfied to Pay Cost of Improvement.

Favorable prospects for carrying out the proposed Ogden avenue extension, a widening and continuation of Ogden avenue from Union park to Lincoln park, were held out yesterday at a meeting of property owners called by the board of local improvements.

Except that of Ald. E. F. Cullerton, not a voice was raised against the improvement. Ald. Cullerton said with the Michigan avenue and Twelfth street improvements, property owners had enough special assessments to pay. Several hundred property owners attended the hearing.

Faherty Explains Plan.

M. J. Faherty, president of the board, explained the improvement. He said it meant the opening up of a much needed thoroughfare from the west to the north side.

Charles H. Wacker, chairman of the Chicago plan commission, urged the property owners to approve the plan. He said it meant work for returning soldiers, and ought to be a start on the city's proposed period of after war reconstruction work.

"A large area of property along the route of this improvement has been stagnant," said Mr. Wacker. "It has been so because it lacks proper connection with attractively developed sections of the city.

Plan Twenty Years Old.

"This improvement should have been started twenty years ago, when it was first proposed. It is needed more than ever now. The estimated cost is $4,649,000, of which $3,000,000 is for land and buildings and the balance for bridges, subways, and paving.

"Now that the war is over and during the reconstruction period, which doubtless will cover five years, more than ever do we need public improvements of a character that will give the people work, more light, air, recreation, health, and freedom from congestion. People want work, not charity."

The proposed extension is to be 108 feet wide.

Another public meeting of property owners has been called for Jan. 8.

HOYNE ASKS FOR WRIT AGAINST SIX CENT FARE

Files Information in Chancery Before Circuit Court.

State's Attorney Hoyne yesterday instituted court proceedings to annul the 6 cent fare on the elevated railroads of Chicago and to compel them to restore the former 5 cent rate. Mr. Hoyne's court action was an information in chancery filed in the Circuit court by his assistant, Henry A. Berger.

Mr. Berger announced last night that he would appear before one of the judges in the court today and ask for a temporary injunction restraining the companies from collecting the new fare advance which was granted to them by order of the state public utilities commission.

Application was made during the afternoon for a temporary injunction before Judge Pinckney. A crowded calendar prevented an immediate hearing in his court, the jurist said, and the state's attorney then appealed to Chief Justice George F. Barrett. An effort will be made to get a hearing before Judge Kickham Scanlan.

In his information Mr. Hoyne challenged the right of the state public utilities commission to raise rates of fare. He cited in support of his contention excerpts from the state constitution which prohibit the general assembly from granting street railroads the right to operate in cities without the consent of local authorities. He denied the right of the assembly to release or extinguish liabilities or obligations of corporations to municipal corporations.

Attorney Gilbert M. Porter, representing the "L" lines, said last night that the answer to Mr. Hoyne's contentions would be that "Every contract is subject to the paramount power of the state."

YANK AND TOMMY 50-50; CIVILIANS MISUNDERSTAND

Officer Who "Ironed Out Anglo Wrinkles" Tells of the Task.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"The problem of British and Americans misunderstanding one another melted away when American soldiers stood up to fight and die beside British," said Lieut. Coningsby Dawson today.

Liason officer between the American and British armies was the commission which was given to Lieut. Dawson of the Canadian field artillery, an Englishman by birth and an American by long years of residence in Newark, N. J. He was chosen by the two fighting forces as an interpreter of the spirit of one to the other. For months he lived with them both, translated the British coldness into the language of the fresh and thrilled Americans, retranslated American love of doing the job well into the language of the army which has died like sportsmen, and then he wrote "Out to win."

Resentment Crops Out.

"The British army had been fighting two years and a half before we went in," Mr. Dawson says. "They resented our laggard ways. We went in fresh from our prosperous peace, but we went in with all of our souls. We resented their resentment. It seemed a big problem, shattering that barrier—a barrier with countless other misunderstandings to strengthen it—but it melted away.

"Not so the problem of the British and American civilian misunderstanding. That problem is as great as it has ever been; greater at this moment perhaps than in those bitter days before America went into the fight. And the fault is with America, Lieut. Dawson says. He says it sorrowfully and not in any spirit of fault finding. We simply do not understand what England has done in the war, he says, what all American soldiers know.

No Criticism of America.

"Take the matter of criticism, for instance," he says. "Since America entered the war there has not been one word in the British press in criticism of the American policy. England has done everything for the sake of a permanent understanding with America. While the American newspapers were full of the most disgraceful disclosures about the airplane situation, the English press was letting it be taken that Americans were flying American planes on the western front. No word of that scandal reached English ears officially. Two-thirds of the convoy of American troops was the work of England. Great English houses have been turned over unreservedly for the exclusive use of American soldiers. Whole towns have been given to the Americans, always a gift of the whole heart.

"When I was in England I thought that the Anglo-American alliance had been accomplished, so completely has England been won by the fighting men of America. When I arrived in America I found the same bitter civilian misunderstanding of the British that had been here when I left to go to the front in 1915. American civilians still think that Great Britain has saved her man power, that France and American won the war, and that the British did nothing. You'll never find an American soldier thinking that.

Wait Till Men Return!

"When the men come home they're going to resent with their fists, fists trained to speak resentment forcefully. We have lived in trenches together. We have looked into the face of death, bayonet beside bayonet. The peace which we, the fighting men of the world, will demand will not be a peace of misunderstanding."

Lieut. Dawson will lecture on "The Soldiers' Peace" at Orchestra hall Friday evening for the benefit of the Serbian relief, under the auspices of the American Fund for French Wounded.

State Council of Defense Starts to Demobilize

The Illinois State Council of Defense, organized as a wartime body, officially ended its activities yesterday. While a "skeleton" organization will be maintained for emergency purposes until peace is proclaimed, the Council will "liquidate" itself as soon as circumstances will permit.

This announcement was made yesterday by Samuel Insull, chairman, in a bulletin officially dissolving the counties' auxiliary, neighborhood committees, county executive committees, county finance committee, and nonwar construction bureau and the commercial economy administration. Members of these auxiliary organizations are "honorably discharged" from further service.

Some to Remain.

Some of the departments of the State Council, notably the publicity committee, the food production and conservation committee, the boys' working reserve, the license bureau, the unified bureau of public speakers, the advisory committees, and the highways transport committee, will be maintained for the time being because or unfinished work. The same is true of the woman's committee.

That the exceptional organization work which has been carried on throughout the state during wartime will not be permitted to die, the council has made a plea that the various county organizations resolve themselves into peace bodies to deal with civic problems.

To Stimulate Citizenship.

"We venture to express the hope and suggestion," the bulletin says, "that though no longer officially representing the State Council of Defense, a certain form of organization might be maintained to deal with local civic problems and to stimulate all such home activities as tend toward the development of a higher standard of citizenship."

In stating that under the law the existence of the state council will continue and offices will be maintained at 120 West Adams street until peace is proclaimed Chairman Insull says that the council, regarding itself purely as a war body, created to help prosecute the war and help maintain civilian morale, will undertake no new tasks.

"The signing of the armistice, the practical ending of the war, marks the accomplishment of those purposes for which the State Council was organized," says the bulletin.

Performed Many Tasks.

"The conduct of the war brought to the State Council and to its county committees a multitude of tasks of great diversity, and we think we may all congratulate ourselves that those tasks have been performed loyally, conscientiously, and with great singleness of purpose. An organization has been built up in nearly all of the counties of the state which has successfully dealt with the problems of molding and stimulating the patriotic sentiment of the public and the maintaining of civilian morale; the conservation of food, fuel, and other resources; assisting in volunteer enlistment in the army and navy; the placement of labor; combatting of sedition and disloyalty; assisting in the campaigns for the sale of Liberty bonds and War Savings stamps, and the collection of funds for the Red Cross and other accredited war relief activities.

"These tasks throughout the state have been performed by volunteers who have sacrificed their time, energy, and money, with no hope of reward but the satisfaction of having performed a patriotic duty and of having served their country in time of need."

Protest Abandonment of Police Station

Several protests were made yesterday to the city council committee on schools, fire, police, and civil service against the abandonment of the West Thirty-fifth street police station.

E. W. Sproul, head of a contracting firm whose offices are in the Central Manufacturing district, told the committee that since the station was closed the concern's weekly pay roll, amounting sometimes to $60,000, has been guarded by soldiers.

400 BUSINESS BOARDS DISCUSS RECONSTRUCTION

Atlantic City, N. J., Dec. 3.—Business men here to attend the reconstruction congress, called by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, which opens tomorrow, met today to consider policies and proposals. There were nearly 400 meetings of war service committees, representing virtually every business and industry.

There seemed to be a general agreement that business must proceed cautiously in bringing about the after the war readjustment, that there should be no sudden dumping of products on the market, that labor should be steadily employed, that there should be no effort made by the government in arbitrarily fixing prices, and that business should be permitted, to a large extent, to work out its own reconstruction problems.

A. C. Bedford of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey and chairman of the national petroleum war service committee, said he did not fear that there will be idleness among labor through inability to provide sufficient employment, but rather that there will not be enough labor. "Statistics show a large percentage of foreign laborers in this country are preparing to go to their native countries," he said. "I doubt if this will be offset by Europeans coming to this country."

ILLINOIS FIRMS WILL ESTABLISH EXPORT BUREAU

Manufacturers Act to Enlarge Trade in Alien Field.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Plans of the Illinois Manufacturers' association to establish export bureaus in Washington and New York were disclosed here today upon the return from Chicago of H. W. Finnell, manager of the Washington bureau of the association since the United States entered the war.

The proposal is to maintain the Washington war bureau, which placed $110,000,000 worth of government war contracts in Illinois, and to convert it into a permanent export bureau to work in the interest of Illinois manufacturers.

Urge Export Trade.

Export trade for manufacturers of the middle west is being agitated by all experts who have come in intimate touch with world trade conditions and industrial readjustments. Discussion of this question at a recent meeting in Chicago of the war industries bureau of the Illinois Manufacturers' association resulted in the birth of the plan to aid the manufacturers to seize upon foreign trade opportunities.

"I have just returned from Chicago," said Mr. Finnell tonight, "where I was called to a meeting of the war industries bureau of the Illinois Manufacturers' association. The purpose of this meeting was to discuss the termination of government contracts, the proposed reconstruction program, and export possibilities.

Combine on Sales.

"While these manufacturers are at the present time busily engaged in working out their own reconstruction problems for domestic business and the readjustment of their organization for the purpose of manufacturing their pre-war products, the interest shown in export possibilities was surprising.

"The executive committee was authorized to take immediate steps to open an export bureau, under the auspices of the Illinois Manufacturers' association, and in all probability this bureau will maintain offices both in New York and Washington."

Why Not a Detroit for Christmas?

¶ It's certainly a sensible gift suggestion. But we counsel an early selection, as the present demand exceeds the far future supply. A few recently completed are unusual combinations of individualized motor smartness, luxury and speed.

IMPORTANT—There has been no war time price inflation on Detroit Electrics—consequently present prices are fixed for some time—based on present and early 1919 labor and material conditions.

¶ To successfully meet the demand for a car reflecting individual selection and which assures utility—dependability—low upkeep—ease of operation and positive control—is a severe test for any car.

But a demonstration, by appointment, will quickly prove Detroit supremacy.

LIEUT. APPLEGATE AERIAL VICTIM AFTER WAR'S END

Young Chicagoan Had Commission Only a Few Days.

Four days after the world was rejoicing at the signing of the armistice, Lieut. Paul Robert Applegate, was killed in France. His death was the result of an airplane accident.

Applegate was a student at Northwestern university dental college when the United States entered the war. He left school to enlist in the aviation corps. His first training was received at Champaign. He went to France and was attached to the One Hundred and Thirteenth aero squadron. A few days before the armistice was signed, Applegate was commissioned. His Chicago home was at 4627 North Paulina street.

Ensign Sprague Killed.

Word has been received of the death of Ensign William G. Sprague, son of William C. Sprague, secretary of the Commercial Law League of America. Ensign Sprague was a member of the naval air forces stationed in France. His death occurred Oct. 26 when his plane fouled in landing. Previous to the accident he had attacked and destroyed an enemy submarine. The French commander of the naval forces conferred a decoration on Ensign Sprague, reading the citation in a funeral address. Letters of sympathy have been received from Admiral Mayo and other high commanders in France.

Regimental Sergt. Maj. Clair Graham died yesterday of injuries sustained in a football game at Camp Sevier, S. C. He was in the Forty-eighth infantry and had seen service in Japan, China, the Philippines, and Mexico. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Graham of 9710 Avenue L.

Word has been received that Lieut. Earl L. Wall of Company K, One Hundred and Thirty-second infantry, is dead of wounds in France.

Three Comrades Wounded.

Three Evanston boys, known to their friends as "the three musketeers," who enlisted at the same time in the One Hundred and Thirty-second infantry, were all wounded on Oct. 10, and are now in hospitals in France. The soldiers are Raymond C. Galitz, 819 Madison street; Bradley Marthens, 731 Lincoln street, and Albert Farr, 1806 Wesley avenue. They were chums in Evanston prior to the war.

Private Adolph F. Nelson, a member of Col. Charles H. Green's One Hundred and Twenty-ninth infantry, died of wounds Nov. 20, according to word received by his brother yesterday. He lived at 5101 North Lincoln street.

When the United States entered the war Paul W. Morency was a student of Lewis institute. He was a member of the Lewis football team and had been on that of the Oak Park High school. When the One Hundred and Forty-ninth field artillery was mustered into the service Morency tried to join. He was only 17 years old, but he got in. He fought through all its engagements and a few days before the end he was wounded. The information reached his relatives yesterday.

Lieut. Nortman Wounded.

Lieut. Le Roy F. Nortman of 5506 South State street was severely wounded Oct. 24, according to word received by relatives yesterday. He was a member of Company M, One Hundred and Thirteenth infantry.

Harry N. Malmborg, a member of the machine gun company of the One Hundred and Thirtieth infantry, was wounded the latter part of October. He lived at 48063 North Sawyer avenue with his mother, before enlisting. A brother, E. A. Malmborg, is with the American forces in Siberia.

Master Signal Electrician Ben Rothschild of the Four Hundred and Eighteenth telegraph battalion died of pneumonial, while on his way to France, Sept. 25. His Chicago address was 5441 Prairie avenue.

Oskar Jelling, a decorator, formerly in the employ of J. Ogden Armour at Lake Forest, died of disease in France. He was born in Denmark and spent four years in Germany prior to the war. He was drafted in September, 1917, and attached to the engineer corps.

Robert W. Peterson of the One Hundred and Thirty-first infantry was gassed and wounded in France shortly before the armistice was signed. He formerly lived at 5487 Ridgeway avenue. He trained with the regiment in Texas and went to France in May, 1917.

The list today carries the names of forty-six Chicagoans killed, wounded, or missing in action.

Flag Verse Not Nesbit's, Says Widow in Threat to Sue

Who wrote "Your Flag and My Flag"?

G. Raymond Collins, attorney, has served notice on Wilbur D. Nesbit, poet, that he is preparing to file suit against him for Mrs. Olive B. Montgomery, who claims that Dr. Liston Homer Montgomery, her deceased husband, was author of the verses.

Two versions are on the market. One version, with Mr. Nesbit's name as author, is published by P. F. Volland & Co., Chicago, under a 1916 copyright. This year a similar poem was printed by Bernard & Miller.

Mr. Nesbit, admitting that he was somewhat annoyed, offered his verses yesterday which, he said, were originally printed in the Baltimore American in 1902. He also points out that they were published in "The Trail to Boyland," a book of his printed in 1904 by Bobbs-Merrill.

The Nesbit Verses.

He offered his verses in proof, one of them as follows:

Your flag and my flag,
  And how it flies today
In your land and my land
  And half a world away!
Rose-red and blood-red
  The stripes forever gleam:
Snow white and soul-white—
  The good forefathers' dream;
Sky-blue and true-blue, with stars to gleam aright—.
The gloried guidon of the day, a shelter through the night.

The first two stanzas of the Nesbit and Montgomery versions are exactly alike, with the exception of a word or two changed. The Montgomery verses have another stanza.

Other Amateurish, He Says.

Mr. Nesbit pointed it out, saying: "The third stanza of the Montgomery version is pitifully amateurish in construction and wholly fails to harmonize with the other two. It does not conform in any way to the style as to meter and rhyme. It is palpably an attempt to imitate."

The stanza which Mr. Nesbit thus criticizes is as follows:

My flag and your flag,
    how dear it is to me!
Noblest flag of any clime,
    with stripes of red sublime.
And snowy stars in azure blue,
    all this is said of you.
Flag of peace, one we love,
    pure and sweet as Heaven above,
Flag of white, blue, and red,
    known throughout the world, 'tis said.
The only flag for you and me,
    in our fair land and on the sea.

Calls Them Copied.

"I might add that Dr. Montgomery was a good friend of mine," said Mr. Nesbit, "a very pleasant old gentleman—and he used to drop me a cordial note occasionally regarding various things I wrote. I have an idea that Dr. Montgomery may have copied a stanza or two of the flag verses with the idea of suggesting an elaboration of the theme, and that this manuscript was found after his death. I do not know about this, of course."

Dr. Montgomery died in 1916.

RED CROSS ASKS FOR MILLION CITY MEMBERS

Campaign in Chicago from Dec. 16 to Dec. 25.

One million Chicagoans are expected to answer the Red Cross Christmas roll call. This roll call will start on Dec. 16 and will continue until Christmas. It will be the object of the campaign committee of the Red Cross to have the roll call unanimous.

Stanley Field is to be general chairman of the call. He will be assisted by Darby H. Day and members of the executive committee of the Red Cross.

This announcement was made by Marquis Eaton, general chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross, yesterday at the annual meeting of the chapter.

"The Chicago chapter has been asked by the war council to do one special piece of work which may well occupy us for the present to the exclusion of all other Red Cross interests," said Mr. Eaton in his annual address. "We are asked for its bearing on peace program of our nation to enroll a million persons for the Christmas roll call. This roll call will start on Dec. 16, and the directors of the Chicago campaign are urging the chapter organization to do everything humanly possible to make the roll call unanimous.

"A day will be devoted to formal registration at election polling places, and we are expected to furnish a substantial portion of the 20,000 workers to man the polls for this Red Cross enrollment.

The work of the chapter was summarized at the meeting by Mr. Eaton as being the greatest work of any chapter of the American Red Cross. In closing his address he said that the $2,500,000 retained for the administration has not only grown into $4,000,000 worth of supplies for the army and navy, and has equipped four base hospital units and ambulance and special units, but has rendered service to the men and their families.

The meeting was attended by about 2,000 people. Signaler Tom Skey Hill, the famous Australian poet, who was twice wounded, spoke.

CHICAGO JEWS ASK PRESIDENT TO STOP POGROMS

The Chicago Federation of Synagogues met at the Standard club last night, elected officers, and passed a resolution which will be forwarded to President Wilson, Secretary Lansing, and to the senators from Illinois. The resolution says:

> "The Chicago Federation of Synagogues, in a meeting assembled, notes with grief the reports of massacres of Jews in Poland, Galicia, Roumania, and other lands, and calls upon the authorities of our country to use their good offices in checking these outrages and in safeguarding at the coming peace conference the rights and liberties of all religious and national minorities throughout the world."

The officers of the organization are: B. M. Engelhard, president; Israel Cowen, vice president; Nathan Herzog, treasurer; Dr. Felix A. Levy, secretary.

SALOON CASE WITNESSES GONE.

Because of the absence of soldier witnesses who were to testify against the saloonkeepers arrested last January for violation of the Sunday closing law, Judge Graham yesterday dismissed the cases against twenty alleged violators. In the majority of cases the missing witnesses, who were civilians at the time of the saloon arrests, are now in the service.

The Wings of Youth
By Elizabeth Jordan

He was a ne'er-do-well . . . rich and bored with life. But his sister knew that he had the real thing in him, so she put him to the test—a big, vital one, in which she herself shared. Only an author with a broad sympathy for youth and its strivings could have written such an unusual story.

The Brooklyn Eagle says: "The plot is quite original . . . the character drawing is excellent and the struggles of a boy and girl to earn a living in New York are well depicted. The book holds the interest of the reader to the last page."

The New York World says: "We wish all young strugglers . . . could have half the luck of those in Miss Jordan's cheerful and capital story."

AMERICA AND THE WORLD POLICY.

In one part of his address to congress President Wilson said, with reference to the naval building program recommended for appropriations:

"It would be clearly unwise for us to attempt to adjust our programs to a future world policy as yet undetermined."

We hope that the significance of this observation is one of real indication of conviction in the president's mind, that it will prevail in congressional action, and that it will be spread out to cover all the needs and prospects of the United States.

The president's specific reference was to the necessity of going ahead with the navy building program as devised before we entered the war. We could ask for an amplification of the advice to cover all the requirements of the United States, requirements which deal with its own responsibility for the character and security of its citizenship.

We not only believe that this principle ought to apply to the navy but that it ought to apply to the army. We believe that the United States should be strong in its own right, and that it can be strong without threatening an invasion of the peace of the world, a disturbance of any international agreements; without finding itself in discord, but finding itself merely sufficient if discord came.

We believe that there should be not only a reserve toward a future world policy not yet determined but a reserve toward a world policy determined but not proved.

We not only do not know what the world policy will be, but when we do know what it will be we shall not know how it will operate. We do know that the United States is not a provocative nation and will not become one. Its diplomacy will not offer incitements to war. Its diplomacy always will endeavor to find ways out of war.

If the new world policy is one which promises guaranties for peace there will be no act of the United States to threaten the beneficent condition. But even when we know what the policies are we do not know whether they will prevail. We cannot know how they will stand the test of experience.

We do know that if the United States will continue to build the navy which it has under construction and in its program, and if it will keep the wonderful army establishment which it has—if it will put its young men under military instruction—it will be safe and secure.

We know that if the United States is strong in its own right it will not less be a willing subscriber to new world policies. We know that if the policies fail it will be able to take care of itself.

We have everything to gain and nothing to lose by remaining strong. We have everything to lose and nothing to gain by lapsing into weakness.

If we cannot trust now to a world program which has not been defined we cannot wholly trust later to a program which has been defined and has not been tested.

If we obtain universal military training, retain our military equipment, organization, and material, we can face the future confidently, hopeful that the best plans of altruists will work, secure if they do not work.

THE COUNTY SALARY BOOST.

Mr. Reinberg should be commended for vetoing the salary increase for the members of the county board. The commissioners apparently presumed they were underpaid. In any event they not only voted themselves a salary increase amounting to $1,400 but were able to muster enough votes to pass that increase over the president's veto.

The work of the county commissioners has never seemed extremely arduous. It is certainly not more burdensome than that of the city council, and to the outsider it would seem that $3,600, which is more than the salary of an alderman, is pretty fairly adequate compensation.

We do not think the public will be satisfied to pay $5,000 a year for a service which, if it could not be dispensed with under present conditions, could nevertheless be performed by other existing agencies. The various reports of the Chicago Bureau of Public Efficiency have demonstrated that by consolidating county and city offices we might hope not only to effect substantial economies but likewise to improve the character of the service rendered. The action of the county commissioners in raising their own salaries does not inspire a belief that we should retain the county government as a separate entity.

TAXATION IN 1920.

Mr. Wilson has reiterated the opinion of Mr. McAdoo that congress ought to pass a tax law covering the years 1919 and 1920. Mr. Wilson assumes that business will be less disturbed if a two years' tax bill is passed by a Democratic congress than if the Republicans are allowed next year to take a hand in the matter.

We may suppose that if settled conditions prevailed it would be preferable to prepare our tax laws for two or three years ahead. In times of peace we always avoided that kind of legislation. Now, after the war is over, now that the world is in flux, it seems desirable—from the Democratic point of view—to legislate for the future.

Mr. Wilson's assumption must be based on the idea that the Democrats are more trustworthy than the Republicans in legislation of this kind. The voters of this country chose a Republican congress at the election. In casting their ballots for Republicans they expressed their faith in the Republican party. If the Republicans are not capable of drafting a tax law in 1920, the blame will lie on the voters—and not on Mr. Wilson.

It has not been proved, moreover, that either business men of this country or the great mass of the voters are afraid of the Republican party. They have indicated their desire that the Republicans should control congress. And it would seem that if their desire is to prevail the Republicans should be allowed to exercise their influence in the preparation of tax legislation.

CONGRESS AND RECONSTRUCTION.

It will be admitted, we assume, even by Mr. Wilson's most pronounced admirers that his strongest claim to confidence is not as an executive. From the beginning of his presidency he has seemed to turn with something like impatience from executive problems and to resent any invasion on their behalf of his preoccupation with those broader issues of policy in which he has figured so conspicuously. His method has been to appoint agents, with none too much care and circumspection, and to place partisan reliance upon their efficiency. This has brought the country and its cause to the brink of disaster on several occasions, but it would seem that Mr. Wilson learned little or nothing from these embarrassments, for we now have him adopting a complacent attitude of laissez faire toward the problems of reconstruction and departing for Europe with the blithe assurance that matters will take care of themselves.

This presents a situation full of peril for the whole country. Business wrenched from its normal forms and channels by the harsh exigencies of war cannot so readily return to them. The government forced it to meet new duties and adopt new conditions. The government's aid is absolutely necessary to assist the restoration of a normal situation.

Mr. Wilson obviously looks upon this vast problem with vague eyes. He tells us that the agencies which were improvised for the conduct of war will serve to conduct us back to peace. They were created by him in the main, sometimes tardily and generally without foresight or grasp of the conditions they were created to deal with. His present confidence in them, we cannot believe, has any basis of concrete knowledge or careful consideration.

We do not think so serious a group of problems ought to be treated in so cavalier a manner, and we trust congress will take up without any delay the duty Mr. Wilson has slighted. Reconstruction will not take care of itself. On the contrary, it calls for the prompt exercise of our best thought and the organization of competent agencies to deal with its many difficulties. At present official Washington is in confusion. This is an ominous fact. Washington ought to be the center of national guidance and support. It has been the center of the greatest concentration of effort in our history. It must preside over the solution.

Mr. Wilson opposed efficient coördination and such as was arrived at came after costly and dangerous delays, only under the most overwhelming pressure. We have him again objecting to a broad and systematic treatment of our transitional stage, and we must rely upon congress to make up for his executive blindness.

Several plans already have appeared in congress, some of them very promising. We hope they will be taken up at once and the best possible adopted.

SEE THE SOLDIER THROUGH.

Most of the men in the army were taken from their homes. They should be returned to their homes. It is a slipshod policy that efficiently proposes and negligently disposes. The government plan of registration and induction was thorough and efficient. The men were maintained in discipline and protected against habitual evils by a fine system of welfare agencies. And now, after all these safeguards have been thrown about them in ranks, they are to be dismissed willy nilly, far from their homes, out of distant cantonments, fresh from discipline, money in their pockets, and a prey to every yawning vice.

Discharges from service should be given at the point of entrance. If a soldier went into service through a registration board, there is where he should leave it. The official agency that prepared the way for his service should welcome him home, give him some token of his worth, and continue to see that his life is not beset by the hazards of sudden readjustment.

It should be no more trouble for the war department to order discharges at exemption headquarters than in cantonments. Men received in the cantonments have only to be kept under orders and directed to return, still as soldiers of the army, to their points of induction. Here they can be honorably discharged among their friends and will receive the greeting and welcome due them. They were sent into service with celebration. Let them be so returned.

Half a million men suddenly released from camps over the United States may not all get back to their home districts without unfortunate adventures. But the degree of certainty will be increased if the war department simply undoes what it has done. It does not seem efficient to work out a fine plan of action only to drop it when the end has been achieved. Broadaly speaking, the war department is sending the soldiers home, but the manner is haphazard and not in keeping with the diligence with which the men were called.

Editorial of the Day

THE END NOT IN SIGHT.

[From the American Army Gazette.]

The demobilization of the army will be a severer test of the morale of the country than that which was incident to placing it in the field. "The war is over" will be the cry that will come from every home, "and my boy should be sent home." It is a question whether the people generally will be as deeply interested in adjusting the affairs of Europe as they were in whipping the kaiser.

Yet, at this time, the end is not in sight. The war has ended at a most unfortunate season. Europe begins the winter with a food shortage which in ordinary times would be regarded as a famine. The Austrian empire has collapsed and the cables indicate that there is a revolution in Germany. The same condition exists throughout Russia and the Balkans. Only by a strict ration system can continental Europe be fed. According to reliable information the allies are virtually demanding that the United States army take hold of the situation.

Those who are acquainted with the present condition of Europe do not believe that the American army as a whole can be relieved from service in Europe within a year. This means that a larger part of the war machinery of the United States must be kept in motion for at least a year. As stated in another column, officers who are on duty at Washington, who are anxious to return to civil life, have been informed that their services will be required for at least a year and a half. This will not apply to all officers, but a large proportion of those who expect to leave the service will be retained for a year or more. The same is true as to enlisted men, and it will be some time before there is a material reduction in the strength of the Expeditionary Forces.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may.

GOOD morning! Have you filed your complaint against Mr. Hohenzollern?

MR. HOHENZOLLERN'S status is said to be that of a pirate. And all the time he thought, like Frederick, that he was a pilot.

TURKEY would like to be a ward of the United States, and no doubt Samuel is willing to be an uncle to the Turk. The latter, however, will be required to discontinue the practice of slaughtering Armenians, in and out of season. True, the hunting of Armenians is the Turkish equivalent of golf or baseball, but outside of Turkey there is a sentimental prejudice against the sport.

Rawther Nawsty of Edgar.

Sir: Edgar Lee Masters has held up to ridicule Oak Park, its people, and its fine Christian moral standards. I refer to his free verses in the New Republic of Nov. 23, entitled "Spoon River Revisited." Some time ago Mr. Masters called on Alfred MacArthur of this community, and everybody here knows that in the poem referred to he is making fun of Oak Park. Can't you call public attention to this?
A CHRISTIAN CITIZEN.

ANNOUNCEMENT that the New Field Museum has been discontinued as a hospital reminds us to remind you that the Old Field Museum is still doing business at the original stand. It is not very well patronized, despite its wealth of exhibits; people are much more afraid of catching knowledge than of catching the flu. Should you decide to visit the Museum before you die, you will find it more convenient to do it now than later, as the building is still on an accessible site.

AFTERGLOW.

When western ranges claim the sun,
And trailing color play is done,
Illumined skies remain to show
The fleeting shades of afterglow.

Turn, Islamite, where eyes may feast
As cloudy masses in the east
Are toned by hues that ebb and flow—
The fleeting shades of afterglow.

Then hail the light, of source unseen,
A tardy, all-enfolding sheen—
Look well; in startling swiftness go
The fleeting shades of afterglow.

Sir: While trying on a hunting boot, recently dry-docked with an Italian cobbler, I had difficulty in inserting my "triblies," and on investigating found the boot half full of uncooked macaroni. I do not wish to offend one of our allies by returning the macaroni, as it may have been intended as a Christmas remembrance, and Mr. Hoover forbids feeding it to the goldfish. Shall I wait and see if it is charged with the repairs, or what do you advise?

MR. PROKOFIEFF appears this week with the Symphony orchestra as conductor, composer, and pianist. BEATING FATHER TIME.

DR. J. M. TAYLOR, a physician over 60 years of age, gives us his method of getting in condition. As a young college man he tried to go in for those athletics which make for a long and capable life rather than for attaining supremacy in the contests of the athletic field. Before long he had gotten into an active medical practice with its unequal demands, its routine destroying occupations, and its unnecessary fatigues, and it became imperative for him to interrupt the program laid down in his youth.

Later he was able to readjust his year's work so that he was permitted a long vacation on the northeast coast of Maine, among the mountains, hills, and by the sea, in which he undertook to get himself into condition after his winter of neglect.

His criterion was the reaction between heart, lungs, and muscles, or, to put it simply, he judged his condition by the amount he was winded after doing a certain physical stunt. He would climb a near-by hill and at the top he would count his pulse and respiration, note the character of the breathing and heartbeat and the time required for these organs to settle down to normal. As he gets older he finds that climbing this hill winds him a little worse each year, but by carefully regulated exercises he gets his wind and endurance back within a few weeks.

This is his method: He rides a bicycle along some attractive road for a couple of hours in the morning, or he rides to a hill, puts on moccasins, takes up a cudgel, and climbs some gentle mountain slope to an elevation of 500 to 1,500 feet. As he climbs he stops every few feet and draws a few quiet breaths. He uses the cudgel to strike at bushes or pound on trees or rocks. In this way he exercises the muscles of his arms and torso. He thinks striking around with a cudgel is superior to golf. After a bit he finds that he has wind, his muscles are firm, and his joints bend freely.

He also tells of a business man who at 52 was successful, sound organically, large, and powerful. But he was too heavy and was disposed to develop minor ills, such as colds, stiff joints, and what he called touches of rheumatism. At 65 he was a model of vigor, endurance, resistance to colds and disease, and capable of accomplishing much more than at 52. His joints were supple and his muscles had tone.

He began his day by exercising when nearly nude in his bathroom. His exercises were simple. They consisted in bending most of his joints and using most of his muscles mildly. He rubbed his skin with brushes and with his hands. Gradually he lowered the temperature of the bathroom until he was taking his exercise in a cold bathroom with the window open.

When opportunity offered he supplemented his more systematic exercises with long walks. He changed his diet to milk, fruits, vegetables, nuts, and breads made from whole grains ground in his kitchen in his own hand mill.

NERVOUS HABITS.

P. W. M. writes: "What is hysteria and its cause? What treatment should be given to cure the patient? Is the person who causes herself to become nervous over everything exciting hysterical? What causes a person to get nervous and all worked up when going away from home or when some one comes to her home? Is it because the nerves are in so poor a condition that the person cannot control herself, or is it the person's own self?"

REPLY.

Hysteria is a type or condition of mind. Mental hygiene is a neglected subject and minds just grow like Topsy. In consequence, some minds acquire neurasthenia habits, others hysteria habits, others the "nervous" habit. There is but one remedy for any or all of these conditions, and that is education, training, and discipline.

BRAN A PANACEA.

E. M. T. writes: "In the winter of 1906-07, at the age of 36, I acquired a severe case of bronchial asthma. It was preceded, during several winters, by severe colds, which finally developed into a cough every night for a month, and then spells of asthma followed. Then nearly four years were spent searching for relief. Many systems and theories of medical treatment were tried, and changes of climate, such as Florida, Atlantic City, Michigan, New Mexico, and Colorado, all without success. Enormous quantities of coffee and cocoa or hypodermic doses of adrenalin gave temporary relief, but in time all these lost their effect. Fasting ten to fourteen days, and also radical and more or less impracticable changes in diet, gave relief which warranted a return to work, but no cure. Finally, more than two years ago, I began eating bran. Good effects were immediate, and from the start all asthma disappeared. The cure has been as complete as could be desired, and without modifying usual habits of living. At first a teacup or more of bran was taken twice per day, morning and evening, in any food that would moisten it sufficiently. Now an eggcup full or a little more once or twice a day seems sufficient."

REPLY.

Asthma is sometimes due to one cause and sometimes to another. Full doses of bran will fail with some cases. But trying it will harm no one.

GOITER AND IODINE.

L. E. H. writes: "I have heard that white iodine is a sure cure for goiter. Is this true? Is there any danger of burning the skin if it is applied very carefully?"

REPLY.

Some forms of goiter are the result of a lack of iodine in the system. Painting iodine on the neck may be good, but the taking of iodine internally is better. The taking of iodine has considerable power to prevent goiter. It has some, but not much, power to cure it. Most cases of goiter will not be benefited by it.

GRANULATED EYELIDS.

E. G. S. writes: "Would you kindly publish in your column a treatment for granulated eyelids?"

REPLY.

Washing with a saturated solution of boric acid will do as well as anything. Granulated lids may and often do mean trachoma. You had better see a physician. Aside from the possibility of trachoma, home treatment of granulated lids is reasonably certain to be ineffective.

ALLIES SAVED US; AID THEM, T. R. SAYS

New York, Dec. 3.—Asserting that the United States had not done nearly as much as the British navy and the British, French, and Italian armies to bring about the downfall of Germany, Theodore Roosevelt declared in a statement here tonight that it is "our business to stand by our allies at the peace conference."

He declared it "sheer nonsense" to say the American army was fighting for President Wilson's famous "fourteen points." He made the assertion that "there was not one American soldier in every thousand who ever heard of them."

"The British empire imperatively needs the greatest navy in the world and this we should instantly concede," the colonel said. "Our need for a great navy comes next to hers, and we should have the second navy in the world. Similarly France needs greater military strength than we do, but we should have all our young men trained to arms, on the general lines of the Swiss system.

"The 'freedom of the seas' is a phrase that may mean anything or nothing. If it is to be interpreted as Germany interprets it, it is thoroughly mischievous. There must be no interpretation of the phrase that would prevent the English navy in the event of any future war from repeating the tremendous service it has rendered in this war.

"The British must of course keep the colonies they have conquered.

"As for this nation, it must keep its absolute economic independence and raise or lower its economic barriers as its interests demand, for we have to look after the welfare of our own workingman. We must insist on the preservation of the Monroe doctrine. We must keep the right to close the Panama canal to our enemies in wartime and we must not undertake to interfere in European, Asiatic, or African matters with which we ought to have properly no concern."

Declaring that "President Wilson has not given the slightest explanation of what his views are or why he is going abroad," the colonel asserted "he is himself responsible for any division among the American people as regards the peace conference at this time."

"He has never permitted the American people to pass on his peace proposals, nor has he ever made those proposals clear and straightforward. As for the fourteen points, so far as the American people have expressed any opinion upon them, it was on Nov. 5, when they rejected them," he continued, adding that "the American army was fighting to smash Germany," and "the American people wanted Germany smashed."

"The allies have never accepted the fourteen points," he continued; "the United States has never accepted them. Germany and Austria enthusiastically accepted them. Here certain individuals, including President Wilson, Mr. Hearst, Mr. Viereck, and, as I understand it, a number of pro-Germans and pacifists and international socialists, have accepted them, but neither the American people nor the American congress has accepted them."

The colonel declared that "Mr. Wilson himself has rejected at least one of the fourteen outright and has interpreted another in the opposite sense to its plain and obvious meaning," and added that "some of the fourteen points are thoroughly mischievous under any interpretation," and most of the others are vague and ambiguous.

"Inasmuch as Mr. Wilson is going over, it is earnestly to be hoped that it is his business not to try and be an umpire between our allies and our enemies, but to act loyally as one of the allies," the colonel said.

REPORT SHOWS INCREASE IN JUVENILE CRIME

Juvenile crime showed a serious increase during the year ending Nov. 1, according to Albert E. Webster, assistant superintendent of the Juvenile Protective association, in a report made to the association last night at the Chicago College club.

He assigned two reasons for the increase—the war and its influences and a gradual "loosening up" of vice conditions after the ousting of Maj. Funkhouser from the office of the second deputy superintendent of police.

"One of the most obvious effects of the war has been its reflection in the volume of work handled by the organization," said Webster. "The total number of complaints received was over 28 per cent larger than the number during the previous year, the respective figures being 5,992 and 4,680.

"A most startling increase of 155 per cent occurred in complaints against saloonkeepers who sold liquor to minors.

"Investigation was made of 438 saloons and cabarets, and a dozen different laws, ordinances, and regulations were found to be repeatedly violated. The local police department appeared unable to secure enforcement of the law, and it was not until appeals were made to Washington and special federal officers were detailed to Chicago that any appreciable improvement in the situation was noted.

"Disorderly places investigated showed an increase of more than 67 per cent, the respective figures being 755 and 452. This means that young children were found in houses of prostitution; that minors were allowed in cabarets and saloons; that salacious performances were noted in theaters attended by juveniles, and that dance halls in which liquor was sold were frequently places of moral peril to the young people in attendance.

"Cordial and effective coöperation in dealing with these complaints had been secured for years from the second deputy superintendent of police. Following the unfortunate removal of Maj. Funkhouser, however, from that position there was a gradual 'loosening up' throughout the city, until conditions became intolerable. Subsequent publicity resulted in an awakened public sentiment which, with federal aid, did much to remedy the situation."

The FRIEND of the SOLDIER

The Friend of the Soldier will coöperate with the war risk insurance bureau of the treasury department, 1307 Stock Exchange building, Chicago, and with the committee of the Chicago Bar association on legal assistance to soldiers and sailors, 105 West Monroe street.

Address inquiries to Friend of the Soldier, "Chicago Tribune." Answers to as many as possible will be published in this department. To insure a personal reply an addressed and stamped envelope should be inclosed.

No attention will be paid to anonymous letters.

MERCHANT MARINE.

Oconto, Wis., Nov. 30.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I would like to know if a man enlisted in the merchant marine service is automatically insured for any amount until he has taken out a war risk insurance. What are the rules regarding hospital bills and funeral expenses if a man in this branch of service comes home on a ten days' furlough and dies within a week after he left where he was in training? The case I have in mind was one where the man died of influenza, which requires a sealed coffin and the cheapest one to be had was between $400 and $500.

Under Act No. 20—Public acts of 1917, section 5 and subsection 3a congress provides:

"That whenever it shall appear to the secretary of the treasury that the effecting of such insurance is desirable in the national interest in the case of vessels in any trade, the owner of every American merchant vessel engaged in such trade shall insure the master, officers, and crew of such vessel against loss of life or personal injury from war risks as well as for compensation during detention by an enemy of the United States following capture.

"Such insurance shall provide and the bureau of war risk insurance is authorized to write policies so providing:

"[a] In case of death, permanent disability which prevents the person injured from performing any and every kind of duty pertaining to his occupation, or the loss of both hands, both arms, both feet, or both eyes, or any two thereof, for the payment of an amount equivalent to one year's earnings, or to twelve times the monthly earnings of the insured, as fixed in the articles for the voyage—but in no case shall such amount be more than $5,000 or less than $1,500."

This insurance is applied automatically to all men composing the complement of the merchant vessel without payment of premiums on the part of the insured. It is effective so long as the name of the insured appears upon the ship's articles. The circumstances of the case should be taken up with the bureau of war risk insurance, Washington, D. C. In case this is done the lawyer handling it for the beneficiaries is allowed a maximum compensation of 10 per cent of the amount recovered. Otherwise there is no compensation for the agent. We do not know of any provision for the reimbursement for hospital bills and funeral expenses in such a case as that described above.

WISHES TO BECOME U. S. CITIZEN.

Chicago, Dec. 1.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—I was honorably discharged from Camp Logan, Tex., on account of ill health. I was born in England, but have never taken out United States citizenship papers. Does my honorable discharge give me first citizenship papers or will it serve for me to file for my full papers?
C. S.

If you were honorably discharged by reason incurred in line of duty, you may be entitled to naturalization without filing a declaration of intention (first papers) by first calling on an examiner of naturalization.

If you were not discharged by reason of disability incurred in line of duty, you may be naturalized only by complying with the general naturalization law, that is, by filing a declaration of intention and applying for citizenship two years thereafter.

ALLOWANCE FOR CHILD.

Appleton, Wis., Dec. 1.—[Friend of the Soldier.]—Before my husband left for camp he told me that he would allot part of his pay to me. I have received an allotment and allowance from the government, but am under the impression that I should also have an allowance for our 4 year old child. Will he have to make an additional allotment in order that I may receive this allowance from the government to help care for the child?
SOLDIER'S WIFE.

Your husband will not have to make an additional allotment to enable you to get the allowance for the child. When he made the allotment to you he should have claimed the government allowance of $15 per month for you and $10 allowance for the child. You should write to your husband and have him execute a new allotment statement, claiming the government allowance for both you and your child. He will be able to do this in camp.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

IS HUMANITY HUMAN?

Chicago, Dec. 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—"At the moment of his death Henry IV. was preparing himself to accomplish a vast project. He intended to drive the imperial house of Austria out of Belgium and Italy, make three kingdoms of Hungary, Bohemia, and Poland, of Germany an elective country, of Belgium and Holland a republic; to relegate the Turks into Asia and to drive out also the Russians into Asia if they refused to associate themselves with the grand republic which Europe should then form. A supreme council, composed of deputies from all the states of Europe, should be charged with preventing injustices and collisions. The reign of law and right should replace that of force. This project was the application of one great principle, the respect of nationalities. Henry IV. could not comprehend that one people should be possessed by another people, and as a proof of the disinterestedness of his views, in this grand reconstruction of Europe, he demanded nothing for France."—"Petite Histoire de France," by Victor Duruy, page 131.

THE SOLDIERS ON THE BORDER.

Fort Bliss, Tex., Nov. 28.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I am led to believe that one must gain the impression, after reading my fellow soldier's letter of Nov. 5, that we volunteers of the regular army, stationed on the border, are looking for and willing to accept praise for what we have done in this war. I can safely assure my friends—and believe I voice the sentiment of the majority here—that this is not the case. What we would appreciate is a clear understanding by our friends of our more than unfortunate situation.

Having joined the regular army at the war's beginning, with a confident hope of seeing early service overseas, we, a regiment that is known in military circles all over the United States for its esprit de corps and efficiency, were held in this country. Of course we had no choice in the matter.

We hold no ill feeling toward the drafted men for what they have done in this war, but we envy them the opportunity given them and which we feel was also justly due us.

This explanation in print, so as to come to the eyes of our friends, will be appreciated by the men with us, many of whom are from the middle west and who feel their situation during the last eighteen months has been misunderstood.

NEWS.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Charles A. Dana said: "By news I mean everything that occurs, everything which is of human interest, and which is of sufficient importance to arrest and absorb the attention of the public or any considerable part of it. I have always felt that what the divine providence permitted to occur I was not too proud to report."

George Bancroft, the historian, wrote: "An active daily press, vigilant from party interests, free even to dissoluteness, watches the progress of society and communicates every fact that can interest humanity."

News is defined in encyclopedias as "fresh information of something which has taken place at a distance or of something before unknown; tidings, intelligence." the word "n-e-w-s" came from the four points of the compass.

DESTROYING THE GERMAN FLEET.

Fort Madison, Ia., Dec. 1.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It certainly would be vandalism to destroy so much valuable property as has been suggested.

Our country has planned to build a number of war vessels, both large and small, at an expense of millions. Would it not be a sane and sensible plan for the allies, to whom possibly 95 per cent of these vessels will revert, to turn over to the United States whatever vessels we desire, taking credit for same upon the vast indebtedness due us for money loaned them?

In this way we would immediately increase our naval tonnage, without any tax increase, the allies reduce their indebtedness and interest payments, and Germany would do the paying.

If England is sincere in her protestations of friendship I can see no reasons why the above suggestion is not a sane, sensible solution of the matter.

AN "L" STATION DESIRED.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—It occurred to me that your valuable department of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE could perform a great service in protecting the health of thousands of women and children by urging the Metropolitan Elevated railway to construct some kind of a waiting room or shelter on the two platforms of the Metropolitan at the Lake street transfer station.

LAWYER GIVES PROOF SCALPING LAW IS BROKEN

Tells of Apparent Collusion of Brokers and Box Office.

Theater ticket "scalpers" and owners of theaters apparently have no fear of the city ordinance providing for forfeiture of theater licenses when evidence is shown that theater owners are in collusion with "scalpers."

Henry Pollenz of 10 South La Salle street, an attorney, notified THE TRIBUNE last night that there appeared to be collusion between a box office employé of the Majestic theater and a "scalper" with headquarters nearby. Mr. Pollenz said:

"At about 7 o'clock p. m. Nov. 28 I inquired at the Majestic ticket office for two main floor seats. I was informed by the ticket seller that all seats had been sold in the theater except the gallery seats. Upon leaving the theater I was accosted by a gentleman standing on the sidewalk in front of the theater, who inquired of me whether I had obtained tickets. I advised him that I had not.

Referred to the Scalper.

"He then volunteered that I could obtain tickets at the shoe shining parlor about half a block west of the theater. I went to this shoe shining parlor and in the doorway saw a man standing there who was announcing to the people passing by that tickets for the Majestic and Palace theaters were on sale inside.

"Standing in front of the store, directly in plain view of people passing on the street, stood a gentleman in front of a cash register with a large roll of money in his hand and a tin box of silver in front of him. This gentleman had about 300 seats either lying before him or in his hand, which entitled persons who might purchase them to seats on the main floor and in the balcony. I inquired of this party in the shoe shining parlor the price of the tickets and was advised that main floor seats could be had for $1.65 each and the balcony for $1.10. The price of these tickets at the ticket office are $1.10 and 55 cents respectively.

Two Hundred Turned Away.

"About 7:20 I went back to the theater and while standing in the lobby saw the ticket seller leave the theater and go to the shoe shining parlor and saw him talk to the man who was selling the tickets there. I also saw the man in the shoe shining parlor hand the ticket seller of the theater about ten tickets for the main floor. He took these tickets and went back to the ticket office and while standing there in the lobby I saw these identical tickets sold to different people who came to the window to purchase main floor seats, although the ticket seller would from time to time announce there were no other tickets to be had except gallery seats.

"I remained in the lobby of the theater and about the theater until twenty minutes after 8. During that time I saw no less than 200 people leaving the ticket office and who were later approached by a man standing in front of the theater who advised them that the tickets could be had at the shoe shining parlor, and persons who left the theater and went east were approached by a man standing on the sidewalk east of the alley adjoining the theater in front of Woolworth's store. This party also advised persons passing by that tickets could be had at the shoe shining parlor.

Told It's Usual Thing.

"I am informed that there is an ordinance of the city of Chicago which prohibits ticket scalping, but it appeared to me last evening as if the arrangement of selling tickets at the shoe shining parlor was being conducted under the direct control of the ticket sellers of the theater and was a bare faced steal and a fraud perpetrated upon the public, which should be investigated. I was informed by people to whom I spoke last evening about the theater that this same practice is operated on every Saturday and Sunday night and on all holidays.

"About 8:30 I went into the shoe shining parlor and purchased two tickets from a man in charge there for the balcony, regular 50 cent seats, paying therefor $1.10 each. At this time this party still had about twenty seats.

Offers to Aid Inquiry.

"I think that this matter is of sufficient importance that it should be investigated and am willing to coöperate with any person designated to run this matter down so that the general public will be no longer defrauded in this respect."

The theater owners fought against the "anti-scalping ordinance," but agreed to its terms after several court defeats.

SHRAPNEL

Twenty-two new shellshock cases reached Fort Sheridan yesterday direct from the war front and were placed in the new reconstruction hospital. Sixty-five nurses of a corps of 135 have just arrived and forty physicians will be placed on the staff at once, it is learned. This indicates that a large number of wounded and shellshocked soldiers are expected soon.

Mrs. A. W. Chez is to be official hospital visitor at the Fort Sheridan reclamation hospital. She is the official representative of the W. C. T. U. Her work will consist mainly of entertaining the men, writing letters for them, reading to them, and making them comfortable.

Maj. Gen. Barry will review the Student Army Training corps of Northwestern university on Northwestern athletic field tomorrow morning at 10:30. Classes will be dismissed from 9 o'clock until noon to give the student body a chance to see the review.

Greek Consul and Family Hurt in Auto Accident

C. D. Xanthopoulos, 6924 Sheridan road, Greek consul in Chicago, his wife, and three other persons were injured early yesterday morning when an auto in which they were riding crashed into a concrete electric light post in Lincoln park. Mrs. Xanthopoulos received internal injuries and John D. Dritsas, 1655 Juneway terrace, suffered a fracture of the skull. Mrs. Dritsas and Dr. G. P. Gavaris, owner and driver of the car, were only slightly injured. All were taken to the American hospital. Dr. Gavaris blamed the accident to the driving snow, which obscured his vision.

MOTORIZE ALL FIRE EQUIPMENT, ALDERMEN DECIDE

Open Seven New Stations and Start School, Also Planned.

Complete motorization of the fire department was decided on by the city council committee on finance yesterday as a step the municipality should take at once.

The committee is making up next year's budget. John F. Cullerton, business manager for the department, told the aldermen that only by replacing the horse drawn apparatus with motor driven types would the department reach the point of efficiency sought.

About 20 per cent of the equipment now is motorized. It will cost approximately $2,000,000 to complete it. The committee decided to spread this over an eight year period. For a start it appropriated $250,000 for next year. It was estimated that within eight years there would not be a horse drawn piece of fire equipment in the department.

Mr. Cullerton also succeeded in having the committee appropriate $67,000 for equipment for seven new fire stations, which have remained vacant for about a year because of a lack of funds. The committee also appropriated $136,733 for pay of firemen to man these stations.

The Chicago board of fire underwriters wanted the committee to appropriate for 600 additional firemen, saying this would bring the department up to the man power required. The committee allowed an increase of 164 men, these to be sent to the new stations.

For a study of up to date methods of guarding against fires along the river and lake fronts, the committee set aside $5,000. Part of this will be used to work out a plan for replacing the steam fire boats with gasoline propelled craft.

CONVICT TRIES TO SAVE GIRL BY CONFESSION

New York, Dec. 3.—James F. Regan, Sing Sing prison inmate and confessed author of a long series of crimes, took the witness stand in the Criminal court here today and placed his own future in jeopardy in an effort to save Miss Elizabeth Baksa, 19 year old Freemansburg, Pa., girl, from conviction on a charge of murdering Mrs. Helen Hamel, a New York lodging house keeper, last February.

Seemingly somewhat bored by the proceedings, the convict played the chief rôle in what attorneys for Miss Baksa termed "an unprecedented and almost miraculous occurrence." He declared Mrs. Hamel came to her death while he and a "pal" were robbing her house.

He denied that he had actually killed Mrs. Hamel, though he admitted he "tied a towel around her neck and knotted it in the back." This, he said, was after Mrs. Hamel "sagged—caved in," after a struggle with his "pal," whose name he refused to give.

"Do you know this girl?" Regan was asked by Miss Baksa's attorney, indicating the defendant.

"No; I want to see justice done," the convict answered.

PHONE GIRLS WILL ORGANIZE FRIDAY NIGHT

A move to organize Chicago's 7,000 or more telephone girls will be made Friday night at a meeting to be held at 175 West Washington street, called by the Central Labor Council of the Electric Industry, affiliated with the Chicago Federation of Labor.

According to Miss Agnes Nestor, secretary of the labor council, the union forces do not expect to find opposition because of a recent order issued by Postmaster General Burleson giving the "hello girls" the right to organize.

B. E. Sunny, president of the Chicago Telephone company, was noncommittal on the subject last night. He declared that he would not know how to act until a real organization presented itself because repeated announcements of similar character in the past had not developed to be true forecasts.

"I don't think the girls want to organize," said Sunny. "We treat them so well that they do not need an organization."

Soldiers Use
ALLEN'S FOOT-EASE

A prominent British Government officer while talking about the war to a large body of business men in N. Y. City recently said, "After the tired soldier has returned from a 12 mile tramp, with swollen and aching feet, is there a mother, who, if she knew, would not go out and get some Foot-Ease to send to her boy?"

People everywhere should realize the comfort derived from Allen's Foot-Ease, the antiseptic, healing powder to be shaken into the shoes. It takes the friction from the shoe and gives instant relief to tired, aching, swollen, tender feet, corns, bunions, blisters and callouses.

The Plattsburg Camp Manual advises all men in training to shake Foot-Ease in their Shoes each morning. No soldier or sailor should be without it. Try it yourself and if you have a son, brother or friend in the army or navy, why not mail him a package now. Sold by drug and dep't stores everywhere.

Beautifully Curly, Wavy Hair Like "Nature's Own"

Try the new way—the Silmerine way—never again use the ruinous heated iron. The curliness appears altogether natural. Quickly acquired; lasts a long time.

Liquid Silmerine

is perfectly harmless; is neither sticky nor greasy. Easily applied with brush. Serves also as a splendid dressing, keeping the hair soft, fluffy and glossy. Directions with bottle. At your druggist's.

DRY FIGHT TO BEAT SHANAHAN IN HOUSE OPENS

Anti-Saloon Leaders Seek to Pledge G. O. P. Men for Speakership.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The Anti-Saloon league today started its campaign to defeat David E. Shanahan for reëlection as speaker of the house.

The Anti-Saloon league called in known dry members of the new house one by one, and asked them to pledge themselves to support a candidate for speaker whose name will be disclosed later. The conversations were conducted by F. Scott McBride, state superintendent of the league, and George H. Wilson, former member of the house from the Quincy district, now a member of the headquarters committee of the Anti-Saloon league.

Interview Thirty Men.

Probably thirty men who will sit in the next house were interviewed. The first proposition advanced, it is understood, was that the drys admittedly will be in control of the next house. The next was the request that the member agree to be one of fifty of the ninety Republican members who will go along with a proposal to stand for a speakership candidate in the Republican caucus in January who will be picked as acceptable by the Anti-Saloon league.

Most of those, because of local conditions within their districts, it is understood, agreed to go through with this suggestion. Others, it is known, balked. One Republican dry, it is reported, served notice that he had been elected as a Republican and that he felt it is his first duty to stand by the Republican party as an organization rather than by the dry forces on a blindfolded proposal.

Urges Biparty Selection.

Still others, including one member elect who is conspicuously mentioned as a candidate for speaker, is said to have contended that it is impossible for the drys to put through such a plan as is suggested. He urged that the drys, Republicans and Democrats, must stand together and elect a speaker from the floor of the house.

The situation was so much in the air tonight that old timers in the legislative game were free to predict that the speakership fight is to become one of the most complicated affairs that ever has been fought out in Springfield.

Lowden May Take Hand.

That Gov. Lowden is about to take a hand in the proceedings and insist the wet and dry issue be submerged for the present, in view of all of the great post-war issues that are about to come along for legislative consideration, was considered tonight as an immediate possibility.

Speaker Shanahan, who was here for the centennial celebration, let it be known without restriction that he is a candidate. James A. Watson of Elizabethtown unquestionably is to be a candidate, as he intimated tonight. Homer J. Tice is now considered to be the most likely choice of the Anti-Saloon league.

Surface signs are that the real row over the speakership will develop in the open tomorrow.

ANTI-"RED" LAW NOT SUSCEPTIBLE TO BASIC ATTACK

Corporation Counsel Ettelson is not worried about talk on the part of the Socialists of trying to have the ordinance barring the display of the red flag declared unconstitutional. The ordinance was passed Monday by the city council, and will become a law in a few days.

"The ordinance was based on a Massachusetts state law," said Mr. Ettelson. "The Supreme court of that state has held it to be constitutional."

Following is the opinion of the Supreme court of Massachusetts on this law:

> The maintenance of order is plainly a lawful exercise of the police power. Statutes designed to promote that end cannot be stricken down as unconstitutional unless they manifestly have no tendency to produce that result. It is said in Webster's dictionary that "historically, a red flag has been a revolutionary and terroristic emblem." In the Century dictionary is found this: "A red flag is a flag of a red color with or without devices associated with blood or danger." Other lexicographers give similar definitions. In the light of this well recognized significance of the red flag, it may be assumed that the legislature regarded it as the symbol of ideas hostile to established order, and decided that is carrying in parades would be likely to provoke turbulence or to menace the safety of travelers or citizens in general or otherwise to interfere with the common welfare. Its determination in this regard cannot be pronounced by the courts contrary to the fundamental law, as being arbitrary or unreasonable, or as having clearly no relation to the ends for which the police power may be exercised.

Mr. Ettelson said Chicago's ordinance was practically a redraft of the Massachusetts law.

HARTRAYS LOSE FIGHT TO VOID SON'S MARRIAGE

Clergyman and U. S. Officials Testify for Wife.

The suit for annulment of the marriage of John F. Hartray to Miss Frances Cochran, Evanston Sunday school teacher and daughter of Capt. T. S. Cochran, U. S. N., was dismissed by Judge Brothers yesterday. After hearing the testimony of Mrs. Frances Cochran Hartray, the wife, and a score of other witnesses, including Hinton G. Clabaugh, formerly in charge of the Chicago bureau of the department of justice, and the Rev. George Craig Stewart, pastor of St. Luke's Episcopal church, Evanston, the court dismissed the proceedings for want of equity.

Mrs. Hartray and her friends hailed the decision as a victory and vindication. Mr. Clabaugh and Dr. Stewart were character witnesses for Mrs. Hartray.

Mr. Clabaugh testified that he had investigated certain reports brought to his office about the Cochrans, with the result that he was unable to learn anything detrimental to the family. Mr. Clabaugh spoke highly of the Cochrans, as did scores of other witnesses, neighbors in Evanston.

Pastor Praises Wife.

Dr. Stewart, home from France only a short time, testified that Mrs. Hartray was a splendid young woman and said he could not believe the charges made by the parents of young Hartray. He said that financial considerations could not have entered into the marriage as Capt. Cochran, was able to amply provide for his daughter.

When John P. Hartray, president of the Hartray shoe company learned of the wedding, he, with his wife, filed suit in behalf of his son who, he said was a minor at the time of the marriage. The bill charged Mrs. Hartray with marrying John F. Hartray to get his insurance.

This statement was emphatically denied by Mrs. Hartray, who occupied the witness stand for over an hour yesterday and told of the marriage and the subsequent changed attitude of her husband, who, she said, not only refused to see her, but would not write to her.

Hartray in Camp.

Hartray who was formerly in training for the aviation service at Ithaca, N. Y., is now said to be at Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky.

"I know Jack would not stay away from me so long and refuse to write to me if it were not for the interference of his people," testified Mrs. Hartray. "The claim that Jack was not of age when he married me is silly. He was only a few months lacking of 21 years.

"And the accusation that I married Jack to get his insurance or to derive any other financial benefit is mean and contemptible and not worth answering. The charge that I or any member of my family ever sought to borrow any money from the Hartrays or anyone else is untrue. My father is a captain in the navy and his salary makes it possible for him to provide for us handsomely and we need no one else's money or assistance. It is just a scheme on the part of his people to separate us, that's all."

CITY CELEBRATES CENTENNIAL OF BIRTH OF STATE

History Is Recited at Meetings of Organizations.

Praises of Illinois were sounded last night at special meetings to commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the admission of the state into the union, which occurred yesterday.

Speakers at these meetings reviewed what had been accomplished during the century of statehood and paid tributes to the foundations laid by the pioneers.

War Heroes Honored.

The Illinois Society, Sons of the American Revolution, celebrated at a reception in the Auditorium Hotel. Large photographs of Brig. Gen. Charles G. Dawes, Col. Joseph B. San-rn, and Lieut. Col. James M. Eddy, members of the society, now in service overseas, rested on the table of the speakers of the evening. A service flag containing 127 blue stars was presented to the society by Oak Park chapter and a roll of honor containing names was dedicated by the Alden Hundred, assisted by the First Infantry Volunteer corps, Illinois reserve militia, Capt. John S. Beeler, commanding.

Maj. H. C. Ridgway, Second battalion, One Hundred and Thirty-first regiment, stirred the audience with word pictures of engagements in which the boys from Chicago had participated.

"Our slogan was 'Hell, Heaven, or Hoboken by Christmas and take no prisoners,'" he said. "Chicago boys over there surely deserve everything that you folks at home can do for them."

Prof. Herbert L. Willett of the University of Chicago, former Gov. Edward F. Dunne, and the Rev. Frederick L. lden, chaplain of the society also spoke.

Bancroft Sketches History.

Edgar A. Bancroft, the principal speaker before the Chicago Historical society, sketched the history of the state.

"What miracles a hundred years have wrought," said Mr. Bancroft. "The population has increased from 40,000 to about 6,000,000, nearly twice the population of the thirteen colonies in 1776. The production of Indian corn has increased from a few thousand bushels produced by the settlers and the Indians to 365,654,400 bushels in 1917. The wealth has increased from $4,000,000 to $14,000,000,000—nearly four thousand fold.

"But there is another picture, a small part of a great canvas, hardly yet finished, radiant with a light that brightens every portrait, every painting in the state's hall of fame. It portrays Illinois summoning her youths by hundreds of thousands to prepare to prove at arms her loyalty to liberty and her gratitude to France, and to defend that government of the people which is Illinois' chief glory to have helped to save."

Col. Ricci of the French educational mission was another speaker.

At the Academy of Sciences Dr. J. Paul Good of the University of Chicago gave an illustrated lecture on "A Geographical Interpretation of Illinois."

Dr. Stephen A. Forbes of the University of Illinois spoke on the natural history of Illinois and its changes. He advocated the appointment of a state forester.

Archbishop Is Speaker.

At the celebration of the Illinois Catholic Historical society at Quigley Memorial hall, Chestnut and Rush streets, Archbishop George W. Mundelein was the principal speaker. He told of the work of Illinois Catholics in making the history of the state, and urged all Catholics who have a pride in their religion to support the work of the society.

The Reverend Father Frederick Siedenburg, S. J., presided. He introduced William J. Onahan, president of the society, who told briefly of the society's accomplishments and its prospects for the future.

GOOD FELLOWS!

Here's a Form for You to Fill Out—It Will Aid You in Stating Your Plans for Helping the Poor Kids.

If you will be a Good Fellow on Christmas to some family of poor children in Chicago, please fill out the attached blank and send it to "The Tribune," Good Fellow department:

I live at No. .... street. I will be Santa Claus to .... children (as many as you wish). Please give me the names of children in .... (State what section of city you prefer to have assigned to you.)

(Sign your name) ....

TROUBLES? YOU HAVEN'T ANY; READ OF THESE

Kids Who Won't Find Santa Unless Good Fellows Aid.

Grim pictures of life's under side are coming into the Goodfellow department in floods. Most of us think we have troubles. These simple tales of the city make us realize what troubles really are!

Imagine yourself at the age of 12 years, living in a smoky, unclean, so-called furnished room, with no comforts and at times no necessities, where the thought of a luxury is a dream. Such a story came in by yesterday's mail. It came for two cents, for it is being lived right in Chicago.

How would you define the trouble you think you have now, if you had four children, and your husband had been sick for three months, and your income was next to nil?

What would be your definition if you, at 30, had four children, and your husband got hurt, and then, when he got well, all the rest of you got sick, and there was the rent to pay and the doctor to pay and scarcely anything to pay them with?

What of Christmas for Them?

These conditions are here. And Christmas is almost here. Is there much prospect for happiness in such homes on Christmas morning? The Good Fellows must come to the rescue. Here is a letter addressed to them:

"I have never before asked for anything of anybody, but I met with much misfortune just as winter came on. My husband got hurt and was laid up for six weeks. He had just got well and returned to work when I and my four children, all under 7 years, took the influenza and he had to quit work and come home and take care of us. We have just recovered and he has gone back to his job, but as we are without warm clothing and underwear, and as his wages are eaten up by paying the expenses of our six weeks' illness, we are in a bad way. If you can send us any new or old clothing that I can make over I'm sure it will be greatly appreciated. I cannot get out and work, as my children are all so small."

Young John's Tragedy.

John, aged 15, tells the tragedy of life in his home thus:

"We are very poor. My father and mother are both sick. We are five children and I'm the oldest. My papa is 53 and my mamma 43, and they can't get us anything for Christmas, and we need clothes and food very bad."

A mother writes the following:

"I have three children, one 4, one 2, and the other 10 months old. My husband has been sick for three months in bed. I will thank you for what you do for us."

It is easy to become a Good Fellow. Simply fill out the accompanying blank and send or bring it in. THE TRIBUNE will furnish you the names and addresses of the poor people you desire to help. You are then a member of the gloom chasing band and all set to chase gloom. You'll find it more fun to scatter happiness than anything else you have ever done.

Do it today.

STATE CHIEFS PRAISE HISTORY OF ILLINOIS

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Illinois tonight celebrated formally the hundredth anniversary of the state's admission to the union. There was a lack of pomp and display but an earnestness of purpose in which representative men and women from all sections of the state joined was the marked feature of the function.

It was the close of the year round celebration that begun last January and that has been carried into nearly each county of the state, having marked particularly by the two festival occasions in Springfield during the early fall.

The more elaborate plans that had been made for the centennial year's climax were restricted importantly due to the sudden recurrence of the influenza epidemic in southern and central Illinois. Springfield was only able to respond to the larger features that had been arranged.

Gov. Lowden, Lieut. Gov. Oglesby, and Speaker Shanahan spoke tonight at a public meeting held in the hall of representatives at the capitol building. The chief speaker was John H. Finley of New York, former president of Knox college at Galesburg.

Things Went Swimmingly, Yet He Asks Divorce

He liked to swim and his wife didn't, so testified William G. Rottmayer yesterday before Judge Hopkins in the Superior court. Rottmayer declared that his wife deserted him because he enjoyed swimming. One day he came home from Clarendon beach, he says, and found his wife gone. She has never returned, he says. He was granted a decree of divorce.

LOULA LONG IS AGAIN A VICTOR AT HORSE FAIR

Her Heavy Harness Pair Defeats Entry of R. L. Smith.

M'ADOO TO SPEAK

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo agreed today to go to Chicago to address the live stock exposition in Dexter Park pavilion next Thursday night. Senator Kendrick of Wyoming also will speak.

BY HERBERT J. KRUM.

R. Lawrence Smith of Smithtown, L. I., made his first appearance as an exhibitor in the west, at the second session of the Horse show held at the International amphitheater last night.

He introduced his brown pair of heavy harness horses, Hamilton Star and Fairy Tread, which were driven by his stable manager, Frank Winterbottom. Unfortunately, the gelding proved somewhat unsteady and this pair had to give place to Realization and Reflection, the splendid bays owned and driven by Mrs. Loula Long Combs of Kansas City. Mrs. Combs is easily one of the most popular exhibitors and she was heartily applauded when awarded the blue ribbon.

In the opening event of the evening Thomas Wilson made a remarkable record by taking both championship and reserve in classes 122 and 123 for draft gelding or mare for the Illinois centennial medal, with College Prince and Hixson.

Fine Saddle Horse Showing.

Guy G. Woodin won the three gaited saddle class under 15.2 hands with his gray gelding, Joseph Santley, defeating Mrs. Combs' black mare, Emma Dear, shown by Lonnie Hayden. This was a large class with twelve of the thirteen entries actually in the ring. Mrs. J. M. Harris was third, riding her Mlle. Butterfly and "Billy" Threlkeld was fourth with Princess McDonald, owned by George Brandeis of Omaha, Neb.

George A. Heyl of Washington, Ill., scored a double header in the pair-of-ponies class over 12.2 hands, getting first with the bay mares, Dinarth Magic and Trillo Magic, driven by Harley Heyl. The second went to Dilhampton and Glenavon Torch, driven by "Jimmie" Gilchrist. Simpson farm of Elmhurst was third and Charles E. Bunn fourth. Heyl also won in the single harness pony class, his King Cole being placed over Bunn's Royal Regent, Alexander farms' Merry Thought, and William E. Dee's John Brown.

"Jack Tar" Gets Ovation.

John R. Thompson's famous roan runabout horse, Jack Tar, was given a great ovation and Manager White had no trouble in placing him first. William E. Dee won second and fourth with Cleo and Zambo, the third went to Ross Long, driving Broad View farms' chestnut gelding, Masterpiece.

The five-gaited saddle stallion class proved most popular. John T. Hook, on My Major Dare, annexed another blue to Mrs. Combs' trophies. John A. Reeves made a splendid show with the brown stallion, Emerald Bay, owned by E. V. Naltby of this city, who has a large breeding farm at Tinley Park, getting the second prize over Lonnie McDonald, a black stallion owned by C. R. Wells of Washington, Ia., and which was ridden by Bruce Robinson.

Cheers Six-in-Hand.

Swift & Co.'s gray six-in-hand created a mild sensation when their driver sent them out of the ring on a full gallop after performing skillful stunts. Wilson & Co. exhibited their bays, and the Galveston stock farm showed a six of chestnuts.

The tandem class was a three team struggle between Mrs. Combs and two entries from the John R. Thompson stable. Ed White, who was driving Sir Edward and Lord Brilliant, met with an accident which partially disabled his gig, but he continued his drive and landed third prize. Mrs. Combs was first with her beautiful Revelation and Consternation, Mr. Thompson's Argo and Frailty being second.

Seven entries had been made for the challenge cup offered by the British remount commission. This proved to be the best jumping contest of recent years. Judge A. B. Maclay awarded first prize to Mortimore Riding academy's gray gelding, The Parson, second to Otto W. Lehmann's black gelding, Overall; third to G. G. Woodin's The Whip, and fourth to Rasmussen's Major.

Award Grand Championship.

Antone Charmer, a breeding Red Polled junior yearling entered by J. W. Larrabee, Earlville, Ill., was awarded the emblem as grand champion bull, any age, yesterday. The breeding Red Polled senior champion cow, 2 years or over, is Constant, entered by W. S. Hill of Alexandria, S. D.

A load of Hereford yearlings, shown by J. W. Frazier, Rardin, Ill., won the grand championship of the car lot division. An Elwood, Ind., man, Gus Meyer, with a load of Hampshires took the championship in the car lot hog classes, and Heart's Delight Farm of Chazy, N. Y., was victor in the car lot sheep division, taking the grand championship.

INDICT BERGER AT LA CROSSE ON U. S. COUNTS

La Crosse, Wis., Dec. 3.—Victor L. Berger, Socialist congressman elect of Milwaukee, and his campaign manager, Louis A. Arnold, were indicted on sixteen counts involving alleged violations of the espionage act during his senatorial campaign last March, by the United States grand jury here.

They are charged with sending through the mails from Milwaukee into the western district of Wisconsin copies of the Milwaukee Leader dated March 6, containing Mr. Berger's platform and also campaign pamphlets in violation of article 12 and section 3 of the espionage act.

It is alleged they thus interfered with the operation of the military forces of the United States to promote the success of enemies of the country in time of war, with intent to cause insubordination, with disloyalty and mutiny in the military forces, and with obstruction of the recruiting and enlistment service of the United States?

FIVE REFORMS MUST WAIT FOR NEW BASIC LAW

Legislature Will Play Important Part in the Preliminaries.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Article No. 3.

Five major propositions—each of vital importance to Chicago and Illinois in planning and perfecting practical reconstruction—are certain to confront the constitutional convention.

There will be others fully as significant, but the five that publicists and politicians who are dealing with the present and figuring on the future see as meeting them face to face are these:

Modernized methods of raising public revenues.

Consolidation of overlapping local governments in Chicago.

Home rule of Chicago public utilities.

The shorter ballot.

Full woman suffrage.

Legislature to Decide.

The legislature that meets at Springfield, Jan. 8, will frame the bill, that will call the convention, that will be elected largely upon the foregoing issues, that will frame the constitutional amendments that are needed. It's a sort of a "House-that-Jack-built" proposition, but the real business in determining the personnel of the constitutional convention is to be transacted in Springfield, beginning next month. For that reason, it is desirable to suggest some of the points involved in the "Big Five" set of propositions.

Hands Tied on Revenue.

Revenue—Nothing can be done to rehabilitate permanently Chicago's finances, particularly with the saloons about to go out of business, without amendment to the revenue article of the constitution.

The federal government's income tax system has uncovered much intangible property that pays no state taxes. The 1870 ideas of classification of property for taxation and the itemized prohibitions of power that the 1870 constitution laid upon the legislature, eliminate any chance of an up to date system in levying taxes until the constitution is changed. In 1916 the people voted 656,298 votes for and 295,782 votes against the necessary change in the constitution, and the proposition failed because it needed a majority of all of the votes cast, which it failed to get. The city and county financial experts and others who have studied the situation are agreed that nothing comprehensive or even sensible can be obtained until the constitution is altered.

Many Taxing Bodies.

Consolidation of Government.—There are twenty-three separate governmental corporations now existing within the city limits of Chicago as separate and sovereign going concerns, for which the taxpayers settle in one way or another. This situation reaches the vitals of Chicago's involved finances.

To get a combined and single centered government for the Chicago metropolitan districts—on the line of Greater New York, for instance—amendments are necessary to three constitutional articles.

Rule Over Utilities.

Home Rule.—Chicago's right to hold the whip hand over its local public utilities has not been questioned morally, but it is impossible under the 1870 constitution. The Supreme court has so held and the legislature has created the state public utilities commission accordingly. In all of the traction rows, from the days of the Allen bill to the recently defeated ordinance, the story is that at Springfield 80 per cent of the legislators, including practically all of the downstate members, have been unable to get at the real facts, while attempting seriously to pass remedial legislation. The skillful politicians at the state capital have succeeded in raising sharply the immediate factional or partisan issue.

Elections Made Joke.

The Short Ballot.—Any voter who has carried a blanket ballot into the voting booth in recent Chicago general elections knows that a popular election is a myth and nearly a joke. He was called upon to discriminate between candidates for a court bailiff or for a court clerk, of whom he never had heard. The politicians like the long ballot. The short ballot is procurable only through a constitutional convention, by the amendment of at least three constitutional articles. Politicians left to their own will at Springfield will do little that is practical for the short ballot.

Suffrage Still Incomplete.

Woman Suffrage—Illinois women may vote for president of the United States, but not for governor. The law jumps from the presidency down to trustees of the University of Illinois, on the state ticket. Women may vote for mayor and aldermen, but not for clerk of the Municipal court nor for county commissioners. The women will demand full constitutional suffrage from the convention. They fought for the convention in the recent election on the theory that the convention will give them full suffrage.

WALSH QUITS LABOR BOARD; MANLY ADVANCES

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—The resignation of Frank P. Walsh as joint chairman of the national war labor board, has been accepted by President Wilson and Basil M. Manly has been appointed to fill the vacancy.

William Harmon Black, Mr. Walsh's alternate on the board, also resigned, but was reappointed by Mr. Manly.

Mr. Manly was indorsed unanimously by representatives of labor on the board. He was special agent for the bureau of labor statistics of the department of labor from 1908 to 1913.

In accepting Mr. Walsh's resignation President Wilson wrote that he was "compelled, in justice to the cogent and almost imperative professional reasons you give for this step, to consent to your retirement at this time from the high position whose duties you have administered with such judgment, tact, and robust integrity."

ILLINOIS LABOR O.K.'S NEW PARTY BORN IN CHICAGO

Only Two Vote Against Proposition After Spirited Debate.

BY FRANK E. EMERICH.

Bloomington, Ill., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The new independent Labor party launched by the Chicago Federation of Labor, has received the official indorsement of the Illinois State Federation of Labor. This action was taken today, following a spirited debate.

The only opposition came from the Socialists, but on the ballot there were only two negative votes among nearly 1,000 delegates. The resolution asking the indorsement of the convention had been submitted by Secretary E. N. Nockels of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

Following a favorable report this morning by the resolutions committee Nockels took the floor, and in a vigorous speech supported the proposition. Delegate Frankel of the Chicago patternmakers, former secretary of the Socialist party of Cook county, opposed the plan, asserting that the formation of a new party would only serve to divide the labor vote.

Labor Tired of Begging.

Nockels in combating this view said labor is tired of "begging the old parties for consideration and getting none."

"We have been in the habit of going, cap in hand, to the old parties and asking favors," he shouted. "Usually we didn't get them, but when we did the best we could do was to promise to deliver labor support to the men who voted with us.

"The time has now come to see if we can't deliver it to ourselves. We expect to poll over 300,000 votes in Chicago in the spring election and to elect our candidates."

Supporting the proposal, President John H. Walker referred to the coming constitutional convention and asserted labor must be organized politically in the state and wisely represented in the convenion.

New Party's Platform.

Following the adoption of the committee's report the platform announced by the new party in Chicago, comprising "labor's fourteen points," was unanimously adopted with a few minor amendments. The "points" are, briefly:

Right to organize.

Democratic control of industry and elimination of autocratic or governmental bureaucratic domination of the forces of production and distribution.

Minimum eight hour day and forty-four hour week.

Abolition of unemployment by providing government work in times of slackness in industries.

Equal rights and pay for men and women.

Immediate reduction of cost of living, stopping of profiteering, and abolition of "parasitical middlemen."

Democratization of education and organization of teachers.

Continuance of soldiers' and sailors' insurance and its extension by the government, without profit, to all men and women; also government insurance against accident and illness and upon all forms of property.

Payment of government expenses and liquidation of national debt by inheritance, income, and land value taxation.

Public ownership and operation of railways, steamships, stockyards, grain elevators, terminal markets, telegraphs, telephones, and all other public utilities, and nationalization and development of all basic natural resources, water power, and unused land.

Complete restoration of free speech, free press, freedom of movement, and free assemblage from wartime restraints.

Proportional representation of labor in all departments of government.

Labor representation at the peace conference.

League of workers of all nations pledged to enforce destruction of autocracy, militarism, and economic imperialism, with general disarmament and open diplomacy.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards's determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c a box. All druggists.—Adv.

THE SOUL OF ITALY! How splendid in trial and supreme in misfortune. No nation has served more heroically, with higher inspiration or greater valor. Italy, with only 36,000,000 people, mobilized 4,500,000 magnificent soldiers, and struggled to Victory through snows of Alpine peaks and choked-up mountain passes.

"IF the death grapple between Italy and Austria had alone filled the world's stage," writes Charles Edward Russell, "we would have stared breathless on one of the strangest and most exciting wars ever fought, and celebrated a thousand acts of heroism we now hardly know."

Charles Edward Russell knows Italy—knows her glory—knows her sacrifices. His tribute in Hearst's for December was written fresh from his last visit to war councils of Rome.

IF you are not interested in worldwide broadness of vision—in generous appreciation of less conspicuous accomplishment—you won't want Hearst's this month or any other. But if you want the one magazine that more than any other represents the greater spirit of these greater times, don't fail to read Charles Edward Russell on "The Soul of Italy" in the December number of

Why Great Newspapers Are Morning Newspapers

No list of leading American newspapers could omit the New York Times, Philadelphia Public Ledger, Boston Post, Cleveland Plaindealer, Detroit Free Press, Portland Oregonian, Cincinnati Enquirer, Los Angeles Times, Louisville Courier-Journal, Chicago Tribune—all morning newspapers. There are several times as many evening newspapers as there are morning papers. But few evening papers are entitled to rank with the above as great newspapers.

There must be a reason for this. There is a reason. Evening papers are more numerous because they are cheaper to publish. They are cheaper to publish because they are bulletins. The morning newspaper is more expensive because it demands a big staff for fully covering all news—local, national and international.

Bulletins of Rumors vs. Reports of Facts

When the world wakes up and has its breakfast things begin to happen—and not till then. During the following six hours—from 9 to 3—the afternoon newspaper must gather its news, write it, edit it, print it and distribute it in several editions. A large proportion of the big news events of every nature come to a head too late in the day to be adequately treated in an afternoon newspaper—if at all. Rumors must be rushed into print before confirmation can be attempted.

The morning newspaper starts its news-gathering at the same time as the afternoon paper, but works more than twice as long (during which time more than twice as many things happen) before it need begin to get ready to print its first edition. No wonder its news is more comprehensive, more authentic, better written, better edited, better presented.

Repeated triumphs of The Tribune and other morning newspapers in securing first publication of war news have overthrown the hopes of afternoon papers that they would profit by the difference in time between the United States and Europe. Censorship delays, mechanical delays and the issuance of much important news at Washington late in the afternoon have nullified the theoretical advantage. Even though an event took place at 6 o'clock, European time, and 12 o'clock, Chicago time, it did not follow that the news of it was available in Chicago until several hours later. During the day news bulletins must compete for the right of way on wires and cables crowded with commercial and official business. In the evening congestion is relieved and the great flow of connected news stories for the morning papers begins.

Tribune Scoops Are Typical

Examination of the files of Chicago newspapers shows that complete texts of a very large part of the diplomatic correspondence and full stories of other events which brought about the end of the world war were printed first in The Tribune and other morning papers.

The Tribune was the first newspaper in Chicago to tell the people the actual signing of the armistice by Germany on November 11, the biggest piece of news ever printed by any newspaper. Among other events of tremendous importance first told to the world by The Tribune and other morning newspapers since early in October, when the real break with Germany began, are:

Oct. 7—Germany's note accepting Wilson's peace program and asking for a parley.
Oct. 9—Wilson's note refusing to grant an armistice and laying down conditions which Germany must meet before any steps toward peace could be taken.
Oct. 13—Germany's and Austria's offers to quit invaded lands.
Oct. 15—President Wilson's rejection of Germany's plea for peace by negotiation.
Oct. 19—Czecho-Slovak rebellion against Austria-Hungary.
Oct. 22—German note declaring enemy meets terms, but still seeking to dicker. (Those lucky enough to get the latest editions of the afternoon papers of Oct. 21 were the only afternoon paper readers to obtain the text of this note.)
Oct. 24—Wilson tells Germany: "Peace only by surrender."
Oct. 27—Fall of Gen. Ludendorff, military dictator of Germany.
Oct. 28—German note asking armistice terms.
Oct. 29—Austria's full acceptance of Wilson's terms.
Oct. 30—Drastic armistice terms imposed on Germany.
Nov. 1—Austria's envoys enter Italian lines to arrange surrender.
Nov. 5—Secretary Lansing's announcement that terms had been sent to Berlin.
Nov. 8—Revolt of the German fleet, which halted the Kaiser's "last chance" hope; entrance of the Rainbow division into Sedan, the blow that finally broke Germany's back on land.
Nov. 9—Deposing of the royal house of Bavaria and formation of the first republic in Germany.
Nov. 10—Seizure of Berlin by the revolutionary forces, following the Kaiser's abdication and flight to Holland.
Nov. 11—THE ARMISTICE.
Nov. 13—Text of the amendments to the armistice terms, which made Germany's surrender complete.
Nov. 14—Lloyd George's demand for a peace of justice
Nov. 19—President Wilson's official announcement that he would go abroad to attend the Peace Conference.

You Need The Tribune More Than Ever

The greatest peace conference of history is about to meet in Europe. Great nations are now torn by revolutions and counter revolutions. The end of the war and the lifting of censorship opens an era of great news stories such as the world has never known.

The Chicago Tribune has the natural advantage of being a morning newspaper. The Tribune receives the Associated Press and United Press services. The Tribune also enjoys exclusively in this territory the special cable service of the New York Times. In addition to all this, The Tribune is assembling in Europe the most extraordinary staff of trained newspaper men ever sent abroad by any American publication. They will see that Tribune readers have the best service of any paper in the world. A more detailed announcement of this special Tribune cable service will appear at an early date. This foreign staff will be of a character in every way worthy of

MOST OF MAJOR U.S. CASUALTIES RECEIVED: BAKER

Secretary Tries to Explain to Senators Delay in Printing Names.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—Secretary Baker, appearing before the senate military affairs committee today to explain the delay in completing the publication of American casualties overseas, said he thought most of the unreported names were those of men slightly wounded and would come by mail.

Senators were unable to understand why only something over 100,000 names have been published, when it has been announced officially that the casualties number 262,693. The secretary said every effort consistent with accuracy was made to prevent delay, and that Gen. Pershing had been urged repeatedly to expedite his lists, sending the names of the dead first.

"The department, from the beginning," Mr. Baker said, "has never held up, withheld, or delayed giving out casualty lists. Our policy has been to give a complete statement as soon as possible."

Admits System Is Slow.

Gen. March, chief of staff, and Assistant Secretary Keppel were with the secretary. Mr. Keppel said the system of obtaining and verifying casualty reports in France had been slow at first, and that if it had to be done over again it probably would be done differently.

Secretary Baker said many complaints had been based upon misunderstanding and that distress had been caused among relatives by inaccurate reports in soldiers' private letters. He told in detail of the publication plan under which a telegram is sent immediately to the next of kin before a name is put on the lists transmitted by mail to the newspapers.

"Has there been any unwarranted delay on the other side?" asked Senator Weeks of Massachusetts.

"I don't feel free to say that," Mr. Baker answered.

"Has Gen. Pershing been asked to expedite the reports?"

"Repeatedly; repeatedly."

"There have been so many cases it seems to me the system was inefficient," Senator Weeks observed.

Aim at Accuracy.

"The system at central headquarters was too slow at the outset," Mr. Baker continued, "but it has been improved. We had to choose between speed and unreliable information, and a somewhat slower system but reliable. Whether we've had too much time spent on reliability and accuracy is a question on which there might be a difference of opinion."

Senator Johnson of California asked what was holding up the names of the men included in the total number already announced.

"I don't know," Secretary Baker answered. "We're getting them as rapidly as the cables are able to carry them. I think the major part of those missing are of slightly wounded, and coming by mail."

Senator Johnson asked how many Americans had been in actual fighting up to the signing of the armistice. Secretary Baker estimated 750,000 and Gen. March added that it was above that number, but "somewhat less than 1,000,000."

Will Bring Dead Home.

Gen. March also said unless relatives of Americans who have lost their lives request otherwise all bodies of the American dead will be brought home, without legislation by congress.

Gen. March, discussing demobilization, said Gen. Pershing was selecting units for the occupational force of about 1,250,000 men, and that all the other American soldiers in France would be brought home as rapidly as shipping could be provided.

Gen. Bundy Gets Leave to Address Indianans Here

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Senator New of Indiana succeeded today in getting an extension of leave for Gen. Omar Bundy in order to permit him to address the Indiana society of Chicago at their annual dinner Saturday night. Gen. Bundy, who commanded the Fifth army corps in France, has been assigned to command at Camp Lee, Va. Gen. Bundy is a native of Newcastle, Ind.

Like a lot of your friends, the AutoStrop Razor was drafted—every set we could manufacture.

Soldiers must shave regularly because clean faces and smart appearance help keep up morale—also because gas masks must fit so close to the skin as to be air-tight.

We multiplied production many times over to meet the demands of the Government for our fighting men.

Now for the first time since last April we are permitted by the Government to make shipments of the AutoStrop Razor for civilian use.

Your dealer's stock has been depleted. Now he will be able to supply you.

The AutoStrop Razor is the only razor which sharpens itself, saves blades, cleans without taking apart.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ASKS AMERICAN TO JOINT HARMONY SESSION

SEEKS DECISION ON DISTURBING POINTS FOR 1919

Inquiry Made as to Where Ban Johnson Stands on O. B. Reforms.

Stock for Mitchell

Manager Mitchell of the Cubs when he assumes the office of president at the coming election will become possessor of a block of stock for which he will be permitted to pay out of the profits, much as did Frank Chance of the old Cub machine. This is understood to be in lieu of any notable salary increase at this time.

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The National league has asked the American league to take part in a joint meeting of the two organizations in this city next week for the purpose of bringing about more harmonious conditions between the major baseball bodies. The National league will meet here next Tuesday and the American league plans to meet in Chicago on Wednesday or Thursday. If Ban Johnson accepts the invitation for the joint conference it will probably be held here Dec. 13.

There are three important questions which the two leagues will endeavor to agree on. They are a new chairman for the national committee, a new schedule for next season, and the player limit.

140 Game Schedule Proposed.

According to the plans of several club owners, the season will be cut down to 140 games, the season opening on May 1 and closing on Sept. 30. It is also believed that the two major organizations will limit the players to at least eighteen for each club.

The National league is anxious to find out where Ban Johnson stands on the question of baseball reforms. Johnson last season, it was said, openly violated the national agreement by refusing to abide by the decision of the national commission, and as this entirely destroyed the authority which the commission has exercised in the past the club owners are anxious to know what regard Johnson is going to have for the national agreement in the future.

End Interleague Bickering.

The one thing which the club owners in both leagues want, however, is absolute harmony before plans are made for the coming season. They realize that the game will suffer unless there is an end to all the petty wrangling that marred the sport last season.

PICK COMES TO CUBS TO STAY

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 3.—The Chicago Cubs have completed the deal for Charley Pick of the Seals. This announcement was made today by Manager Graham of the San Francisco club, who received from Charles Weeghman this telegram:

"I hereby notify you the Chicago club accepts Player Pick as per agreement. Business manager will send you check." Pick finished the season with the Cubs and played in the world series. He was taken on an optional agreement when the Coast league closed its gates last summer.

Frazee May Buy Giants, Aided by Cohan, Harris

New York, Dec. 3.—George Cohan and Sam Harris may become owners of the New York Giants with Harry Frazee, if the dope slipped around today turns out correct.

Frazee, according to report, has been dickering with Harry N. Hempstead of the Giants for several months with a view to taking over the 1,400 shares of the stock of the club which are held by Mrs. Hempstead and Mrs. John T. Brush, on which a value of $1,000,000 has been placed.

Ray Fisher Sworn Out as Fort Slocum Sports Head

Middlebury, Vt., Dec. 3.—Ray Fisher, former New York American league pitcher, who for the past year has been assistant physical director at Fort Slocum, N. Y., has obtained his discharge from the service and today came here to spend several months on his farm. His plans for the future, he said, were uncertain.

Evanston G. C. Bygone; New Club's List Filled

After an existence of twenty years, during which period it occupied leased property in three different locations, the Evanston Golf club has disbanded and merged into the New Evanston Golf club, the majority of the members being affiliated with the new organization.

In winding up the affairs of the club a resolution was unanimously passed conveying to the new club the property and other assets of the old. The few members who did not join the new club were taken care of on a share pro rata basis. It was announced that the New Evanston club had completed its membership and had a waiting list.

Verri and Drobach Drop from Six Day Bike Grind

New York, Dec. 4.—When the riders in the six day bicycle race had completed one-third of the contest at Madison Square garden at midnight only one team, Drobach and Verri, had dropped out. Thirteen of the surviving teams were tied, having covered [illegible] miles, one lap, with the trailing pair, the Bowker brothers, one lap behind. The record for forty-eight hours, made by Goullet and Grenda four years ago, is 1,011 miles, one lap.

In the Wake of the News

By RING W. LARDNER

LA DRIVE EST FINIE.

THE committee in charge of the R. W. L. Relief drive announced last night that the drive was over; not over the top, but plain over.

"Jamais encore!" said the committee.

Official report of the receipts follows:

Previously acknowledged	$1.61
Jack Norworth [anonymous]	1.00
Stamps and checks	1.90
Total	$4.51
The disbursements were:
Time, opening mail, at 20c per hour	$2.00
Cost of going from here to La Salle and Jackson and back to get Jack Norworth's telegraphed dollar	2.40
Total	$4.40

It will thus be seen that the drive netted $.11 profit; in other words, with $4,999.89 more subscribed, the $5,000 minimum would have been obtained.

There remains in the committee's hands a bunch of merchandise which John Kelley (Veteran Tribune Police Reporter) suggests that we offer at public sale, receipts to go to the fund. Such sale will therefore be held next Saturday midnight at the feet of Wabash avenue, and the following described articles, donated in an ill timed spirit of levity by the girls of the Sunday room, the girls from Iowa and the girls from the society dept. and etc. will be disposed of:

One package of foot's-ease, one package of court plaster, one dead shrimp, one soiled collar, size 13½, one pair scissors, 12 safety pins, one red hog oiler, 53 beautifully illustrated playing cards in box, one red and white picture of George Washington, one purple and white picture of George Washington, one green and white picture of George Washington, three children's games, one set of literature describing a hog waterer, one imitation elk's horn, one pair senile shoes, one empty golf bag, one bottle splendor perfume, Chinese, Mexican, French, Canadian, and British coins and stamps, etc.

The committee sneers at the public for the latter's coöperation and hopes the day will soon come when he is asked to come through for a worthy charity, and, believe me, the party attempting the touch will wish they hadn't.

"PREP" TITLE BATTLE ON MAROONS' FIELD

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

Coaches A. E. Barradell of Englewood and Glenn Thistlethwaite of Oak Park yesterday agreed on Stagg field at 2:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon as the place for the championship high school football game of Cook county. Both teams are unbeaten, Englewood holding the Chicago High School league bunting, while Oak Park is undisputed champion of the Suburban High School circuit.

The teams are undergoing intensive training in special plays for the climactic game. Oak Park, which played its last game on Nov. 23, has been practicing consistently ever since, and its quartet of fast broken field backfield runners, Steger, Swanson, Pyott, and Barney, will be prepared to spring some new stuff on the City league champions.

O. P. Has Field Goal Kickers.

Oak Park possesses both drop and place kickers, should the team be balked after an advance into Englewood territory. There is little effort being made at Oak Park to add perfection to the reliable work of Full Back Timme, captain, and one of the best plungers in the local prep ranks in years.

Englewood's team is drilling at Ogden park, where the backfield is being equipped with plays which are calculated to utilize to the full extent the driving power of such men as Palmer, Vickers, and Atkinson, who combine both weight and fleetness. As is the case with Oak Parak, Englewood has two quarter backs, the south paw Bryson, and Folz. Oak Park's alternate pilots are Swanson and Barney.

Betting at Evens.

The elevens are conspicuously the best of the high school class in this section and the rivalry has led to some wagering on the outcome. The bets have been laid at evens.

The officials of the two schools are hoping for a larger attendance than at both college and service games played in Chicago this autumn, and the transfer from Oak Park, where the game was originally scheduled before its postponement from Thanksgiving day, was occasioned considerably by the argument of greater accommodations at Stagg field. Tickets downtown were put on sale yesterday at Spalding's and Wilson's.

GRANT GRIDDERS TO PLAY FUNSTON

Camp Grant, Ill., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Camp Grant's hard luck football squad will play one more game, having been booked to meet Camp Funston at the Kansas cantonment Dec. 9. Lieuts. Guy, Westbecker, players, and Levis, assistant coach of the Grant eleven, will not be discharged until after the game. The game is understood to be played at the request of Gen. Leonard Wood.

Camp Grant boxers are making strenuous preparations for the boxing tourney with Camp Custer, at Rockford, Dec. 19. The bouts will consist of two eight round affairs between picked men from the two camps.

By LARRY ST. JOHN

VOX POP ON DUCKS.

OSHKOSH, Wis.—[To the Editor.]—Well, Larry, I just got in from duck hunting, and, believe me, it was some day—blue bills and "Winnebagos" only ducks left. They will leave in a day or so, as the only lake open now is Winnebago and it is covered with slush ice. I was on the best point and the best blind in the state of Wisconsin, without a doubt. The keeper, an expert duck shot, and myself knocked down the limit in no time.

Have been interested in your column, especially regarding hawks killing ducks. I will tell you something I saw yesterday. I knocked five blue bills out of a flock, all cripples, but was only able to finish two. In a little while I saw two ordinary seagulls making a h—l of a fuss about a quarter of a mile away. I had occasion to chase another cripple in that direction, so paddled over and found that these two gulls had found one of our cripples and had put it out of misery by picking a hole in the duck's back and thereby getting a feed. Of course a gull cannot get a normal duck like that, but, just like a lot of hunters, they sure do pick on the cripples. I have always been under the impression that they were only scavengers.

Duck hunting has been a disappointment, yesterday being an exception. Don't know how true it may be, but some seem to attribute the poor hunting to the recent forest fires in Minnesotas, as the Dakotas report an exceptionally heavy flight all fall. Yours truly, W. T. C.

[Editor's Note—We, too, have heard hunters blame the scarcity of ducks in certain sections to the forest fires. Enormous flights are reported west of the Mississippi, especially in Utah. The "Winnebago" ducks referred to are, we believe, Barrow's golden eyes.]

Louie Brunner set the pace with 645 pins and a high count of 255. A. Mennie shared some of the honors by tipping the maples for 245 in his opening game.

Volz and Strey Lead Doubles.

W. Volz and A. Strey were the top performers in the two man event with 1,190, which may be high enough at the finish to get them a return of their entry money. They were followed by T. Breycha and T. Walton with 1,135, and E. Dugdale and F. Slager with 1,116.

Al Lingle set the pace in the individual event with three double century games that gave him 654. He had a count of 235 as his best effort. P. Milbert was second high with 627, followed by L. Belanger with 615.

1919 Auto Racing Season to Surpass 'Good Old Days'

BY SHEPPARD BUTLER.

Plans for a revival of the "good old days" of automobile racing have been launched on a scale which bids fair to make 1919 the most notable year in the history of the sport.

As a starter the Indianapolis speedway, which closed its gates when the United States entered the war, has quietly entered the lists with arrangements for offering a $100,000 purse by way of allurement to the contest which will mark its return to racing activity. Officials of the American Automobile association have set aside May 30 and July 4, the two best dates in the year, for the Hoosier authorities to choose from, with the assurance that they may have whichever they prefer.

Indianapolis to Revive Team.

The racing team which Indianapolis has campaigned at other speedways throughout the country in past years probably will be reorganized also. Racing drivers generally are so sure of this that already many of them are bidding for places in its ranks.

Another project much discussed, but as yet unconfirmed officially, is the formation of a Packard racing team. Packard had much to do with the development of the Liberty aviation engine (indeed, it was one of the experimental types of this motor that won Ralph de Palma his championship this year), and it is said the company is considering the advisability of equipping a fleet of racing cars with small editions of the famous power plant and sending them out under factory auspices.

Other Factory Teams.

Many other factory teams are expected, for the builders realize the advertising value of racing, and its need in helping the industry recover from the blows dealt by the war.

Plans are under way for a big reception for Eddie Rickenbacher when the American "ace" returns from his triumphs in France. It is regarded as almost foregone conclusion that "Rick" will return to the racing game, and it is thought he will make an effort to bring with him one or more of the English Sunbeams, which he believes to be the world's greatest racing cars.

In all this Chicago appears to be left out in the cold as a result of the grotesque mixup which led to dismantling the speedway in Broadview and starting an army hospital on the grounds. There has been talk of building another speedway near Chicago, but it is unlikely that any such project can be brought to realization next year.

SCOTS END WINS OF GREAT LAKES SOCCER PLAYERS

In a splendidly fought game which kept the big crowd on edge from start to finish the Scottish-Americans last night gave the Great Lakes soccer team its first defeat in the series at the International Live Stock show, 1 to 0. Both teams played with ginger, and some excellent combination work was shown. Neither side was able to score in the first period, although Humpert and Birchall, the opposing goalkeepers, each made good stops.

The second period was equally well fought, and it was not until near the end that W. Brown scored the lone goal from a throw-in. The sailors disputed the goal on the ground that it was their throw-in, but the linesman ruled it had touched a navy halfback before going over the line. Lineup:

Great Lakes [0].		Scottish Americans [1].
Humpert	Goal	Birchall
Oberle	Full back	W. Paul
Johnson	Half back	Moir
Lee	Half back	Timmis
McLaughlin	Right forward	W. Brown
Marre	Center	Crosbie
Corrigan	Left forward	Mair

Goal—W. Brown.

Tonight the navy will meet the Bricklayers, who will have veteran Ben Govier on the forward line.

WELLING VICTOR IN DUNDEE MILL

Boston, Mass., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Joe Welling, the Chicago battler, won the decision in his twelve round go with Johnny Dundee of New York at the Armory A. A. tonight. The fight ended fast after a somewhat slow start. Dundee's chief trouble was the Chicago man's reach, which handicapped him greatly. Welling played for Dundee's body. In the tenth Welling landed a hard right over Dundee's heart, but clever blocking by Dundee saved him from distress.

CRANE DEFEATS MARSHALL.

The Crane checker team scored its sixth straight victory in winning from Marshall, 23 points to 7, in a Chicago High School league match at Crane yesterday. The best players were Chiappe, Shapiro, and Magid. After playing Lane next week, Crane will meet Medill for the title.

STATE SOCCER MEN TO MEET.

A general meeting of the Illinois State Football association will be held tonight at the Great Northern hotel. It will be decided whether the teams will continue their league schedule. The executive board will meet at 7:30 o'clock.

Handball Tourney Draws Nearly 100 City Firemen

If the entries continue to pour in as they have in the last twenty-four hours, some 200 city firemen will compete for the Edward R. Litsinger cup when handball play opens Saturday. Already close to 100 have enrolled for the tournament.

MAT HEADLINERS OF NATION AT SHOW FOR 11TH REGIMENT FUND

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

With Joe Stecher and Ed (Strangler) Lewis, wrestlers of national reputation, meeting worthy opponents, the complete program of the military athletic carnival of the Eleventh regiment, Illinois militia, to be held at the Second regiment armory, 2653 West Madison street, tomorrow night, was announced yesterday by Maj. C. H. Searle, athletic director of the regiment. The proceeds will go toward a fund to purchase a motor truck and ambulance for the regiment. The price of admission will be $1.

Joe Stecher, who lost the heavyweight title to Sergt. Earl Caddock and is in the service at the Great Lakes, will meet Jack Rogers. Lewis, who is in the army at Camp Grant, will lock holds with John Freiburg. In addition to these matches, Lou Talaber will meet Steve Lechki and Herman Koch will grapple with Tony Ball.

Between the wrestling bouts vaudeville acts will be staged and songs rendered by well known stars. The municipal pier sextet also will render a selection. The Eleventh regiment and Great Lakes bands will open the carnival with a selection which will be followed by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." The show will close with the singing of "America."

The wrestling matches were arranged by Charley Postl, while men prominent in wrestling circles will act as referees of the various contests, which will go twenty minutes to decisions.

JEFFERSON PARK FIVE WINS.

Jefferson Park Presbyterian church 115 pound tossers won from the Etisonna A. C. on the church team's floor, 50 to 6, last night.

LOCAL CUEIST'S DEBUT A TRIUMPH OVER MAUPOME

Art Thurnblad Upsets the Interstate Champion in Chicago League Match.

BY JOE DAVIS.

Making his first appearance in a major league, Art Thurnblad of Burdick's room defeated Pierre Maupome of Milwaukee, 45 to 49, in sixty-one innings in their Chicago Billiard league game at Burdick's last night. Maupome had to concede Thurnblad fifteen points and it looked easy for the interstate champion when he led, 23 to 22, in twenty-three innings, Thurnblad's handicap being included.

Starting the thirty-fifth inning Thurnblad gave a fine display, scoring twenty-one points in thirteen innings, and led, 53 to 38. Then he slowed and Maupome began to cut down the lead, getting within five points of the Chicagoan. Maupome failed to score again and Thurnblad went out with runs of 1 and 4.

The local player looks like a big card for this season's play. Tonight Maupome will meet Lundgren at Menk and Reading's room. Scores:

Martinson and Savage to Wrestle C. A. A. Windup

Paul Martinson and Jack Savage will meet in the feature bout of the bimonthly wrestling show of the Chicago Athletic association Saturday night. In the other bouts, Jack Reber, who made a hit with the Cherry Circle wrestling fans at the last show, will meet a worthy opponent, and Ed (Strangler) Lewis will be pitted against a grappler yet to be selected. Lieut. Jack Kennedy of the Great Lakes will referee all bouts.

52 Wrestlers Already Enter C. A. A. U. Event

Fifty-two entries already have been received for the Central A. A. U. wrestling championships, to be held at the Seventh Regiment armory on Dec. 13 and 14, under auspices of the veteran corps of the First regiment. Capt. W. H. Graham, who is receiving the nominations, said team entries have been received from the Gary Y. M. C. A., Greek Olympic A. C., Chicago Turners, and Western Electric company.

CORONER CALLS ON LOWDEN FOR DUNNING PROBE

Sends Data Embracing Twenty Deaths of Insane Patients.

Coroner Peter M. Hoffman yesterday afternoon called upon Gov. Lowden to institute a thorough investigation of conditions in the Chicago state hospital for the insane at Dunning. He sounded a solemn warning that unless conditions are changed further violent deaths of patients may be expected.

The coroner backed his request with concrete evidence of deaths from violence at the institution. In his communication to the governor he detailed twenty specific cases of death from violence which have occurred since Feb. 23 last. In addition he pointed out the need of radical reforms in administration and the management of patients.

The coroner indicated that he is not satisfied with Dr. Charles Read's management of the institution, and advises an inquiry into the efficiency of the entire staff.

Psychopathic Also Hit.

Mr. Hoffman also turned his attention to the psychopathic hospital and stated that in a day or two he expects to have a report on conditions there. In this connection it became known that conditions in that branch of the county service were looked into several months ago by Peter Reinberg, chairman of the board of county commissioners. As a result three attendants, found guilty of cruelty to patients, were discharged.

The coroner's office files show that there were five deaths from violence at the psychopathic this year. From the evidence offered at the inquests it appears that several were due to carelessness and inefficiency of attendants.

In commenting upon the Dunning situation the coroner said: "I have satisfied myself that a thorough airing of the conditions there is needed. Hundreds of relatives and friends of inmates are making inquiry concerning the place and the way it is operated. They should have their fears allayed and an inquiry and its results will do this."

Letter to Governor.

The coroner's letter to the governor follows in part:

"Better care of the patients by attendants calls for three essential reforms:

"First—Forty dollars a month and keep is no pay for what the attendants are required to do. It should be doubled at least.

"Secondly—The written examination now in vogue should be abolished.

"Thirdly—The number of attendants should be very largely increased.

"Injury to patients and even death at the hands of each other must be expected and, if an attendant is cruel, there is no one to report them.

"The grade of attendants attracted by the present low wages and the scarcity of help has made them so indifferent to their patients that they walk away in large numbers and throw confusion and mismanagement into the institution.

Sees Help Plentiful.

"Physical restraints, I am informed, are prohibited. Help may now be plentiful. Those who have been taking care of the sick and wounded will soon return and proper inducement both as to living quarters and as to wages should be held out to them to attract them to this asylum.

"The number of escapes of patients is entirely too great.

"The quarters and surroundings offered to the attendants and the food given them make their lot—already hard—much harder, and a sharp and radical reform should be worked in this particular.

"As to the medical side of the institution and its management under Dr. Read, I am not in a position to pass judgment. I have heard conflicting reports as to him and his management, but do not know where the truth lies."

Violence on Increase.

The violent death list at Dunning compiled by the coroner shows that seven of the twenty fatalities occurred in the month of December, indicating that conditions are becoming worse all the time.

Superintendent Read yesterday took cognizance of the statement of Dr. Rosalie M. Ladova, who charged the hospital officials with gross mismanagement. The physician said that he would welcome an official inquiry. He said Dr. Ladova's resignation had been requested last October because of "laziness and inefficiency."

James Whittaker, Aid to Deneen, Dies Suddenly

James Whittaker, 58 years old, a former assistant state's attorney, 1037 North Hoyne avenue, died suddenly yesterday. Mr. Whittaker was taken ill while waiting for a street car at North Robey and Augusta streets. He was taken into a neighboring store, where he died.

Mr. Whittaker was born in Manchester, England, in 1859, and when he was 18 years old he came to this country. He served as an assistant state's attorney four years under State's Attorney Jacob Kern, and eight years under State's Attorney Charles S. Deneen. He went with Mr. Deneen to Springfield as secretary to the governor. Since 1912 he had acted as private secretary to former Gov. Deneen.

Mr. Whittaker's survivors include his wife and a son, James Whittaker Jr., well known in Chicago as a pianist and a writer on music. He is now in France as a first lieutenant of the One Hundred and Twentieth United States field artillery.

CUT PHONE WIRES AND START FIRE IN WOMEN'S HOME

Mrs. Augusta Carlson, who resides with her daughter, Mrs. James Fleetwood, at 2186 Washington boulevard, telephoned at 12:30 o'clock this morning to the Warren avenue police station for help. She told Sergt. Chatt that herself and daughter were endangered by a fire started by an outsider in the basement of their home, after the telephone wire had been cut, and explained that she was phoning from the house of a neighbor.

Detectives Lynch and Cahill rushed to the house, and found the gas cocks open in the basement and evidence that kerosene had been sprinkled on the woodwork. The flames had meantime been extinguished by the two women.

Mrs. Fleetwood has for some time been estranged from her husband, an ex-member of the police force. On the strength of the detectives' report, the police say, a further investigation is being made.

McKinlay Denies Voting Against Salary Increase

County Commissioner Robert W. McKinlay, who Monday took up a fight for higher pay for county employés, yesterday discussed his vote on the passage of the salary increase for the commissioners, over President Reinberg's veto. He said that the vote on the proposition was unanimous.

CORONER'S AID PUT ON GRILL IN DEATH CASE

Dr. Reinhardt Quizzed as Expert for Insurance Company.

Coroner's Physician H. G. W. Reinhardt had an uncomfortable time yesterday on the witness stand in a case before the industrial commission of Illinois.

Although the chief medical assistant of Coroner Hoffman, he was testifying as an expert for the Travelers' Insurance company, which is endeavoring to avert the payment of a death claim under the Illinois compensation acts.

Dr. Reinhardt's testimony concerned the cause of death of Henry Hulke, employed by the Stewart-Warner Speedometer corporation. Hulke said before his death, last January, that he had been hit upon the head by a heavy piece of steel at the Stewart plant.

The widow put in a claim. The corporation passed it on to the Travelers' Insurance company, which carried its industrial insurance. Meantime, Dr. Reinhardt as coroner's physician had give na decision that Hulke died not of injuries but of cyanide of potassium poisoning.

When Dr. Reinhardt took the stand as an expert yesterday before Arbiter Daniel J. May for the industrial commission, he appeared in behalf of the insurance company. He was rigidly cross examined by Attorney Fred Bentley.

Cross-fire High Spots.

The high spots of the cross-fire and answers is given as follows:

Q.—As coroner's physician, what salary do you make? A.—Twenty-five hundred dollars a year.

Q.—Do you know Dr. Arthur E. Price? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Have you an office with him? A.—I have not.

Q.—Have you ever had? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—When? A.—For about three years prior to one year ago.

Q.—Where is your office now? A.—In the Insurance Exchange building, room 1015.

Q.—What was Dr. Price's line of business in particular?

Mr. Cox—Now, I object. How is that material what Dr. Price did?

Arbiter May—Let him answer.

"First Aid" Work.

A.—First aid to the injured.

Q.—What is that? A.—He had a certain clientele of manufacturers and builders whose employés, when injured, were sent to him for first aid treatment.

Q.—He took them, first aid, and finished them, and then after they were killed you took it up as coroner's physician—that was it, was it not? A.—He was very expert—none were killed.

Q.—Well, after Dr. Price got one of them——? A.—(Interrupting). None was killed.

Q.—What business was Dr. Haney in? A.—He was my assistant. He furnished first aid—furnished first aid, and——

Q.—(Interrupting). And then when the coroners' autopsy was performed and the inquest came up you were on hand? That was the combination, wasn't it? A.—No answer.

Q.—Well, you were pretty well fixed for it, were you not? A.—(Laughing). O, yes, we were ready for any emergency.

Enter Mr. Cox.

Q.—How did you hapepn to be here today? A.—I was asked to be here by Mr. Cox, Frank N. Cox, attorney for the Travelers' Insurance company.

Q—(Mr. Bentley.) What do you expect to be paid? A.—I don't know. I have testified in these rooms for $15 and for $50.

Q.—What company is it here, doctor, that he represents? A.—I understand that Mr. Cox is representing the Stewart-Warner Speedometer company. I don't know whether he is defending the case for the Stewart-Warner or for the Travelers'.

He Gets "Retainers."

Q.—Have you ever received any bills from the Travelers' Insurance company? A.—Yes, sir. My firm for four years has been getting bills or checks from the Travelers' for first aid work as far back as I can remember we were in business.

Q.—Well, that is to say that among the numerous employers represented by your clients, some come from the Travelers', some from the Ætna, and others, so on down, and then, in addition to being coroner's physician, you are accepting retainers right along from these insurance companies, aren't you? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—For how long? A.—Ever since I have been practicing medicine.

Of Serving Both Interests.

Q.—Do you think, as a public officer, that is consistent with your duty? A.—I do.

Q.—You believe, doctor, that you can serve both interests? A.—When a man is honest——

Q. (Mr. Bentley, interrupting) —Haven't you testified before this board that a man died of kidney trouble in a case where he was electrocuted? A.—No, sir, I have not.

Q.—How many times have you testified before this board? A.—I can't say.

Q.—Did you ever see Hulke alive? A.—Yes, at the hospital.

Q.—You went there as coroner's physician? A.—No, as a friend.

Q.—That was the first time? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—When did you first hear of him? A—Either the 31st or 30th of December, 1917.

Enter Mr. Hoffman.

Q—And you immediately became his friend? A—Through Peter Hoffman.

Q—Whom did he hear of him through? A—His brother—the dead man's brother.

Q—So Peter Hoffman sent you out there? A—Yes, sir.

Q—And by hearsay Peter Hoffman told you it was this man's brother who wanted the coroner to go out and see him before he died? A—No, sir.

Q—What did you go there for, then? A—Peter Hoffman had been solicited by the brother to put the sick man in the County Hospital because of the enormous expense entailed following an operation in July, so he could receive further treatment free. The question then arose whether he was a hospital patient and required hospital treatment. Coroner Hoffman asked me to see.

Q—And you went and examined him and considered him a hospital patient? A—Yes, sir.

Q.—And believed that he was bound to die if he remained in that condition? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—Did you do anything toward removing him from that hospital? A.—No, sir.

Q.—Did you make a report? A.—No, sir.

The Poison Story.

Q.—You say, in your opinion, he died of cyanide potassium. You know what cyanide potassium is and you are correct about that? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—You don't know whether that cyanide potassium could have been put in there between the time of the man's death and the time you performed the post-mortem? A.—Yes, I do.

Q.—(Continuing). You were not with him; you don't even know except by hearsay where the body was, and yet you say you are able to say it was not put in there after he died? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—When you performed the post mortem who was there. A.—Dr. Wheeler.

Q.—Dr. Wheeler was on the job? A.—Yes, sir. I found him there when I got there.

Q.—He was expecting you? A.—Yes, sir.

Q.—And Dr. Moyer? A.—Yes, sir.

The hearing was continued until tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock.

Physician Sees Plot.

Dr. William Loeser, who attended Hulke, did not hesitate to charge in an interview that the cyanide of potassium was placed in Hulke's body after death. He said:

"I will justify every professional act of mine, and I will show that the coroner's office is being used by the insurance companies to defeat just such claims as this.

"It is time that Coroner Hoffman should realize that his office is being used by the insurance companies when they hire his assistants to give expert testimony for them."

CLEAN-UP.

New Crime Squad Arrests Thirty of City's Best Known Crooks.

Following transfer back to the detective bureau of a number of experts in criminal work, by Chief of Police John J. Garrity Monday, a squad was formed by Chief of Detectives James L. Mooney to specialize on the suppression of crime in Chicago.

The members of the squad are: Detective Sergeants Thomas McFarland, John Cantan, Dennis Sullivan, Robert Jacobs, Frank Smith, and William O'Connor.

Immediately after its formation the squad was sent out by Chief Mooney with orders to "clean up." As a result of the order more than thirty well known crooks found themselves in the detective bureau last night "looking out."

According to Chief Mooney the cells at the detective bureau were occupied last night by over fifty criminals of one kind or another, while the corridors upstairs were crowded with lawyers and bondsmen trying to arrange for their release.

COURT'S SOMBER SETTING GIVES JUDGE THE BLUES

Casket Handles and Sonorous Lawyers Too Funereal.

It was a somber scene—the courtroom. Arrayed in solemn order on the massive tables were scores of casket handles. About the room walked lawyers as morosely as mourners, with Federal Judge Carpenter sittting in austere judgment.

"Who invented casket handles?" was the legal topic considered, and to determine the question lawyers delved into coffins of historical characters.

"I wish some one would play the 'Dead March' or something lively," said "Capt." Caulder, the veteran court bailiff, after the arguments had gone on for two hours. "This coffin stuff sure gives me the jimmies."

Question of Origin.

"Who invented coffin handles?" was precipitated by the Crane & Breed Manufacturing company of Cincinnati. It takes the position that one Charles Blesch of Newport, Ky., in 1914, "invented and discovered" a "certain new, original, and ornamental design for burial casket handles not known or used by others before" and which was duly patented. Then along came the Elgin Silver Plate company of Elgin, Ill., it claims, and started selling "a greatly inferior" casket handle at reduced prices. The Cincinnati concern now asks that the Elgin company's handles be scrapped and it be given "threefold damages."

After Judge Carpenter had listened to a solemn dissertation on casket handles from the plaintiff's lawyer and had viewed the remains—er—er—handles—up rose Francis W. Parker, counsel for the defendant.

Defy Rules of Art.

"Judge, look at these pictures," he said, handing the court a bundle of photographs. "Now, those pictures are of houses out in Evanston. Look and you will see the same designs in the architecture of the windows as in these casket handles. Worse than that, these handles fail to follow the well established principles of art."

Then, holding up one of the pieces of burial hardware before the jurist, he said in accusing tones:

"You can see, judge, that its several parts are not related, nor do they harmonize according to the well established canons of art. Further, casket handles can't be discovered or invented. They have been used since the days of the pyramids. Now, take the handles on the casket of——"

Too Much for Judge.

The jurist, who had throughout been gazing sadly at the gloomy array of casket hardware, finally broke in:

"Gentlemen, you may submit your views to me in briefs. I can't decide now."

Wife's 150 Sprees in Four Years Win Clown Divorce

Harry La Pearl, a circus clown, won a decree of divorce yesterday when he testified that his wife, Mrs. Frances McGinley La Pearl, was drunk 150 times in four years.

"And the worst of it all, judge," testified La Pearl, who lives at 3740 Wilton avenue, "is that the money she spent for drink was given her by me to buy food."

TRAIN CUTS OFF WOMAN'S LIMBS.

BON BON BOUNTY

Extra Prices Will Continue After War, Candy Salesmen Conclude at Meeting Here.

GIRLS, here's bad news, sad news, real tough news. Candy isn't going to be cheaper at all—not if the candy salesmen can help it. Go back to peace time prices? Not on your molasses kisses! They've discovered that candy is a necessity. Therefore—

The Western Confectionery Salesmen's association, which met at Hotel Sherman yesterday, and N. L. Towle, vice president, spilled the jelly beans by saying:

"The war has taught us one great lesson. Candy is a necessity and no one is going without it. Every organization interested in the soldiers has continually seen that they are supplied with candy. The United States government has even recognized the need.

"Despite prices, people have bought candy. The lesson we have learned is that it is unnecessary to cut prices in order to sell candy. We will not cut prices. We will not go back to prewar prices. Employés throughout the candy industry will not have to acept a reduction in wages either." [Applause!]

So, there you are, girls!

BANDIT'S PALLOR TRAPS HIM AND PREVENTSHOLDUP

Another one of these busy gunmen is in jail. Frank Meyers of Meyers Bros., jewelers, Chicago avenue and Milwaukee avenue, is chiefly responsible for his capture. The man entered the store last evening and asked to be shown a diamond.

"I want a very good ring. What it costs does not matter. It is for a friend," he said.

There were several customers in the store and two girl clerks. Mr. Meyers showed him a stone or two, and then, saying he would look for a better one, slipped to the rear of the store and called up the West Chicago avenue police.

"There's a fellow in here who doesn't look right," he said. "His color is bad. He's either a dope fiend or has prison pallor, and I suspect him."

Detective Sergeants Christopher Hughes, Frank Walsh, and William Stegeman arrived quickly.

The man asked to see the diamonds again. Hughes noticed that he held his right hand in his overcoat pocket. Meyers was game. He calmly showed the diamonds. Suddenly Hughes stuck his pistol at the man's head and said:

"The jig's up. Don't try to use that gun."

"Yes, I guess it is," said the fellow with a sickly smile.

In his pocket a .38 caliber automatic pistol was found with a second clip of cartridges ready for use. At the West Chicago avenue station they questioned him. According to the police he said:

"I've been in Chicago eleven days. I went out to the Sinclair Oil company's filling station at 6647 Ridge avenue on the night of Nov. 21 and robbed the manager of $115."

The records show that Don E. Wagner, at that address, was held up at about 7 o'clock on Nov. 21.

"I also held up the Ziff drug store and got $28 the other night," the man added to his confession, the police say. Benjamin Ziff was in the store at the time. It is at 1100 Ainslie street. Then the man told his story.

"My name is Leroy Paisley. I am the son of a prominent physician of Seattle, Wash. A few years ago I got to drinking and when I took the drink cure they gave me drugs. I became addicted to the habit.

"I had planned a series of robberies here. The first two succeeded."

"Have you any notches on your gun? Ever killed any one?"

"Thank God, no."

LOOK OUT! "FLU" WILL LURK ABOUT FOUR MORE YEARS

Danger Until the Last Trace Goes, Warning of Doctors.

Chicago's supposedly checked influenza epidemic is still with us. Its going to stay around this winter and we may not see the last of it for four years.

This was the declaration of Health Commissioner Robertson yesterday in commenting on the increased number of "flu" cases reported in the last few days.

"I never admitted that the epidemic was over," said the commissioner. "I do believe, however, that we will have a smaller number of deaths from the cases now than we had when the epidemic seemed to be at its height a few weeks ago."

Report for 24 Hours.

In the twenty-four hours ending at 9 o'clock yesterday morning there were thirteen deaths from influenza and twenty-one from pneumonia. During the same period 221 new cases of influenza and seventy of pneumonia were reported.

"I wish the druggists of the city would not sell preparations containing opiates for use in influenza cases," said Dr. Robertson. "I believe the use of such preparations is a sure invitation to pneumonia."

Dr. Robertson ordered inspectors to collect sampless of all cough medicines which do not contain a list of ingredients on their labels.

To Prosecute Laxity.

Dr. C. St. Clair Drake, state health director, yesterday ordered state health officers to start prosecutions for all infractions of the health rules.

Health Commissioner Roome of Evanston declared yesterday that there was no change in the "flu' situation there.

Pastors of two Catholic churches of Evanston, who broke the quarantine regulations by holding services during the recent epidemic, face prosecution as the result of action taken by the city council last night. The corporation counsel and the city prosecutor were instructed to take the necessary legal steps.

Lovell's Soldier Turned Loose; Goes Back to Camp

Sergt. James S. Bruce, the hard luck soldier, who wooed and won Lovell Ellington and then went to jail, is on his way back to Camp Gordon, from whence he came. And it's a thankful soldier he is today.

Monday night, Bruce was picked up by government agents because he did not have papers to justify his being absent from camp. He went to the South Clark street police station. Yesterday morning he was released when Maj. Crockett, head of the army intelligence service announced he had seen papers explaining Bruce's presence. He left for camp immediately.

City Painter Is Cleared of Charge of Irregularity

A charge that Thomas Wakefield, a city painter, might have used city time and paint in painting several buildings near the municipal pier, was denied yesterday by Deputy Commissioner of Public Works Burkhardt. Mr. Burkhardt said that an investigation showed that the buildings in question were painted by Wakefield while he was not working for the city, and that the materials were paid for by the owners of the structure, not the city.

HINES GIVEN A VERBAL HOSPITAL O. K., BAKER SAYS

Claim Is Considered, but Project Is Off, Is Verdict.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—After thorough consideration of negotiations between the government and Edward Hines of Chicago regarding construction of the Speedway hospital at Maywood, Ill., Secretary of War Baker announced today that there appeared to have been a verbal understanding between the surgeon general's department and Mr. Hines authorizing Mr. Hines to go ahead with the Maywood project.

Secretary Baker said that the whole subject, concerning which there had been much dispute, had been investigated by the inspector general's department, and that the inspector general had reported to him the existence of a verbal contract or agreement between the surgeon general's department and Mr. Hines and his associates.

Baker Saw Hines.

"I recently conferred with Mr. Hines regarding the Maywood hospital project," said Secretary Baker. "At that conference the inspector general was present and informed me that the contention made by Mr. Hines of authorization from the surgeon general's department to go ahead with the hospital was based upon a verbal contract. His investigation, the inspector general said, had developed that there was such an understanding.

"That is where the matter appears to stand and, as to any question of claims upon the government for money invested in the project, I take it to be a matter that will come within the jurisdiction of a new board of adjustments which has been appointed to pass upon such things.

Fair Claims Considered.

"It will be the purpose of this board to see that all claims against the government shown to be proper shall be settled justly and equitably."

Secretary Baker had no knowledge of the many reports which have been made regarding influences brought to bear from various sources concerning the Maywood project. So far as the department is concerned, the hospital will not be needed now and the only issues now are disposition of the property and whatever claims may lie against the government, if any.

Mr. Hines is still in Washington and declined to discuss the matter today with a correspondent for THE TRIBUNE, intimating that he might have something to say later. Reports that M. M. Hitchcock, the missing Berwyn real estate man who made an appraisal of the Speedway property, was in Washington could not be verified.

HITCHCOCK ON SOUTH SIDE?

Further trace of Milan M. Hitchcock was obtained yesterday.

An employé of Lamson Brothers & Co., commission men at 141 West Jackson boulevard, told Chief of Detectives Mooney that he saw Hitchcock Friday—the day after he was seen in the lobby of the Fort Dearborn hotel supposedly with John R. Hunter, the detective. The latest informant said he saw the missing man in Sixty-third street, near the station of the Illinois Central railroad. He said he has known Hitchcock for the last thirty years, since they were employed together by the Lamson company. Hitchcock wore a gray cloth cap and was carrying a small black bag, he said.

Mrs. Hitchcock stated last night that Hitchcock had worked for the Lamson company. She stated that he did possess such a cap as was described, but that it was at home.

Family Gets No Trace.

Members of the Hitchcock family, however, said last night they had got no trace of the missing man's whereabouts. Reports that friends of Hitchcock would cause the arrest of an attorney and a private detective resulted in no action.

A new agency of search entered the field during the day, however. This was J. R. Hunter, the detective employed by Attorney Jacob Newman, at the instance of Mr. Hines, to look up Hitchcock's qualifications as a realty expert.

"I'm sick of these stories that I know anything of Hitchcock," he said. "I would give anything to find him and end this mystery."

The detective produced his files to show that the only investigation work he performed covered a period of four calendar days ending Nov. 14. His last conversation with Hitchcock, he said, was over the telephone to Hitchcock's Berwyn home on the night of Nov. 14.

Not at Hotel.

He reiterated his former denials that he had been with Hitchcock at the Fort Dearborn hotel on the day of the latter's disappearance. He said he had not been with Hitchcock at any time except in the Hunter offices in the Otis building.

Hunter visited Detective Chief Mooney's office twice during the day. He is said to have made suggestions to the police as to search measures, and at his own suggestion made affidavit to his story of his dealings with Hitchcock for the police.

Chief Mooney admitted that his men, who have been working for a week, have not turned up a single tangible clew upon which to pursue a systematic hunt for Hitchcock.

Cats and Husbands Women's Chief Topics at "Hobby" Dinner

Hobbies and hubbies, cats and children and socialism, knitting and the business woman, all these and more topics were discussed at the "hobby dinner" given at the Brownleigh club last night in the Powers building. There was no definition of what a hobby is, and therefore no restraint.

"Everybody at this table has to tell what his or her hobby is," said the chairman, Mrs. Frederick Webster. The two men present, a pianist and a singer, fled precipitately. The women, less reticent, then trotted out their hobbies.

"My hobby," said Mrs. Webster, "is promoting work for other people to do. Take knitting, for instance; I don't know how many people I've taught to knit."

"My hobby is watching the development of the business woman," said Mrs. Sophie Delavan, president of the Chicago Woman's Association of Commerce. "Since war has come the working girls have passed out of that class and become business women."

The woman to the right of Mrs. Delavan was called upon next. She hesitated.

"I don't know if I should tell my hobby when there are so many grand things said," she murmuded. [Cries of "Go on!"] "My hobby is cats. I like the little fuzzy ones that get all tangled up in your knitting, and I like the great big lazy ones that lie behind the stove, and I love to go after the alley cats and feed them."

"Well," said Dr. Lucy Waite, who gained note some months ago by reason of a bill providing that upon the birth of a child out of wedlock the parents were automatically married, "I know you all think my hobby is illegitimacy, but 'tisn't so. My hobby is adopting children. I've had it for about 25 years and I don't care who knows it."

"Well," said Miss Margaret Brown, "I've tried everything. Golf and tennis, and horseback, and the stage, but I think my hobby's the hope that I can someday adopt a nice old man."

Mrs. Olive Rabe, who presided during the latter part of the evening, said that although she thought it far too serious a matter to be called a real hobby, socialism was the nearest thing to a hobby that she had.

Nobody felt like arguing, apparently, and the discussion closed.

THE SUCCESSFUL HOME GARDEN

BY J. F. H. HEIDE.

NO. 265.

Rabbit Feeding.

Fortunately for the gardener, rabbits are especially fond of practically all fresh vegetables. The tops of most root crops, otherwise wasted, may constitute the main reliance at times.

An ample quantity of clean, well cured clover, alfalfa, or other hay, not moldy or musty, is kept always before them; enough for several days may be put behind a feed rack in one side of each hutch, and a little additional for litter. Feed some little grain evenings, especially oats, and crush it for the younger animals.

In the absence of grain, feed old bread which is not moldy, moistening it, for the young and for suckling does with sweet milk, either whole or skimmed. For the rest, feed what is available and clean, as much as will be cleaned up in a half hour, twice a day, at a fixed time, mornings and evenings.

In summer feed almost entirely with green vegetables and with fresh root crops, the soil washed off and the roots dried without wilting. Clean, fresh lawn clippings and nonpoisonous weeds may be fed when wet with dew or rain, especially not clovers. Young animals under four months should be watched for bloating from overindulgence in greens. Lots of exercise and a light diet of bread and milk, with crushed oats, taken promptly, will prevent serious consequences.

In winter the principal reliance must be on root crops, such as mangelwurzel, turnip, carrot, parsnip, cabbage, etc. The roots must be stored in a cool, frost free place or in sand in the coolest part of a heated basement.

Strange Sayings of Two Women of 16

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

WAS IT YOU?

A couple of 15 and 16 year old misses were discussing the powers of powder and rouge. And out of the mouth of one of the babes came this: "I love to see layers and layers of powder on a face. It makes a girl so noticeable."

And she was certainly acquiring the love of which she spoke, for her own young face by applying layer after layer, and quite accomplishing the noticeable effect, the other following a close second.

Presently the two started discussing men, and one of them said quite emphatically, after a recital of how she handled Jimmy when he called last: "You can trifle with a man's disposition, but you can't trifle with his heart."

It is heartbreaking to see a couple of pretty young things just out of short dresses emerging into blasé women of the world, missing entirely that loveliest of transitory stages in the life of a woman—sweet and unsophisticated 16.

GALLI-CURCI AS ROSINA: NEWS OF MUSIC

BY FREDERICK DONAGHEY.

The Rossini who composed "William Tell" composed "The Barber of Seville," also; and so goes the world! The former is his masterpiece; and "The Barber" is, of all Rossini's, the best beloved. Also, it is an underlined selling-point in the Chicago Opera's argument when Galli-Curci sings in it. It was proved so again last night, when the Auditorium was in use by a large, eager, merry gathering, which stopped the performance to welcome her on her entrance, again to plead with her to repeat "Una voce poco fa," and again, in the lesson-scene, to compel her to repeat "Home—Sweet Home," which, of itself, was lagniappe on top of the bell-song of "Lakmé." And all of these were the best she has done in "The Barber" for Chicago.

Singers, like actors, are infrequently right in estimating their best: most of them prefer to do the things they do least well; but I'm in unison with Galli-Curci in her audacious belief that Rosina and Traviata are the wide-apart rôles in which she is most felicitous. She plays Rosina con amore: for comic acting, she would be perfect in the play as Beaumarchais wrote it, with no thought that it would one day furnish forth a "book" for Rossini's most durable opera. She is, in "The Barber," the most facile and resourceful of singing soubrettes.

Fernando Carpi, long in possession of the rôle and its traditions, came on from the Metropolitan to do Almáviva; and he was bully, with the precise style and touch the part required. Mr. Campanini is long on good tenors; but he employs none who is just right for "The Barber"—save, perhaps, Ciccolini, who since the season's opening has been in teh anteroom.

Stracciari's Figaro was new here; and it was vocally immense, although none too fleet in the fun or in the patter of "Largo al factotum." Trevisan, best of all buffos when this is the opera, was reported ill; and Mr. Nicolay, utilized in the emergency, got by with credit. Arimondi was again capital as Don Basilio; and Miss Claessens, stagewise and clever, took Miss Berat's usual place as the housekeeper. Campanini, at the desk, put the score through with contagious spirit; nobody else is so good for this music.

Tonight, the first "Faust" of the season, with Muratore, Miss Gall, Miss Pavloska, Maguenat, and Journet.

Heifetz adjusted himself nicely, yesterday morning, to the confines of the ballroom in the Blackstone, and gave a delightful recital for the second of Miss Kinsolving's musicals. Some of the selections had been on an earlier bill in Chicago; and in his playing of these, in particular, he exposed the gift for adapting himself to special conditions of place, area, and acoustics. He again had as accomplice André Benoist: they mate perfectly.

Carolyn Willard, a resident instructor on the pianoforte, emerged last night from the classroom to give, in Kimball hall, one of those demonstrations of personal talent held by Music's mentors in this neighborhood to be of service (1) in stimulating enrollments and (2) in fortifying morale in the student-body. Her program was ambitious and farflung, with Brahms in the beginning, MacDowell in the end, and Chopin, Liszt, Schumann, and Percy Grainger involved.

Frenchman Tells of Beauties of Nation Obliterated by Hun

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The most interesting exposure of the German methods of wholesale destruction of property in France that it has been my opportunity to listen to this winter was that given yesterday before the Friends of France by Lieut. Col. Theodore Reinach, member of the Institute of France, editor of the Gazette des Beaux Arts, and head of the official mission of French scholars now in the United States.

M. Reinach based his lecture on important examples of military, civil, and religious architecture that have been ground to dust by the Teuton shells. He spoke of the castle of Courcy, the town hall of Arras, and the cathedral of Reims.

Courcy belonged to the period when French feudalism had attained the height of its power. It was built in 1230 by one of the barons, and was remarkably beautiful. About fifty years ago a French architect restored it to the condition it was in in the fifteenth century. The keep was its glory, and was one of the largest towers of Europe. The castle stood gloriously aloof upon the summit of a wooded hill.

The town hall of Arras was equally, though differently, remarkable. It was built in the first decade of the sixteenth century. The belfry, called the "King of Belfries," was the highest in France. It towered eighty meters above the earth. The building belonged to the Renaissance period, but Gothic predominated in the details of the façade and in the pointed roofs and arching windows.

The "Queen of Cathedrals" is the name given lovingly to the cathedral of Reims, the most sacred spot in France, the place that has seen the crowning of two dynasties of kings and the aspirations of a maiden, Joan of Arc, brought to fulfillment. The building is known to the world. There is no need for description. And, besides the actual edifice, it was a museum of precious worth, housing treasures of sculpture and historical documents.

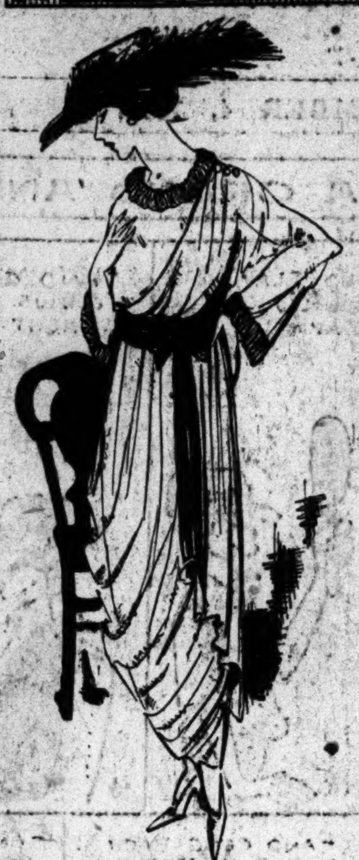
FASHIONS BLUE BOOK



BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—The worthy ostrich has long buried his own neck in the sand. What more equitable, therefore, than that sand should now hide its neck in the ostrich? This is exactly what has been done in the above charming little restaurant frock of sand colored Georgette set off, about neckline and flaring sleeves with ostrich flues in the fashionable brick red or terra cotta shade. The velvet sash is also of brick red and in the wide armholes and tuneful draping of skirt and bodice we find that simplicity which now rules the world.

It would seem now, too, that the ostrich is left in the exclusive pursuit of its old profession of hiding. The plumy bird now trims both hats and dresses and is even counterfeited by other materials. Braid, for instance, is now arranged as a dress trimming so that it resembles the flues of the ostrich.

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Cooking With Wood.

Down in Maine.—Some of the old cook books and some of the scientific ones take up the subject of fuel and fires for cooking in their earliest pages. We would be a cleaner country if more wood was used for this purpose.

Here in Maine they have never ceased to use it in the cook stove to some extent, and this year the state fuel administrator has posted in public places a bulletin with the heading, "Cut a Cord." It says New England must burn more wood in stove and furnace, because "the coal shortage is serious." The last statement on the bulletin says: "Coal burning stoves and furnaces may be adapted for burning wood by placing strips of sheet iron over the grates or by the use of fire brick."

As I was leaving Chicago and gazed over the dune land, the idea occurred to me that we knew nothing about the economies in fuel that make so much of Europe, what we might call a pollard country. Every bit of underbrush, all the lower branches and twigs of trees, is harvested and sold for fuel. Outside of many cities of Italy there are tall trees denuded of every branch to a height far above a man's head.

And as I got into Maine and saw wood being cut and piled into cords I noted many a place where all the small branches and stems had been piled in a great pile and burned, as wasteful men have burned many sorts of what seemed waste but was not, within the city of Chicago even this year.

On a recent list of the publications of the United States department of agriculture there is printed conspicuously a paragraph headed, "How Wood Compares with Coal in Heating Value." It says:

"In heating value one standard cord of well seasoned hickory, oak, beach, birch, hard maple, ash, elm, locust, or cherry wood is approximately equal to one ton of anthracite coal, according to estimates of the forest service. However, a cord and a half of soft maple and two cords of cedar, poplar, or basswood are required to give the same amount of heat. One cord of mixed wood, well seasoned, equals in heating value at least one ton of average grade bituminous coal."

It requires some gumption to get your own wood, but down here in Maine one man and two boys cut five cords of wood in one day and it was the first experience of the boys in doing such work. This was a pretty good day's work and the wood heats ovens splendidly after it is seasoned.

Every woman ought to know how to cook with a wood fire; more women will have to this winter than ever before, and no woman should forget that what she considers dead twigs under the tree in her back yard in the city have good fuel value.

It's Painful to Witness, but Is Painfully True

"AND THE CHILDREN PAY"
Directed by Jacques Tyrol,
Featuring
Gareth Hughes and Bliss Milford.

By Mae Tinée.

I was rather prepared to find in "And the Children Pay" one of those nasty, trashy, melodramas that prate of "morals" as an excuse for being. It is nothing of the kind. It is the painfully lifelike portrayal of youth refused instruction by the ones who should have told them and gaining an ugly and distorted knowledge of life by methods devious and impure.

You are sickened as you gaze upon the picture, but you realize that you have felt the same weak nausea time and time again as you have looked into the sallow, futile, shifty eyed, evilly sophisticated, and O, so young, faces of boys and girls who have passed you on the city streets.

The story of the production is, they tell me, built on an incident that occurred during the days of Clifford G. Roe. I can well believe it was founded on fact, for it bears all the earmarks of truth.

It is the story of the wretched tragedy in the lives of two young people, children of respectable and honored parents. It is well acted and shows "themselves," Judge Newcomer of the Domestic Relations court, Judge Goodnow, and Miss Kate Adams.

The theater at the time I witnessed the performance was well filled, a large percentage of the audience being composed of self-conscious, half grown boys. Whether or not they went in because the picture was advertised as "the picture Funkhouser said Chicago should never see," one cannot say. One thing, however, is sure. They were given something to make them think.

All parents should see the picture.

Bright Sayings of the Children

"The Tribune" will pay $1 in thrift stamps for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. Junior's father was leaving the house to attend a lodge meeting at which he was to be initiated into the order.

"Good-by, Junior," he said. "I'm going to ride a goat."

"O, daddy," exclaimed Junior, "ride him back to our house." X.

My 4 year old neighbor Betty informed me on her return from Colorado: "I saw a lady—her looked just zactly like you—her had that white hair and her was fat and her looked like her was mad all the time, too."

Ruth was to have a new dress. Her mother had decided on making it after a pattern with which a patent leather belt was to be worn. Upon showing Ruth the picture of the dress she exclaimed, "O, mother, you know I don't affection belts." M. S. B.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments.

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For a few cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.—Adv.

Can anybody be a Spug in Chicago and be happy too?

The young Major thought he could. He was a Spug—a member of the Society for the Prevention of Useless Giving.

His sister wasn't. Neither was the girl who brought her tissue-wrapped, holly-sprigged Christmas parcels to put under the tree which the Major was jeeringly helping to decorate.

Then came Christmas morning. And with it a rush of surprises for the man who thought giving was silly.

If you want the genuine thrill of Christmas, read "Major Bobbin, Spug" in the December GOOD HOUSEKEEPING—and feel as you did when you used to slip downstairs to see what Santa Claus left for you.

It's one of a dozen reasons for getting this Christmas issue. Another is "The Significance of Playthings"—telling you what your children need at different ages. Another is "Where Glory Shone About"—a chapter of American history which an American girl saw in the making.

And still another is "He That Loseth His Life Shall Find It" by Mary Raymond Shipman Andrews whose "The Perfect Tribute" will never be forgotten. Kathleen Norris, Arthur Somers Roche, James Oliver Curwood—these are only a few more of the contributors who make this number that you will want at once—tonight!

Society sampled the fare that is served nightly to men in uniform at the Khaki and Blue club last night when the formal opening of the club was held. The attractive little dining room was crowded and the waitresses were kept busy serving roast pork and apple sauce and cherry pie à la mode, which seemed to be as popular with the guests last night as it always is with the boys. After supper a musical program was given by soldiers and bluejackets and later music for dancing was furnished by a band from the Great Lakes.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Honoré Palmer, Mrs. Thomas H. Barry, Capt. and Mrs. Evers, Chaplain Moore, Mrs. James Keeley, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Plummer, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Roth, Mrs. Hugh Johnston McBirney, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Scriven, Mrs. John Borden, Mrs. R. R. Cable, Mrs. William R. SOCIETY AT THE OPERA

Other demands on their presence prevented a representative audience of society at the opera last night. The principal glitter of the diamond horseshoe was that of brass buttons, reflected from its own khaki and blue, for there was a lack of colorful gowns, which would ordinarily provide the proper foil for the military uniforms. The French band which is in town for several days was present, as well as the usual quota of army and navy men, including five navy captains, as well as the music lovers from the pier. All available boxes were filled, among them being a party consisting of the French official mission of scholars, to which M. Antonin Barthélmy was host.

WOMAN'S WORK IN RECONSTRUCTION

BY LUCY CALHOUN.

"Reconstruct yourselves before you try to reconstruct the nation," was the pertinent advice given by Mrs. E. H. Taylor of the woman's committee of the Council of National Defense, who spoke at the business women's reconstruction meeting of the National Woman's Association of Commerce, held in room 809 Monadnock building yesterday.

"Show you are fit to have the vote and don't talk so much about it," Mrs. Taylor further advised.

Mere man did not have much said in his favor at the meeting. Resolutions were adopted declaring that "the progress women have made within the last decade, and especially during the world war, is without precedent in all history, and to retain that which we have gained we must earnestly and zealously work to accomplish more," and "with renewed effort and greater zeal" demanding universal suffrage.

Other resolutions urged the repeal, amendment, or reconstitution of all laws and business customs now operating to prevent women from practical advancement in the business world.

More Conservation Urged.

Mrs. O. P. Merrill, who has been actively associated with the food demonstration and conservation station, is now, since the discontinuation of the shop at 28 South Wabash avenue, carrying on the work in the ground floor at 120 West Adams street. Here every effort is made to put before the public the increased need for conservation. Recipe books may be bought and the latest releases on food problems from Washington may be explained. Also daily market guides may be obtained. A book on war time recipes which would be a practical help to any housewife is given away.

Workrooms Still Open.

Mrs. E. R. Fifield, chairman of the stage women's war relief, announces that the workrooms will continue work and instruction as well during the coming winter and spring.

HIGHER PRICES ON CORN AIDED BY DAY'S NEWS

Better Class of Buying and Also Covering by Shorts.

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

Corn gained and oats lost friends yesterday. The former advanced, and while not holding the extreme bulge closed with gains of 1⅛c to 2¼c, while oats were at the inside at the finish with losses of ¼c to ⅝c here. In the southwest corn closed 1c to 1⅝c higher, and oats ⅜c to 1¼c lower, St. Louis leading. Oats in Minneapolis closed ½c to 1c lower, rye futures there were unchanged to ⅛c lower, and barley ⅜c to 1c higher. Oats in Winnipeg lost ⅝c to ¾c.

Corn Futures Higher.

Readjustment was under way in corn futures, which have been selling at too great a discount under the cash, and with news generally favorable, a higher level was easily attained. There was a better class of buying than of late, and also considerable short covering. Lowest prices were made at the start, and at the top showed 3½@4¼c above the inside figure. A reaction came toward the last on selling by traders who had bought to protect offers and the close was at intermediate figures, with December, $1.30¾; January and February, $1.30½, and March, $1.31.

An estimate that the number of hogs had increased 10 per cent over last year, with the principal gains in the leading surplus corn states was a bullish factor, as was the persistent feeder demand in Iowa and other sections. Receipts were also small, 58 cars, with sample values unchanged to 5c higher. Domestic sales, 15,000 bu.

Farmers show little disposition to sell to arrive, but a small gain was shown in consignment notices, especially in northern Illinois, where some grain is being hauled to interior stations. Weather conditions were generally favorable and generally fair is expected for the next few days.

Oats Weaken at Last.

Oats showed independent weakness and closed lower after a bulge of ¾@1c early with corn. Cash houses were fair buyers, but toward the last there was profit taking and pressure from the local element, and the close was about the low point with December, 72⅝c; January, 72½c; February, 72¼c, and March, 72½c.

Seaboard exporters bought 200,000 bu cash oats here, paying 8½c over January, track New York, and some business was put through from outside markets. Premiums were advanced ¼@½c. No. 3 whites selling freely at 1c over December. Country offerings light, and receipts 126 cars. Domestic shipping sales, 45,000 bu, with sample values unchanged to 1c higher.

Rye and Barley Firm.

Rye advanced ½@1c on spot and ¼@½c on futures. Offerings were not large and demand improved. No. 2 sold at $1.62½@1.64. Receipts, 14 cars. Milwaukee was firm and Minneapolis ½c higher. The northwest had 137 cars.

Barley offerings were smaller, 15 cars arriving, and spot prices advanced 1c. A feature of the situation is the fact that choice screenings are selling at even with the choice milling and malting kinds, with a sale at $1.00 for mixing purposes. Elevator interests bought freely. Spot sales were at 96@99c. Receipts, 15 cars. Milwaukee and Minneapolis firm. The northwest had 199 cars.

Flaxseed at Duluth closed 5@7c lower; December, $3.53; May, $3.55. Winnipeg 1c higher to 3¼c lower; December and May, $3.38. The three markets had 108 cars.

Timothy seed unchanged. March, $12.35. Toledo 5c lower; December, $5.05; March, $5.35 per bu of 45 lbs. Clover seed easy. Country lots, $25.00@33.00 per 100 lbs. Toledo 35c lower; December, $24.95; March, $25.25 per bu of 60 lbs.

Provisions Go Higher.

The light offerings of provisions and buying by packers and shorts advanced prices, and, while they did not in all instances close at the top, there were gains of 80c on pork, 20c on lard, and 32½@40c on short ribs, the May leading and closing at $24.80. A little realizing was on at the last which filled buyers up. It was the gossip of the trade that instead of hog prices being lowered they would be made the same price for January as at present, and the buying of product was based on it.

The big run of hogs was without effect, being offset by the advance of 5@10c in prices and the belief that all the stock of product here is sold to go out. Cash trade was light, but shipments of cured meats were 5,954,000 lbs, against 2,527,000 lbs last year, and lard 6,524,000 lbs, against 886,000 lbs last year. Prices follow:

COFFEE PRICES.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The official cables quoting coffee prices showed an advance of 175 reis at Rio. Santos spots were 400 reis higher, but Santos futures were reactionary, with the special cable showing a decline of 75@125 reis. Some further business was reported in the cost and freight market, including Santos 4s at 20.75c, steamer shipment, London credits. The local spot market was nominal. Receipts at the two Brazilian ports, 40,000 bags; Jundiahy receipts, 23,000 bags.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Corn futures at the top yesterday showed 10¼@11c above the inside figure of last week, while the December equaled the high of two weeks ago. This advance was regarded in some quarters as sufficient for the time being, as futures have gained on the cash, but are still a discount. Prices advanced to a point where it is expected that some farmers will show more disposition to sell the cash grain.

Announcement of a change in the permit system on coarse grains came in a wire from New York late yesterday. A number of the largest cash handlers from the west were in conference there with Spenz, traffic head of the food administration. It read: "Permit system discontinued until Jan. 1, at which time it will be considered on basis of conditions then existing." Permit authorities here who have control were without information as to any change, but one of the highest men in authority said he would not be surprised at it, as all permits asked for of late have been granted to move corn and oats.

Kansas City reported that 1,000 permits had been issued there between Friday and Monday for grain to come to that market. This is due to recent shipping out of wheat by the food administration, which has created storage room. Permits have been issued at Chicago for 1,000 cars a day for more than two weeks, including 200 and 300 cars of corn daily, but the movement here has not increased to any extent. It is said that within a few days there may be an increase.

Buying of corn by Wagner yesterday was large enough to attract attention, and be a factor in making a stronger market part of the time. There was also buying by several other large houses, who were said to have become more friendly to that side on the belief that futures are too low as compared with cash. Reports of export inquiry and of bids were also a help. So far as any of the cash houses were willing to admit, there were no direct bids from the Atlantic ports, but some business is said to be done with New Orleans, presumably for Cuba, as they take yellow corn only, and bids in central Illinois were equal to $1.37 for No. 3 yellow, or $1.55 New Orleans.

Weakness in oats, despite the advance in corn was attributed to their failure to show decided strength of late considering the advance in corn. Free selling by several houses who have been bullish checked much new buying on the bulge yesterday and gave values a down turn. It is said that all the oats taken in on November delivery last week are to be shipped out. There were several cargoes of oats sold for loading last week that have not been filled up and the buying of No. 3 whites at 1c over December and of standards at 1¼@1½c over were understood to be for that purpose.

Feeder demand for corn was as active as ever in parts of Iowa yesterday, bids ranging from $1.15 to $1.35, the latter being well above what terminal markets could afford to pay, based on futures. Much depends, however, on the hog price, which is expected to be set today. Feeders want ear corn, which is 75 lbs per bu at the present time, but in case they cannot get it would take the shelled.

The ban on the expression of opinions as to the future course of coarse grain and provision markets has been lifted by the Board of Trade directors after a conference with the food administration. Facts or figures must be furnished in substantiation of opinions so expressed. Advice to or requests by members of clients, to buy or sell, however, will not be permitted. Great care should be used in the language and dissemination of market information. Expressions of an undignified character are not permissible.

T. E. Morgan, R. Ness, Harley McCardel, J. T. Agar, and Jesse W. Young, the latter of Toledo, were elected to membership in the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday.

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Red winter wheat is scarce and in active demand with sales of No. 1 here at $2.29½, the highest price paid in some months, and 3¼c above the basic figure. Choice wheats of all kinds sell readily, while the poor is slow. St. Louis advanced 1c. No. 1 red there selling at $2.28½@2.29. Receipts, 158 cars.

Offerings of cash corn were limited, and with a good demand, prices here were 3@5c higher at the last. St. Louis was unchanged to 5c higher, Kansas City unchanged to 3c lower on new white, unchanged on mixed and yellow, and unchanged to 2c higher on old. Omaha and Peoria gained 2@3c, and Milwaukee was unchanged.

Demand for cash oats was good, and premiums firmer. Sample values were unchanged to 1c higher. St. Louis and Omaha 1c higher, Kansas City unchanged, Peoria ½@1c higher, and Milwaukee ⅝c higher. Cash grain prices in leading markets follow:

COTTON TRADE NEWS

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The cotton market firmed up today after the heavy liquidation of the last few days, and prices advanced sharply, the close showing gains of from 66 to 100 points.

Reports of an easier tone in the ocean freight market for February sailing probably contributed to the advance, while the absence of southern hedge selling and bullish spot advices also added to the confidence of scattered buyers for a reaction. Brokers with Japanese connections were moderate sellers again during the early trading.

An early report by an Alabama spot firm estimated the crop at 11,565,000 bales, and later in the day a southern authority estimated the yield at 11,300,000 bales, and the ginning to Dec. 1 at 9,600,000 bales.

Exports today, 18,736 bales, making 1,290,122 bales so far this season. Port receipts, 29,190 bales. U. S. port stocks, 1,409,303 bales. Futures:

HAY AND STRAW

Local stocks of timothy are small, and with receipts of 34 cars, market showed a very firm undertone. The persistent buying by the local dealers more than offsets the effect of the small shipping call. No. 1 timothy was $30.00@31.00, and standard and No. 1 light clover mixed, $29.00@30.00.

Prairie was in active demand with only 4 cars Nebraska received, which is salable at $26.00@28.00. Straw strong, with demand active. No receipts. Rye quoted at $11.00@12.00, and wheat and oat, $10.00@11.00.

HIDE PRICES EXPIRE.

Announcement has been made by the price fixing committee of the War Industries board that maximum prices of foreign hides and skins fixed to cover shipment or take off during November and December, 1918, will expire by limitation and will not be continued.

HOG SHIPMENT PERMITS NOT TO BE REQUIRED

System Is Abolished at a Meeting of All Interested.

The permit system on hog shipments from the country to the leading markets is to be removed tonight. This was decided upon at a meeting of the interested parties—the packers, growers, food administration, and stockyards men here yesterday. All the permits asked for have been issued of late, but there has been a certain restraint felt among the shippers. In removing the permits farmers are warned by the food administration not to rush their hogs in at an abnormal rate, as it will defeat their best interests by so doing. Hogs should be held to maturity and by sending in a normal supply daily, 45,000 to 50,000 to Chicago, the capacity of the packers will not be overcrowded.

Steers Sell at Record.

Because of the recent scarcity of prime heavy steers buyers were urgent competitors for those available yesterday, as they needed some for the Christmas trade. Morris & Co. paid a record price of $20.25 for some 1,514 lb Angus animals, while others went to New York at $20.

There was a firm undertone to the hog market, and although the top was no higher at $17.85, the average price at $17.60 showed 4c gain and most of the number left unsold arrived too late to be sold.

Average price of hogs at Chicago was $17.60, against $17.56 Monday, $17.87 a week ago, $17.10 a year ago, $9.83 two years ago, and $6.37 three years ago.

Receipts for today are estimated at 16,000 cattle, 43,000 hogs, and 25,000 sheep, against 17,293 cattle, 32,806 hogs, and 19,812 sheep corresponding Wednesday a year ago.

INSURANCE NEWS IN ALL BRANCHES EAST AND WEST

Minneapolis Loss Presents Many Complications.

BY THOMAS R. WEDDELL.

Deep interest is taken in the adjustment of the use and occupancy loss on the munitions plant of the Minneapolis Steel and Machinery company, which burned Sunday. The use and occupancy insurance amounted to $872,000. While the adjustment is based upon the average profits of the last year, it is also affected by the prospect for continuing those profits during the coming year. It is not yet known whether the munitions contract had been canceled or reduced or what adjustments the government had offered. The use and occupancy insurance on the plant was as follows:

Patriotic	$ 35,000	N. Amer.	35,000
Am. Alliance	20,000	Queen	$ 22,500
Niagara	25,000	Yorkshire	25,000
Penna.	35,000	Fid.-Phoenix	25,000
Home	30,000	W'chester	50,000
Hanover	25,000	Svea	35,000
Gt. Amer.	80,000	General	22,500
Aetna	100,000	Phoe Com	25,000
Hartford	55,000	L.&L.&G	21,000

The companies having the largest lines of fire insurance as as follows: Patriotic, $21,000; Niagara, $28,000; Boston, $35,000; Commercial Union, $48,000; Home, $23,000; Hartford, $20,000; and Phoenix of London, $35,000.

OFFICERS ARE ELECTED.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The National Association of Casualty and Surety Agents today elected officers as follows: President, W. G. Wilson, Cleveland; vice president, George A. Gilbert, Chicago; John Kavanaugh, Rochester, N. Y.; George W. Carter, Detroit; secretary treasurer, Donald M. Wood, Chicago; chairman of the executive committee, George D. Webb, Chicago. The executive committee remains the same as last year except that R. J. Dunkel of Boston succeeds W. G. Wilson.

The National Council of Insurance Federations elected officers as follows: President, James H. Carney, Boston; vice president, George D. Webb, Chicago; secretary, Mark T. McKee, Detroit; treasurer, Joel Rathbone, New York; general counsel, G. Edgar Turner, Indianapolis, Ind.; executive committee, J. W. Henry, Pittsburgh; chairman, W. G. Wilson, Cleveland; A. C. Hegeman, New York; Burt L. Davis, San Francisco; Thomas F. Daly, Denver; Emmett V. Thompson, St. Louis; Thomas E. Braniff, Oklahoma City; Fred L. Gray, Minneapolis.

The National Convention of Insurance Commissioners went into session with twenty-nine states represented. Little was done but to parcel out work to committees for report at later session.

LUNCHEON TO RICHARDSON.

Chicago members of the Insurance Institute of America gave a luncheon yesterday at the Fort Dearborn hotel to Frederick Richardson, the new president of the institute. Talks were made by A. T. Graham, a former president; Jay Glidden, president of the Fire Insurance Club of Chicago, and George A. Gilbert of the Employers' Liability. President Richardson discussed chiefly his plan to secure federal incorporation for the institute, authorizing it to confer fellowship degrees, as is done in Great Britain.

A. A. BACH RESIGNS.

A. A. Bach, who has been chief deputy in the Chicago office of the state fire marshal's department since its organization seven years ago, has resigned to become chief investigator for the Chicago sanitary district. Mr. Bach retires because of friction with Fire Marshal Gamber, whom he charges with attempting to force his resignation by taking away his deputies, ordering all reports sent to the Springfield office, etc. Mr. Bach in retiring from office thanks the company adjusters for the excellent co-operation he has received from them in his work.

CHANGES IN THE FIELD.

John Kinnard, a special agent in Illinois for the National Liberty, will resign as of Dec. 15 to go into the coal business at Decatur.

T. E. Rush, special agent for the Westchester in Missouri and Kansas, is no longer connected with that company.

INSURANCE NOTES.

The loss on the forged shell plant of the British Forgings, Ltd., at Ashbridge Bay, Ontario, was $250,000, with general form insurance of $2,380,000. Of this $310,000 was in the London and Lancashire, $255,000 in London Lloyds, and $125,000 in the Hartford.

S. K. Crawford, formerly with the Zurich and Prussian National in Chicago, has been made an executive officer of the American Reinsurance company, in charge of its treaty business.

The annual meeting of the managers of the Insurance Company of North America will begin at the home office in Philadelphia, Dec. 10.

GRAHAM BANK'S ASSETS TOLD OF BEFORE REFEREE

How an asset of the private bank of the late Andrew J. Graham grew over night from a value of only $3,000 to $600,000 was related yesterday by witnesses testifying before Referee in Bankruptcy Frank L. Wean, who is hearing objections of certain creditors to the composition plan offered by the now defunct bank.

The mushroom like asset consisted of patents of the Marshall Ventilated Mattress company, which were owned by the Grahams. In the original inheritance tax schedule filed with the state by Mrs. Minnie Graham, widow of the banker, the patents were listed at $3,000. After the bank failure, it was shown, they appeared on the books as worth $600,000.

The deal entered into by Mr. Graham with Harry Moir for the financing of the Morrison Hotel company also came into the limelight. Officials of the bank have declared an item of $1,600,000, listed in the institution's assets, is due from the hotel company in connection with the floating of a $2,000,000 bond issue to construct the second section of the hotel. Mr. Moir produced a contract made with Mr. Graham whereby the bank was to buy the bonds for $1,870,000 and in addition was to receive 1,000 shares of stock as a bonus. He denied that he owed the bank the big amount claimed, declaring it had failed to fulfill its promise to float the loan.

WILSON & CO. BONDS TAKEN UP IN 22 MINUTES

Western Subscribers Will Get Small Share of Issue.

BY GLENN GRISWOLD.

The $20,000,000 issue of ten years convertible 6s of Wilson & Co was in such demand that subscription books which opened at 9 o'clock, Chicago time, closed twenty-two minutes later, showing total orders of $50,000,000. The millions left as coming after the books closed will total nearly as much.

It is an interesting fact, although a delicate subject for discussion on La Salle street, that the two Chicago members of the underwriting syndicate of five had been able to get in none of their orders when the books closed. From this may be inferred how well the scores of small dealers in the west, who had been invited to participate will fare in the distribution.

Unfair to West.

The syndicate managers admit that the present status of the flotation is unfair to the west, and an attempt is being made to effect an adjustment. The system of handling such undewritings, rather than any individual or institution, is blamed for the result. It had been agreed that Chicago subscriptions would be handled over a private wire direct into the office of the syndicate managers in New York. Some slight delay occurred on the wire and the books closed before messages could be forwarded.

The situation would not be so bad from the point of view of the investor who thought he was buying the bonds if there were $20,000,000 of bonds to deliver against the total of orders which may finally be declared to show on the subscription books. But stockholders of Wilson & Co. have the prior right to subscribe at the same terms as the public offering up to Dec. 24. If half of the stock should exercise the right there would be left only $10,000,000 bonds for the syndicate, and there is no assurance that 75 per cent will not be taken if the present market trend continues.

Subscription Rights Sold.

The syndicate has guaranteed that at least 25 per cent of the bonds will be left for syndicate subscribers. Rights of subscription sold from ¼ up to 1⅝ and back to 1 on the curb yesterday. The bonds, offered at 95 to yield 6.70, sold on the curb up to 97 and closed at 95¾. If this continues, those who subscribed yesterday must be content to divide little more than 25 per cent of the bonds. It is remembered that some subscribers to the American Tobacco notes received only 8 per cent of their subscriptions.

The difference of an hour in time, distance, and communication delays, make practically certain that yesterday's experience will be repeated in country-wide offerings so long as the present arrangement is adhered to.

BOSTON STOCK TRANSACTIONS

BOSTON, Mass., Dec. 3.—[Special.]—Prices improved further today on a moderate volume of business. Swift and Fairbanks were leaders on the rise. The latest report of the federal trade commission failed to affect the packing stocks. Coppers were firmer and home rails only steady. Call money ruled at 6 per cent; time loans, short dates, 6 per cent; time loans, six months, 6 per cent; time loans, one year, 6 per cent.

Stock Exchange May Get Back Old Margin Rules

New York, Dec. 3.—[Special.]—The money committee of bankers is understood to be considering restoring the old marginal basis on stock exchange loans. Under the old plan the banks loaned 80 per cent on stocks instead of 70 per cent. Restoration of the old basis would reduce the amounts brokerage houses will have to put up as margin from 30 per cent to 20 per cent.

The ruling on increased margins was put into effect as of Nov. 4, thus already being operative for about one month.

Facts may be overlooked, but they can't be ignored.

1—The initial cost of a motor truck is sufficient to warrant its protection—the severe vibration to the mechanism caused by lack of a proper cushion on tires results in internal breakage.

2—The Gillette Solid Tire has the resilience necessary to carry the maximum load and at the same time reduce vibration, not like SOME solids, hard and unyielding.

3—A wear resisting rubber—the only Chilled Rubber Process. Our growth and success is due to its wonderful mileage and freedom from cutting, due to its exclusive GIVE to shocks.

MITCHELL PLAN FOR RAILROADS MEETS FAVOR

Looked Upon as Starting Point for Ultimate Solution.

There is reason to believe that the plan, proposed by John J. Mitchell, for a commission to take up the question of what is to be done with the railroads and report its recommendations to congress, will meet with considerable favor as a starting point looking toward an ultimate solution.

It is pointed out, primarily, that such a commission, consisting of men of standing, will be enabled to go dispassionately into the relations between the government, the shippers and employés, and the people as a whole and present a well considered report to form the basis for legislation.

Lower Wages Expected.

From President Wilson to the securities owners it is realized that new conditions have arisen which cannot be met by former standards. In the one matter of a fair adjustment of costs and the price of labor, there does not exist with the railroads the same condition that exists with industrial plants. In the case of the latter it is argued by large interests that the law of supply and demand will operate to simultaneously adjust wage scales and prices of materials. This is expected to be brought about through lessened requirements for labor in these industries. When the war activities are shut off there will be less to do and fewer men necessary to do it. The argument is that there is now a surplusage of labor in the war industries, and when this is freed and seeks reëmployment it must be on the basis of supply and demand.

But in the operation of the railroads it is argued there will be no such surplusage of employés. There will not be a lessened demand for railroad facilities, and for men trained in the work there will not be competition so acute as may be expected in other industrial fields.

Did All Forbidden Things.

Until one year ago the interstate commerce commission exercised full supervisory control over railroad rates. It is a matter of record that there was no coöperation between the commission and the railroads, but rather antagonism. And, it happens, that since the government assumed control it has done about all the things that the interstate commerce commission and the attorney general's office forbade being done. If the changes have made for efficiency, then it is argued that congress should not throw away the benefits which it has created, or made possible, under government direction.

The proposition for a board of control to have over the railroads similar authority to that exercised by the federal reserve board over the banks, presupposes new legislation that will make unified operation legal and a harmonized organization in which all rights will be guarded.

All that is proposed at present in the Mitchell suggestion is a constructive plan for getting at the thing to be done and then allowing the people through congress to do it.

Add to Surplus.

Directors of the Continental and Commercial bank voted yesterday to transfer $4,000,000 from undivided profits to surplus. This makes the bank's capital account stand: Share capital, $21,500,000; surplus, $12,500,000; undivided profits, $3,787,722. The change will enable the bank to make a maximum loan of $3,400,000 to any one individual borrower. The regular quarterly dividend of 3½ per cent was declared.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

Chicago stocks were rather dull, but generally firm. The packing house shares were led in price advance by Swift & Co., which was up 2 points. The latest announcement from the federal trade commission that the packing concerns are in a trust did not appear to have much influence on the day's trading.

Wilson & Co. shares held fairly steady around 70. The market has not yet a definite idea of when dividends will begin, or at what rate. The 6 per cent bonds of the company were subscribed for within two hours after opening the books yesterday morning.

STOCK MARKET STILL AFFECTED BY WILSON NOTE

Call Money Firm Throughout the Day at 6 Per Cent.

[New York Times Financial Review.]

New York, Dec. 3.—Stocks again made progress today under the leadership of the railroad issues in the morning, with the industrial shares moving into the position of greater prominence in the afternoon.

Trading seemed to be directed by the same approval of President Wilson's attitude toward the railroads which was evident the day before, and the somewhat reactionary tendency of certain of the railroad stocks later in the day was interpreted as a result of profit taking.

From the point of view of money market considerations, the purchasing power in the stock market was greater than might have been expected. Call money was firm all day long at 6 per cent, and it was generally understood that withdrawals of government deposits in the banks was proceeding on a scale comparable with that of last week, when such deposits were reduced about $100,000,000. Many of the more active stocks gained from 2 to 3 points, and advances of a point or more were widely distributed through the list.

Money Rates Stiffer.

While money rates were stiffer and the supply of demand funds more restricted than on recent days, the strong underlying tone of the investment market received fresh demonstration in the quick absorption of $20,000,000 ten year 6 per cent bonds of Wilson & Co. The issue was offered at a price to yield 6.70 per cent, and was largely oversubscribed by stockholders of the company and outside subscribers in a half hour.

The bonds showed their popularity even further by advancing two points above the offering price of 95 in dealings on the curb, later losing a part of the premium. This was the second ten year bond issue to be put out in the last ten days, and the records show that these longer term securities have been taken up with as great rapidity as the several recent offerings of securities maturing in from three to five years.

Lots of Investment Money.

Corporation bonds and notes made available for public subscription since the last Liberty loan was closed have proved that the country contains a great deal of investment money which only needs attractive terms to make its presence felt in force. While a comparison between corporate and government security offerings is hardly fair, still the ease with which short term securities of industrial companies are distributed augurs well for the large government bond issue, of short maturity, which will come out in the spring.

Must Finance Roads.

There are several pieces of railroad financing to be completed in the near future, and it will be interesting to learn the form they will take in view of the situation of the carriers. Bankers interested in railroad security offerings have no less vital an interest in forthcoming efforts to work out the railroad problem than have railroad stockholders, and the drift of sentiment in respect to federal oversight of the roads in some way is likely to be reflected in new security sales. Bankers say that a return of the carriers to the conditions under which they suffered before government emergency control was begun would have a decidedly adverse influence on the credit of many roads. For this reason railroad bankers hope for a plan which involves government oversight in the future of quite a different character from that contained in the "multiform regulation by state and federal authorities" to which President Wilson referred in his message.

How Will Peace Affect the Bonds I Own?

"How will the return of peace affect the safety of the bonds I hold?" is a question in the minds of many investors.

No such problem faces the owners of first mortgage serial bonds, safeguarded under the Straus Plan, secured by improved, income-earning property.

The present nation-wide lack of apartment, office and similar space, due to war-time suspension of building activities, is so great that for many years new construction cannot supply the demand due to the normal increase of population. As a result, rentals all over the country have increased greatly, and the earnings of properties have been much increased.

First mortgage bonds underwritten by us are protected by larger margins of earnings and larger equities than before the war. These bonds are safer than ever, due to present conditions, which cannot be substantially altered by the return of peace.

Such striking facts demand the attention and careful investigation of conservative investors. Our new booklet, "The Building Shortage," describes these conditions and their effect on the investment problem in full detail. Write for this booklet, sent without charge, and our current offerings of sound first mortgage 6% serial bonds in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000. Ask for

MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

The Store of the Christmas Spirit

Commencing Saturday, December Seventh, This Store Will Be Open From 8:30 to 6

"The Cheney Phonograph Plays All Records Better"—Hear It for Yourself. Fifth Floor

Christmas Is Approaching Rapidly!

ALMOST as quickly as the small boy would ask, Christmas will be here. Three weeks from this very morning the kiddies will be eagerly opening packages, and, with only a trifle more reserve, grownups, it is quite safe to say, will be admiring the many gifts which have been chosen from this Store. It is good to have one's Christmas greetings characterized by so much of the distinctive and the different. It is even better to make one's selections at once, that the most unusual articles will not all be selected when one comes to buy.

Gloves from France and America for Christmas Giving

IT is a good thing to know about such assortments as one finds right here at this time. It is a rare thing to find such a variety of French Gloves, for instance—French Gloves made with all the oldtime care in workmanship and fine quality of skins. It is interesting to gift shoppers, too, to know that these and other Gloves are here at really lower prices than elsewhere.

From the Best of French and American Glovers

Alexandre—Famous French kidskin Gloves, overseam and pique sewn, in street and dress styles. Various colors, stitched in self, two-tone and contrasting colors. Also other French kidskin Gloves, $2.75, $3, $3.25.

Street Gloves—Pique and PXM sewn; these afford every desirable street coloring, including khaki, tan, brown, sand color, mocha gray, and others. The Leather Street Gloves are $2 and $2.75; those of fine Mocha are $2.75.

In addition—A Special Selling of Broken Assortments of

White Leather Gloves—Exceptional at $1.15

Some remaining assortments of those interesting values we offered several weeks ago, affording all sizes in the assortment. To those who wish to choose a moderately priced and practical gift, these Gloves should prove interesting.

First Floor, South Room.

Handkerchiefs from Across the Sea

Sunny Madeira, the Emerald Isle and La Belle France Contribute to These Exceptionally Lovely Assortments.

WHAT joy to choose from these Handkerchiefs, representative of the daintiest things many foreign lands can send us! What undoubted delight will be felt by their Christmas morning recipients! It is something worth noting that Handkerchiefs need by no means be dull just because they are such practical affairs. Indeed, no, they are the gayest sorts one can well imagine!

Either France Foresaw the Happy Ending of the War or She Created These Handkerchiefs for Cheer!

For one never, even in the brightest of times before the war, saw gayer Handkerchiefs than the squares of fine white linen which we are now showing, some stenciled in dark green, or with lavender, or yellow, or blue, or brightest red, in block border patterns, at $1.25.

If one wishes to combine two bright colors, here are beautiful hand-blocked borders of blue and black or red and black, at $1.75.

Very effective with the sports costume would these be!

A Vivid Contrast Are the Hand Hemmed Irish Shamrock Lawns, Cord-Bordered, at 65c

Exquisite squares of fine-spun lawn, all white, with very narrow hems, and effective borders of white cording for their only ornamentation.

Of pure Irish Linen are the two-letter monogram Handkerchiefs, priced at 65c each. These are all white, with narrow hemstitched hems and may be chosen with various two-letter monograms hand-worked in white thread.

There are many different hand embroidered initial Handkerchiefs, of fine Irish linen, at 50c each.

Exquisite Hand Embroidered Madeira Handkerchiefs, 50c to $3.50

First Floor, Middle Room.

Special—Boys' Worsted Sweaters Low-Priced at $7.75

Notes for the Gift Shopper

Nenette and Rintintin are the little worsted figures which have gained quite a reputation as amulets in France. Whether the Gothas were dropping bombs on Paris, or the long-range guns shelling her beautiful buildings, no big or little Parisian feared to venture forth if protected by these dancing little figures made of gay yarns and possessing quite understanding expressions. The Fancy Goods Section has some very clever ones, priced at 50c.

Third Floor, South Room.

Kiddies' Silk Socks at 85c are just one of the many attractive gifts which cost little and which would please both the child and its mother. These may be chosen with fancy or plain tops, in the Children's Hosiery Section, Fourth Floor.

London Made Top Hats Operas and other formal dress demands make one of the beautiful new Silk Hats bearing the worthy label of Christy of London a welcome gift to dad or big brother. Priced at $10. Silk Hats of domestic make, $6.50 to $12.

The Store for Men, First Floor.

Men's Smart Handkerchiefs From the deft fingers of Irish cottagers come handsome two-initial Handkerchiefs of fine linen, offering plain white, as well as green with gold, red with blue, lavender with purple, and priced at $1.25 each.

The Store for Men, First Floor.

An Antique Chippendale Chair is priced at $85 and beautifully designed with grospoint-tapestry covered seat. A graceful Eton Walnut Chair, with charming curving lines, is marked at $60. Either would delight a woman whose pride is in her home. And both are from a vast collection of novel and distinctive pieces now on display in the Antique Furniture Section.

Fifth Floor, Wabash Avenue.

A Phonograph That Plays All Records Better When one buys a Phonograph one likes to be able to choose from any kind of Records and hear each with equal beauty of tone. This is one of the ideal qualities of the Cheney. It reproduces with faultless tone the singing sweetness of an old violin; it furnishes with strength and power music for dancing; it brings to your drawing room the best vocal artists with all the beauty of their natural voices.

Fifth Floor, Wabash Avenue.

Cozy Angora Sets—$10 These include a sweater coat, leggings, toque and mittens to match, and come in old rose, blue or green coloring. Little people of 2 to 10 look quite adorable in them.

The Boys' Own Room, Fourth Floor.

New Short Fur Coats

A Collection Just Arrived for the Gift Shopper

THOSE youthful, flaring Coats which every woman loves for their warmth, the ease and lightness with which they can be worn, even when one likes to walk a great deal, and for their flattering framing of her face.

New ones have just come in: that of Hudson seal (dyed muskrat) trimmed with gray Krimmer collar and cuffs which is sketched being priced at $365. Squirrel Coats, charmingly developed, three-quarter length, $395; Hudson Seal Coats, with collars, novel flaring cuffs and bottom bands of beaver fur, are $395.

Sixth Floor, Wabash Avenue.

Toytime Has Come!

Even the Grown-ups Love to Visit the Section Where Toys of Every Imaginable Variety Await the Call of Santa Claus

SOME have only a little time to wait. Every day some advance agent of Santa comes and after he or she leaves, one misses some of the familiar Dolls or one of the Whippet Tanks, or a Biplane, perhaps.

The State Street Windows are another great attraction for the little people, for before them these days many little boys and girls give ecstatic exclamations of glee and attentive elders find it easy to understand which toy is most prized.

It is safe to say it will be a very military Christmas after all, for scarcely a grown-up—not to mention a child—can resist the gay Scotch laddie, or the determined Englishman, or the brave poilu who are the leading favorites in Dolls this year.

Toys, Fourth Floor, Wabash Avenue.

Beautiful Chiffon Velvet Evening Wraps

Specially Priced at $125

TOO beautiful to portray in words are the color combinations of these recently arrived Wraps for formal evening wear. One of exquisite flame color is lined with a deep blue crêpe de Chine and has a very deep collar of blended ringtail fur. Cleverly draped, with little sleeves, it is one of the loveliest Wraps one can imagine for the price.

Just in Time for Various Smart Balls and for Opera Wear

Elegant Wraps of Dark Colorings for More General Wear

So many women like to choose a Wrap which is inconspicuously colored, so as to wear it for opera, musicales and coming social events. There are many such Wraps here in dark hues, but very beautiful of fabric and line.

Women's Coats, Sixth Floor, North Room, State Street.

Japanese Embroidered Scarfs, Table Runners and Small Mats for Distinctive Gifts

THESE are shown with other fine examples of Japanese and Chinese hand work, exquisite pieces decidedly appropriate for Christmas giving. Ash Receivers and Blotters happily combine in an original design of lacquer and Oriental embroidery, at $2.75.

Miniature Screens, 45c, 65c, 75c and $1

These are decidedly artistic, hand stenciled or embroidered on bolting cloth, and mounted on black lacquer frames. They make ideal backgrounds for a favorite vase, or may be used to conceal an accumulation of unanswered letters, or papers.

Fancy Goods Section, Third Floor, South Room.

Dainty Silk Undergarments

Washable Satin Bloomers, $3.95

These are cut generously full and are also hand embroidered with the dainty pastel flowerets to match the Camisoles, so one may select a matching Set for $5.90.

Crepe de Chine Nightdresses, Elaborately Trimmed with Shadow Lace, $5.95

These are well made of a good quality of the silk and they are very charming with their deep lace yokes at front and back and their little sleeves all of the lace.

Crepe de Chine Envelope-Chemises, $1.95 and $2.95

These are two exceptional values. The style at the lower price is topped with shadow lace all around and has satin ribbon shoulder straps. That at $2.95 is a charming style with tucked crepe Georgette yoke all around, outlined with fine Valenciennes pattern lace. This has pale blue satin ribbon shoulder straps and bow trimming.
